INTRODUCTION

The following is an index of the Mug Books of the Sacramento, California, Police Department. These books are part of the collection at Sacramento Archives Museum & Collection Center (SAMCC), located at 551 Sequoia Pacific Blvd., Sacramento, California.

Years covered by this index are 1860 thru 1915.

This index includes the "Women's" Mug Book 1911-1915. The original book is in poor condition, with pictures are falling out and some photocopied pages.

Also included in this index are the three "Ethnic" Mug Books.

The information in these books varies. Most pictures have the name, date arrested, and offense committed. Some may have the State Prison where time was served. The handwritten entries may include physical descriptions, background information, and remarks written by arresting officers.

The book number listed on the index is a finding tool. SAMCC can pull the book for your use by requesting that number. Page numbers are also listed for your convenience. Some pages have two pictures, some have three, most have one.

The following is a list of book numbers and the years it covers.

This index was extracted by Sammie Hudgens, Billie Helms and Bob Helms with assistance from Kevin Hudgens, Lisa Booth and Valerie Hawkins.

The following pages are samples of the photographs found in the Sacramento Police Department Mug Books from Sacramento, California. Since early police departments did not have their own photographers, prisoners were taken to the local portrait photographer. The result was often photographs very different than those that currently appear in police department mug books.

The descriptions that appear next to the photograph are extracted exactly as written, and seem to be comments made by the arresting officers.

Clement Lee

Is a young man, small in stature and genteel in appearance and well educated. His family connections in Napa where Clem was raised are of the best society, His Mother being in excellent circumstances.

Clem went to the dogs, the harlot pulled him down to her level. The next step he became a "capper" for a gambling house.

He came to Sacramento in the course of time in company with Clara Hastings, a young girl whom it is said he seduced in Alameda County. The latter "saw company" at the Palace while residing here.

Clem lounged around 2nd Street until he was granted a "ticket leave" by the police or be sent response a charge of vagrancy.

Clem Left.

But a short time elapsed after this before Clem was heard from again, in a new role.

He had almost stepped on the gallows.

The stagecoach running from Reno to Susanville was fired into, halted and robbed by three men in August 1842

The arrest, conviction and sentence of Jake Morrison and Clem Lee followed in quick time.

Clem was sentenced in January 1843 to serve time of five years in the State Prison at Carson Nevada.
