“Two other chieftains, it is certain to you,
Are over the victorious Tuath-Tlathac,
Of them is O’Cearnacháin of Valor,
Some of whose properties I have proved.”

From the Topographical Poems of John O’Dubhagain and Giola Na Naomh O’Duidhrin
Edited by John O’Donovan 1862, Printed for the Irish Archaeological and Celtic Society, Dublin.

The windswept, rocky and barren coast of Donegal, where Clan
Cearnacháin once was a mighty warrior clan.
The history of Clan Cearnacháin is available in print in Volume I.

INTRODUCTION

Volume I and Volume II of Carnahan Family Genealogies has been printed in hardback publications by Bobby and Bess Carnahan. We would like to print the entire Carnahan genealogies but due to the limited circulation and the prohibitive cost to do the printing for now we have decided to print Volume III and future volumes on compact disc.

As we have mentioned in previous volumes we have inserted numerous footnotes. These footnotes are to identify documents such as deeds, wills, orphan court documents and other articles that are in the possession of the author. If the reader desires copies of any of these documents they can contact the publisher listing the footnote designations, such as: W-81, D-43, OC-10 or A-99 and request that we furnish a copy of those documents. We would furnish copies of those documents at a fraction of the cost of other agencies or courts.

The index of individuals is different from other indexes. We have developed this index because we wanted something that would be different and easier to work with once you get accustomed to it. In Volumes I and Volume II we have explained how to use it and most people have been able to use it easily. Please contact the publisher if you need assistance with this index.

In Volume III we have added information that came to our attention after the book was already completed. We added that information to the genealogy but were unable to include it in the index. We have noted those genealogies where it applies.

We thank those who have gone before us and left us tracks to follow. We have done our best to edit our typos and any other errors. We have dutifully gathered our information from documented sources. Should you find information that conflicts with our research, we welcome your comments.

CHAMPION NEWSPAPER DATED NOV. 21, 1923:

CARNAHAN FAMILY HOLDS REUNION IN CENTER. The four members of the Carnahan family, all of whom formerly lived in Center, but who have not been together for more than 35 years, held a reunion in Center this week, the guests of W. G. Carnahan of Center. The brothers are E. F. Carnahan of Shreveport; C. M. Carnahan of Kent, Ohio; D.S. Carnahan of Corsicana, Texas; and W. G. Carnahan of Center.

The four men have fond memories of Center, their home in 1881, 1882, and 1883. The town then was in its infancy, consisting as E. F. Carnahan reminiscently pointed out of "four stores and three saloons."

C. M. Carnahan, whose residence is in Ohio, has not been back to Center for 40 years, and it was to him that the growth of his old home town seemed most remarkable. His clearest memory of things as they then were here is associated with the old county clerk's office, now converted into a rest room, which he helped to build.

In few families can there not be found at least one member who at one time or another has not been associated in some way with the news paper business. The Carnahan family is no exception, for D.S. Carnahan, who moved from Center to Corsicana, where he now lives, for a short time worked in the printing office of the Champion. This was in the early 1880's, when Jesse Padon was publisher of The Champion.

The four men have fond memories of their time at the W. G. Carnahan home talking over old times in Center, but they have found time to visit with old friends in the community.

Miss Floreen Carnahan, who is teaching school in Marshall, spent the weekend with her parents here, and met for the first time her uncle, C. M. Carnahan of Kent, Ohio.

OBITUARY, CENTER DAILY NEWS, MONDAY, JAN. 13, 1936:

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. for Mr. W. G. Carnahan, pioneer merchant and citizen of Center and Shelby County.

Mr. Carnahan died of heart failure Friday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. A. McQueene of Bryan, where he had gone for a visit following an attack of pneumonia. He had recovered sufficiently to walk around when he was suddenly stricken.

The funeral service was held by Rev. Bob Pool, who was Mr. Carnahan's pastor. Mangum Undertaking Company directed the service.

The deceased was one of the most prominent citizens of the city having lived here some 55 years. He was in business for 35 years, retiring in 1932. He was a consistent member of the Methodist Church for the entire time he lived in Center. His friends and business associates speak of his life in the highest terms and came by the score to pay him a last tribute. He was one of the builders of the city of Center and was regarded as one of its dependable citizens.

The deceased is survived by two sons; Gordon Carnahan of Knoxville, Tennessee and Ford Carnahan of Center, and one daughter; Mrs. J. A. McQueene, Jr., of Bryan.

Among the out of town friends and relatives attending the service were: Mrs. J. A. McQueene and Mrs. Brock of Bryan; Mr. J.C. Carnahan of Waco; Mr. and Mrs. Will Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, Miss Bertha Carnahan of Shreveport, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Schuman, Mrs. Jim Brooks, Morton Mills, all of Nacogdoches; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Joyner of Pelican, La.; J. H. Hughes, Mrs. Voyle Palmer of Shreveport, La; Mr. and Mrs. H.F. Sanders, Rev Weldon Sanders, Miss Bessie Grant of Nacogdoches; Mr. A.H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas George of Marshall; Mrs. W. E. Wilson, Mrs. George Adams, Miss Marjorie Justice of Nacogdoches.

RAVENNA REPUBLICAN, PORTAGE CO, OH, JUL. 17, 1922:

AGED KENT WOMAN HURLED TO DEATH IN KENT ACCIDENT. Mrs. C. M. Carnahan Struck by B. & O. Limited Saturday Morning. Body Badly Mangled. Instant death came to Mrs. C. M. Carnahan of South Prospect Street, Kent, Saturday morning when she was struck by a west bound Baltimore & Ohio limited passenger train at the Summit street crossing near the depot in that city while in the act of crossing the tracks.

E. O. Carlin's ambulance was called and the body, terribly mangled, was taken to his undertaking rooms and later removed to the Carnahan home. Funeral services have not been announced at this writing.

Mrs. Carnahan, who was eighty years old on July 2, was on her way to the Baltimore and Ohio depot with Miss Jennie Curdy to see her off for her home in Baltimore, Md. after her visit in the Carnahan home.

DR-148 Death Record

DR-149 Death Record

They were also accompanied by a young lady friend. When they were near the Summit street crossing they heard an approaching train, and thinking it to be the one Miss Curdy was to board, the latter hurried on across the tracks with the young lady friend, Mrs. Carnahan following. The train proved to be the Inter-State Limited which makes no stop at Kent, and it was making a speed of sixty miles an hour. It is said it rushed through. It is thought the aged woman became confused at the sound of the train, which struck her as she stopped onto the track. The train was making such speed that it ran nearly to the Main street bridge before it could be stopped.

Mr. and Mrs. Carnahan came to Kent many years ago, where he was employed until recent years as a painter in the Erie Car Shops. They led quiet, useful lives and made a large circle of friends in the community. She was specially endeared to her fellow workers in the Methodist Episcopal Church and in the local W.C.T.U. and will be greatly missed in the religious and social life of the community. She was very active for one of her years doing work that would tax the energies of women many years her junior. She never found time to grow old.

She is survived by her husband and an adopted daughter in Canton. Mrs. H. D. Curdy, mother of Miss Jennie Curdy, was raised by Mr. and Mrs. Carnahan, and it was a sad tragedy that ended the visit of the daughter to Grandpa and Grandma Carnahan. (Editors Note: Mrs. H. D. Curdy's name is misspelled. It should be Purdy)

KENT, OH. JUL. 1922:

MRS. C. M. CARNAHAN KILLED BY FAST TRAIN. Tragedies come in many forms but nothing has for a long time seemed to bring to the community such feeling of horror as the sudden death of Mrs. C. M. Carnahan at about 8 o'clock Saturday morning at the Summit street crossing of the B. & O. railroad.

To the fact that this dangerous crossing, universally so recognized, has been allowed to go unguarded, many attribute the accident.

Enroute to the B. & O. depot from her home with grand niece, Jennie Belle Purdy, and a girl friend, Catharine Peacock, of Kent, Mrs. Carnahan was struck by the flier, four hours late and going at a speed estimated to be in excess of 60 miles an hour.

Miss Peacock was ahead and fell in a faint as the engine brushed her clothing. Miss Purdy was just back of her aunt and stepped back just in time to avoid being struck.

Mrs. Carnahan was so badly mangled that only by her clothing could she have been identified. The train came to a stop after the engine passed under the Main Street bridge. Mr. Carnahan, who was up town on business, was attracted to the train as were others when the news went out that some one had been struck. At first no one could tell him who it was. Soon he heard the name Carnahan and hurried towards the depot only to have his worst fears so sadly realized. Undertaker Carlin took charge of the remains.

Mrs. Carnahan was always very careful in crossing tracks or streets, and her husband is positive that she did not hear the train. It was thought that she believed the train to be the one her niece was to take for her home in Baltimore, Md., and that she was endeavoring to get across so as to reach the depot. Believing that the train was the one that would stop she could thus have misjudged the speed at which it was going.

Certain it is that if the crossing had been guarded the confusion of the three could have been avoided and the tragedy prevented.

Miss Peacock had to be taken to her home in an ambulance and was for some time prostrate as a result of her experience. Miss Purdy and Mr. Carnahan were overcome with grief. Miss Purdy had been on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Carnahan, where her mother, Mrs. Harry D. Purdy, had formerly made her home, being Mr. Carnahan's niece. She had also visited Miss Peacock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Peacock, of Summit Street.

Mrs. Carnahan, who was 80 years of age, had celebrated her birthday on July 2, as did her husband, their birthdays both coming on that date.

Throughout Kent Mrs. Carnahan was known as one of its loveliest women. She was exceedingly active and no one realized her years. She was a member of Whittier lodge, Order of Eastern Stars, also of the W.C.T.U., the Friendship club and of the M. E. Church and the Missionary Society. She always did fully her part in everything with a devotion and loyalty that was marked.

The Carnahan home at 206 South Prospect Street, was the scene of many happy gatherings. Mr. and Mrs. Carnahan led a life of devotion for each other. Two young women had found homes with them and shared the love of the generous couple. These are Mrs. Harry Hergert, of Canton, and Mrs. Purdy. The entire neighborhood knew Mrs. Carnahan as one of its best loved members.

Margaret Jennie Kells was born near Collinwood, north of Toronto, Ontario, Canada, on July 2, 1842. At Buffalo, NY, on May 9, 1865, she was married to William Fletcher Moore. They lived in Corry, Pa., coming about a year after their marriage to Kent. A daughter, Nettier, died 42 years ago. A son, Fred, died in Kent, as did Mr. Moore, who had worked here in the A. & G. W. Railroad shops.

On March 8, 1896, she was married to Mr. Carnahan. She was an ideal homemaker and was loved by everyone.

Mrs. Carnahan was buried Monday afternoon at Standing Rock Cemetery. Revs. E. R. Brown and M. J. Slutz conducted services. In which the Eastern Star participated. There were many beautiful floral pieces and a large number of friends attended. Those present from out of town were:

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Purdy, daughter Jennie Belle and son Joseph, of Baltimore, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hergert and three children, Fred (of Wheeling), and Nettie and Virginia, of Canton; Miss Alice Warnica, of Franklin, Pa.; Mrs. William Rowley, of Meadville, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weibel, Mrs. Bertie Sardurn and Mrs. Elsie Carver, of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Eyerly, John McGinty and son and Mrs. Etta Anlicker, of Mansfield; Mr. and Mrs. David Rennecker, Mrs. Elmer Eckis and Mrs. John Colmery, of Canton; Charles and E. Talcott, of Akron; Mrs. Ella Ingersoll, of Warren.

OBIT: BESSIE RAE HAYDEN, SAN ANGELO STANDARD TIMES, MAR. 5, 1997:

Bessie Rae Carnahan, 107, died at 1045 p.m., Saturday March 1, 1997, at Park Plaza Nursing Center in San Angelo. Administrator Paul Rabb said that Mrs. Carnahan was the oldest resident that he had ever had in Park Plaza.

She was born September 7, 1889, near Tenaha in Shelby County, Texas, the second child of Emma Humphries and George Anson Hayden. On September 2, 1911, she married David S. Carnahan, a Spanish-American War veteran, in Center, Texas. They lived in various places in Texas and Oklahoma (Aunt Bessie's favorites were San Antonio and Oklahoma City) and in Kent, Ohio.

After Uncle Dee died in 1937, Aunt Bessie lived in Oklahoma City until 1958. Then she moved to Wichita Falls, Texas. Left alone after the sister with whom she lived there died in 1964, she became "Aunt Bessie" to the neighborhood, adults as well as children. When she became afraid to continue living alone at age 95 she went to Mertzson where she had a niece and a grand-niece. There she was "Aunt Bessie" to everyone she met.

By July 1989 she needed more care than a companion or family could give, so in August she moved into the nursing home. Just before her 100th birthday, she suffered a spontaneous fracture of the spine. Faraway guests were already on the road to come help her celebrate the "Big 100", so the party went on without the guest of honor. At Shannon Hospital the caring staff had a birthday party in her room while the big celebration went on across town. About four months later there was another spontaneous fracture, this time of the right hip, so ended her mobility.

Aunt Bessie was preceded in death by her 5 day old daughter, Rae, her husband, five brothers, two sisters, four nephews, one niece and one grand-nephew. She is survived by six nieces, Mary Elizabeth Hayes of Dallas, Lucy Brim of San Angelo, Dixie DeSalvo of Harvey, La., Jen Brennon and husband, Dutch, of Longview, Texas, Janie Creech of Alexandria, Va., and Emily Viskozki and husband, Ron, of Shreveport, La.; and a sister in law, Ula Hayden of Tenaha, Texas. Also surviving are nine grand-nephews, seven grand-nieces, other relatives, many good friends and the special friend of her last years, roommate, Lucille Lynch.

Our special thanks for her good care go to the administrators and staff of Park Plaza Nursing Center and to her personal physician, Dr. Viki Forlano.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Saturday, March 8, at Ramah Baptist Church in Tenaha, Texas. The Rev.

Ernest Elliott of the United Methodist Church of Tenaha, where she was a member, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. William Perry of Ramah Baptist Church. Arrangements under the direction of Gutierrez Funeral Chapels of San Angelo. Interment will follow in Ramah Cemetery beside her father.

OBITUARY, AUSTIN AMERICAN-STATESMAN, AUG. 1993:

William Gordon (Bill) Carnahan died Friday morning, August 20, 1993, at his Englewood Estates retirement residence.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Mary Seale Carnahan

Survivors include Avonne (Vonni) Reel, daughter; Jean Cordell, niece; and William F. Cordell, III, great nephew; and his friend, Allene Johnson.

Born May 10, 1911, in Center, Texas, Bill was the beneficiary of a remarkable opportunity at age 13. The Shelby County Agricultural Agent had arranged a 1,000 mile trip through Central Texas for 200 4-H boys and girls. As president of this group, Bill gave speeches at all designated stops, learning far more than the planned observations of "Texas Agriculture, industry and government." When the caravan stopped at Texas A & M, the college president awarded Bill a four year scholarship, based on his oratorical ability.

His first employment was as Attendance Officer in the Houston Public Schools. Next, he taught at Deer Park. Following this he served as Field Director of the Texas Rehabilitation and Relief Commission. In 1935 he was employed by the TVA as Chief of Family Removal in connection with relocations necessitated by dam constructions. From 1938-41 he was a Regional Director for NYA.

A commissioned officer in World War II, he held a number of infantry assignments before suffering a severe illness. In 1949, having completed his MS in Ed. at USC, he became a Teaching Fellow at UT, Austin.

Bill served as Business Manager at the University Methodist Church, Austin, from 1953-56. His final employment was as Disability Determination Officer and Supervisor for the Texas Rehabilitation Commission, from which agency he retired in 1974.

During his latter years, Bill devoted much time and energy to his beloved hobbies of gravitation, astronomy, cosmology, publishing several books and pamphlets.

And he was a devoted member of the Austin Astronomical Society, the A & M Club, and the Hickman Men's Fellowship Class at University Methodist Church. Perhaps his most cherished work, however, was with the Association for Pushing-Gravity Research which he founded, and for which he was serving as Ex-Secretary, Retired, at the time death.

Arrangements for a memorial service are pending. Arrangements by Weed Corl Funeral Home, 3125, N. Lamar.

23570. FORD MILLS CARNAHAN (22452) born Jul. 12, 1903 Shelby Co, TX, married 1st to Lila Marie Shadon on May 13, 1922. Shelby Co, TX, married 2nd to Loneita Pickett Mooney on Jun. 1, 1963. Ford died Jan. 21, 1970, buried Fairview Cemetery, Center, Shelby Co, TX. Ford was without issue.

Loneita Pickett Mooney was d/o Harry Clay and Vada Wood Pickett, born Oct. 7, 1913 Waco, TX, married 1st to Lawrence Mooney, died Sep. 2, 2002, buried Fairview Cemetery, Waco, Shelby Co, TX. Funeral home records show her husband's name as Lawrence. (Loneita and Ford Carnahan had a tumultuous life together, but I am surprised that Carnahan is not on her tombstone. She continued to live in the Carnahan home after Ford Carnahan died until it was condemned and had to move, I believe in the early 1990s. Alice Benson)

CHAMPION NEWSPAPER DATED NOV. 21, 1923:

Miss Floreen Carnahan, who is teaching school in Marshall, spent the weekend with her parents here, and met for the first time her uncle, C. M. Carnahan of Kent, Ohio.

THE CHAMPION NEWSPAPER, SHELBY CO, TX, AUG. 10, 1927:

FORMER SHELBY COUNTY GIRL, ACCIDENT VICTIM. Center was made sad by the midnight call of the telephone Sunday night bringing the sad message of the death of Mrs. Florine Carnahan Mitchell, at Seven Hundred Springs, a famous watering place in far away Kimball County.

Details of the tragic incident show that Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, whose home is in Baird, Callahan County, with a number of friends, were spending their vacation at the Seven Hundred Springs, which as the name indicates issues from the ground in so many places that the name given above was considered appropriate and so given by pioneers many years ago. These springs are deep and many are round in the form of a well, the water being exceedingly cold.

While Mrs. Mitchell was walking around admiring these springs, she slipped into one of them and went under. She was immediately rescued but the shock of the cold water, caused heart failure and immediate death, in spite of everything that could be done for the stricken woman.

Florine Carnahan Mitchell was born and reared in Shelby County, most of her life being spent at Center. She was 29 years old, her birthday being August 10. To her August was indeed a fateful month, being the month of her birth, the month of her marriage and the month of her death. She was a beloved and lovable character.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Carnahan of Center, she became a member of the Methodist Church in infancy, and her religion at once and henceforth, became a part of her life. She was devoted and devout, and was never happier than when engaged in work of the Church and Sunday school and the various kindred duties of the Church.

She was studious as a student and patient as a teacher, several years of her life being spent in the profession of teaching. and the enduring monument that she leaves that wherever she taught, her pupils loved her. And this can be said of every sphere in which she moved. One year ago she married Irvin W. Mitchell, and the young couple made their home in Baird, where Mr. Mitchell engaged in the automobile business.

The deceased leaves parents, two brothers and one sister to mourn her untimely departure, Ford and Gordon Carnahan and Miss Ruby Carnahan.

The body was brought to Center, where funeral services will be held Thursday morning, in charge of Rev. J. F. Kidd, followed by interment at Fairview Cemetery.

23572. RUBY CARNAHAN (22452) born Feb. 2, 1912, Center, Shelby Co, TX, married J. A. McQueene between 1927 and 1936, died Feb. 15, 1984 Bryan, TX, buried Bryan City Cemetery, Bryan, Brazos Co, TX. They had issue a daughter Jean who married a Mr. Cordell.

James S. Carnahan, CA 1800 Scotland

12001. JAMES S. CARNAHAN, native of Scotland, married Jane Black in Scotland about 1827. They had eight sons and one daughter.

Children:

13001. JAMES G. CARNAHAN

13001. JAMES G. CARNAHAN (12001) the oldest son, born Glasgow, Scotland on August 29, 1829, married 1st to Mary Meldau Macfarlane on June 16, 1856. They had five children. Married 2nd to Rachel Ann Long. James G. Carnahan received his education at the Andersonian College, Glasgow, Scotland, and entered the University of Glasgow the year of 1843-44 and graduated in May of 1853. He entered the ministry the same year in Scotland, and in 1856 he came to America, settling in Tioga Co, PA as pastor of Nelson and Farmington Churches from December 1856 until September 1858. He was then called to Troy, Bradford Co, PA, remaining there until May 1860 when he assumed the pastorate of the Grove Presbyterian Church at Danville, PA, where he continued until June 1869. He then became pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Meadville, remaining in that capacity until the organization of the Park Avenue Congregational Church in April 1881, as pastor. He was chaplain of the Second PA Volunteer Infantry. He attained the title of LLD.

Mary Meldau Macfarlane was only d/o George Macfarlane, merchant of Glasgow, she died June 13, 1866.

Rachel Ann Long was only daughter of Robert H. Long.

History of Crawford Co, Pennsylvania, Chicago: Warner, Beers & Co., 1885:

REV. JAMES G. CARNACHAN, LL.D., pastor of Park Avenue Congregational Church, Meadville, was born in Glasgow, Scotland, August 29, 1829, and is a son of James S. and Jane (Black) Carnahan, natives of Scotland. Their family consisted of eight sons and one daughter, our subject being the oldest. He received his education at the Andersonian College, Glasgow, and entered the University of Glasgow the session of 1843-44 and graduated in May, 1853. He entered the ministry the same year in Scotland, and in 1856 came to America, settling in Tioga Co, PA, as pastor of Nelson and Farmington Churches from December, 1850, to September, 1858. He was then called to Troy, Bradford Co, PA, remaining there until May, 1866, when he assumed the pastorate of the Grove Presbyterian Church at Danville, PA, where he continued until June, 1869. He then became pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Meadville, remaining in that capacity until the organization of the Park Avenue Congregational Church in April, 1881, of which he has since been pastor. He was married June 16, 1856, to Mary Meldau, only daughter of George Macfarlane, merchant, Glasgow. She died June 13, 1860. Of their family of five children, four survive—two sons and two daughters. Dr. Carnachan was again married June 2, 1868, to Rachel Ann, only daughter of Robert H. Long, merchant, Lancaster, PA. Rev. Dr. Carnachan was in the service of the Christian Commission from August to November, 1864, and was Superintendent at the Fifth Corps Depot Hospital, City Point, VA. He was also elected Chaplain to the One Hundred and Thirty-second Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, an honor he was compelled to decline. The title of LL.D. was conferred upon him in 1875 by the free University of Naples by promotion.

FILE NUMBER 32

CARNAHAN-CANNON-CARNAHAN

INTRODUCTION

Almon Brown Cannon was the first to research this family group and without his efforts it is doubtful that we would ever be able to accumulate as much data as he has put forth. This writer has used much of the data that Almon Brown Cannon compiled as his work is now in the public domain. The CANNON GENEALOGY BOOK that he published in 1932 can now be found in reprint for less than $50.00. If anyone is interested they may contact this writer for more information.

Most Carnahan families spelling of their surname varied widely, especially at the time they arrived in America. However, mostly in relatively recent times, the great majority settled on the spelling as Carnahan. In early days record keepers spelled the name phonetically and since most people could not read or write they didn't know whether or not their name was spelled correctly. The surname was often spelled differently in the same document

The exact location of where this family lived in Ireland at the time they left for America is largely unknown, but it seems somewhere within the Londonderry, Antrim, Armagh, Fermanagh or Coleraine, or possibly in the River Bann Valley area, but they came to America from Ulster, North Ireland where they had lived for two or three generations prior to 1718 when they left.

In the early 1600's the whole of Ireland came under subjection of the English Crown, and successive British rulers continued the policy of dispossessing the Irish natives and peopling the land with Scot and English Colonists. This family were originally Scot Presbyterian dissenters of Irish origin, fleeing from Ireland to escape religious and economic oppression. These Scot Presbyterians achieved considerable prosperity. But their Presbyterianism and their prosperity alike became an offence to the English rulers and persecutions took many forms. One act of Parliament forbade export trade except with England. The Test Act made it compulsory that all local officials partake of the Lord's Supper in conformity with the Anglican Church. Finally these ousted Native Irishmen rose in rebellion culminating in the bitter siege of Londonderry in 1688-9.

In 1717 the long term leases to the Scotch settlers began to expire, exorbitant renewal rates were demanded, and evictions were common.

In 1718 a petition was circulated and with 318 signatures, was presented by Rev. William Boyd to Governor Shute of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, asking for permission to enter the Colony and agreeing "to act and do in our names as his prudence shall direct". This petition was received favorably, but it was made plain that the newcomers were to occupy lands on the frontier. This petition is in the Historical Museum at Concord, NH.

The original charter of the Massachusetts had as its northern boundary beginning at a certain point in Southern New Hampshire and extending straight west to the Pacific Ocean. The Colonists of Manhattan's Charter extended north to the North Pole. The two charters ran into problems at the eastern border of New York, which took 100 years to try to untangle. This gave MA the land but NY retained civil jurisdiction. The southern boundary of MA was even worse a mess, beginning at a point in southeast MA the boundary was to extend due west between the states of MA and CT. The trouble was that no one knew where due west was in 1735, so, part of Southwick was still in CT.

Middlesex County was one of the original counties in MA and was formed in 1643. In 1662 Hampshire County was created from Middlesex County.

Hugh Shearman, in his book "Northern Ireland" in 1955 states that "in 1718, five small ships landed some 750 Ulster folk at Boston".

A list of the names of the ships passengers is not available, but the 6 ships that arrived in the Boston Harbor were:

On 7/28/1718 the "unnamed ship, possibly the Two Brothers" from Londonderry, Ireland.

On 8/4/1718 the "Robert" from Glasgow and Belfast.

On 8/4/1718 the "William" from Coleraine.

On 8/4/1718 the "Mary Anne" from Dublin.

In Aug. or Sep. 1718 the "Dolphin" from Dublin

On 9/1/1718 the "Maccalum" from Londonderry.

About 1/3 of the 120 families who came on these ships tried unsuccessfully to establish a colony on the Maine Coast but due to Indian raids they joined either the Londonderry, NH group or the Hopkinton, MA group (later the Blandford, MA group).

About 1/3 of the 120 families settled around Worcester, MA and many of these having had their churches burned and suffering derogatory remarks from the earlier settlers of the area, moved to Hopkinton, MA. Here Harvard College owned some land which they rented for about 3 pence per acre.

About 1/3 of the 120 families which went to Hopkinton, MA (a town southeast of Worcester, MA) and some of the settlers bought homes. Though our Samuel Carnachan lived there, no record has been found that he owned property.

In 1724 the Scot Hopkinton Presbyterian Church was founded but within a few years dissention arose and a new church became Congregational. On 1/8/1735 the conservative element within the Hopkinton, MA Presbyterian Church signed a contract for 60 families to settle on the "Glasgow Lands" for 22,500 pounds and a Samuel Karnon's name appears on this contract.

In the fall of 1735 a few hardy souls moved to the "New Glasgow" lands but the bulk of the settlers came in April of 1736. Though the settlers wanted to name their hilltown New Glasgow, after the home church in Glasgow, Scotland (who had offered a bell for this church if they named it that), the newly appointed Governor named the place Blandford, after the "Marquis of Blandford", from the name of the ship on which he had come to America.

Blandford, Hampdon County, MA is in the Berkshire Hills and 1,760 feet above sea level in some places. The meeting house is 1,500 feet in elevation there. Blandford was on the great main road from Boston to Albany. General Knox's expedition transported guns, etc. from captured Ticonderoga to the aid of General Washington at Boston over this road.

The town of Blandford, was supposed to be 6 miles square, but some say it was laid out 7 miles square, into farms of 500 acres each, called "farm lots", but upon this farm plat, the village plat was laid down, somewhat diagonally. The village "home lots", most of them 60 acres in size were laid out along both sides of the town street, which was 4 miles in length along the high plateau which forms the backbone of the township. From 1737 to 1800 there were 45 purchases of land in Blandford, MA by Cannons and 60 sales of land by 1833.

When later generations of this family went west to Ohio they traveled a route which closely corresponds with the present U.S. Route 20. They crossed at Albany, then either along the Cherry Valley pike or veering south and rejoining at Skeneateles, then skirting the Finger Lakes to Buffalo, and thence along the Lake Erie shore to the Western Reserve.

This particular family, when it arrived in America in 1718 is unique in that it was anglicized as Carnahan, or a slight variant thereof. Then by the second or third generation from Samuel Karnachan most began using the spelling Cannon. By the fifth generation nearly all were using the Cannon name, however a few were still sporadically using the Carnahan spelling. Even though a great many of this family used the name Cannon instead of Carnahan, this genealogy will use the name Carnahan for all the descendants as they are actually descended from a Carnahan. In addition it is impossible to determine exactly when those people started using the name Cannon frequently.

11001. SAMUEL CARNAHAN, born about 1698 in Ireland, died intestate before Sep. 5, 1786 in Blandford, MA, buried in an unmarked grave at Blandford, MA. His son-in-law, David McConoughey, was named administrator of his estate on Sep. 5, 1786. Samuel's wife's name is unknown.

Children:

12001. WILLIAM THOMPSON CARNAHAN

12002. JOHN CARNAHAN

12003. ANNA CARNAHAN

12004. SARAH CARNAHAN

12005. ELIZABETH CARNAHAN

12006. SAMUEL CARNAHAN

It has been said that Samuel probably arrived in Boston Harbor with his party on August 4, 1718 on one of the six ships arriving that year from Ireland. He apparently was single and was supposedly accompanied by a brother and a sister but no record has been found of this brother and sister in the Blandford area. However, there was a Jane Carnahan that married Josias Brown at the First Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia, PA on January 2, 1719 that could possibly be related to Samuel.

Samuel originally lived Hopkintown, a small town southeast of Worchester, MA and in April 1736 settled in Blandford (first known as New Glasgow) on his lot which he purchased in July 8, 1735.

There is a Samuel Karnachan among the list of fathers in the First Presbyterian Church baptismal records in Boston, 1730-1736¹.

Samuel's name is in a published in a list of Presbyterians in the Boston district in 1730.

Samuel's name is listed as Samuel Karnon on the July 8, 1735 contract to the "Glasgow Lands" from its proprietors.

On the original lot drawing Samuel Cannon (as the name was spelled on the original deed) got Lot No. 36 (60 acres), which is about 2/3 of the distance up the old Town Street, on the east side and about 1 1/2 miles from the Meeting House. In the 2nd lot drawing he got Lot. No. 9 west (60 acres) which was west of Old Town Street and on this deed his name was spelled Cannon. Lot No. 9 is about one mile to the east of town in the valley on Brook Road and was good farming land. Later the old county records show that he acquired additional land which he deeded some parcels to his three boys later.

In 1742 at the first Blandford Town election, Samuel was elected as "hog constable for the north end". At the same year he held the position of "tithing man" in the Presbyterian Church of Blandford, MA.

In April 1746 Samuel Carnahan provided a bull "according to ye vote of ye town."

On Sep. 21, 1746 the following affidavit was sworn: "Upon ye 4th day of sd. month Isaac Goodeal swapt or chainsed a hors with John Boies of sd. town and delivered him at his own proper esteat before me in presence of Israel Gibbs and Samuel Carnochan, being witnesses. The hors which sd. Goodeal delivered to sd. Boies is a white hors with some gray hairs upon his leges and reeps with a brand lightly branded with the letter C upon ye near buttock and by estimation six year old."

Samuel Carnochan (his mark)

On Mar. 8, 1748 Samuel was voted "fence viewer".

On March 30, 1748 Samuel and others were appointed to a committee to take care of building the "pound".

In 1749 at a provincial church Council it was "Voted, that the town shall pay to Dea. Israel Gibbs and Samuel Carnahan the first cost for the rum and sugar the Council shall need while they seat hear."

In 1749 Samuel was again chosen "tithing man" for the Church.

In 1749 Samuel bought the Donaghy family Lot No. 10 east.

In 1751 he got Lot No. 10 west; all three lots adjoining each other. He later transferred part of this land to his sons William and John.

On Aug. 22, 1751 "Voted, that Samuel Kearnohan have his rood of land which the town purchased of him for a road to the second division, he paying unto the town a dolor for same."

In 1760 Samuel Carnahan shared pew number three with Robert Sinnet.

In 1760 Samuel Carnahan was on a list of legal voters of the town.

In 1763 Samuel Carnahan subscribed 3 shillings to a fund for the support of James Welsh. (James Welsh was a helpless cripple and was supported by the town for a number of years.)

On Sep. 5, 1786 Northampton, Hampshire Co, MA probate records show that David McConoughey, his son-in-law, was appointed Administrater of his estate and reported the estate as insolvent and insufficient to discharge debts.

12001. WILLIAM THOMPSON CARNAHAN (11001) born before 1725 Hopkinton, MA, married 1st to Miriam (possibly her last name was Thompson) about 1757, married 2nd to Mary Clark on July 26, 1759 Blandford, Hampshire Co, MA. William died 1786 Blandford, Hampshire Co, MA, buried there in an unmarked grave. Tradition has it that he committed suicide. He thought of himself as a failure, even though he held Royalist views he still fought in the Continental Army.

In 1752 William bought the Donaghy Lot #10 East from his father and held it until he died.

In 1754 William bought Blandford, MA town street Lot No. 13, later adding part of Lot No. 12, where he lived until his death. This was about one mile north of town and known as the William Cannon Farm.

William and his brother John fought in the King's army of the French and Indian War (1754-1763) in the Crown Point and Fort William Henry area. He was quite intimate with the Tories of his day even to having their concentration camp on his property.

A muster roll of Lt. David Black's Company of Blandford that went from the South Regiment of the County of Hampshire under Sd Blacks Command and for the relief of the Garrison &c of Fort William Henry in the Alarm, August 1757, lists William Carnahan, private, went 130 miles from home, 18 1/3 days of service, wages 2-8-10.

Then this: Agreeable to an act of the Great and General Court of the Province of the Massachusetts Bay Entitled an Act for Regulating the Militia we proceeded to draft on half of the effective men belonging to sd company to the number of twenty three and have fixed their guns with bayonets according to the directions given in sd act. Listed among the twenty three is William Carnahan. Signed David Black, Hampshire Ss December 30 1758.

In 1760 William Carnahan was on a list of legal voters of the town.

In 1760 at the old Presbyterian Church William Carnahan helped seat the meeting-house and he shared pew number nine with William Brown.

In 1762 the town borrowed 6 shillings from William Carnahan and David McConoughey for the township's province tax.

In 1762 William bought Home Lot No. 1 and resold it shortly afterward at a profit.

William held a retailer's license for several years after 1763, and conducted a business on the town street. This means he most probably sold liquor.

William was active in the Presbyterian Church.

In 1765 William Carnahan gave 3 shillings to a fund for the support of James Welsh.

On Dec. 3, 1766 William Carnahan was "granted 9 shillings for keeping and carrying Fredrack (one of the town's poor) to Westfield."

1771-1775; William was a two term town selectman; and repeatedly chosen Town Meeting Moderator.

In 1773 and for several years thereafter William Carnahan held a retailer's license to do business on Town Street. This was a liquor license, a most respectable business and about the only type of business that the town had for several years.

On July 4, 1774, at a town meeting, William Carnahan was paid 2 shillings for keeping the horses for the Council.

On Dec. 9, 1774 William Carnahan and his brother John were appointed to a Committee of Inspection, Correspondence and Safety at Blandsford, MA.

On Dec. 10, 1774, at a town meeting of which William Carnahan was moderator, four pounds was voted to be laid out for a stock of powder and lead and flints.

In April 1775 William Carnahan represented Blandford at the Provincial Congress at Concord, MA.

On April 26, 1776 William Carnahan was commissioned as a Captain in the Continental Army, 12th Company of Col. John Moseley's 3rd Hampshire County Regiment. The company marched to Ticonderoga in October under Lt. Col. Timothy Robinson by order of General Schuyler. His petition for discharge of Sep. 30, 1778 was granted in Oct. 6, 1778. Afterwards he served again as a Sergeant, appointed June 12, 1782 in Capt. Sloper's Company, with service at Northampton.

In Sep. 1776 Capt. William Carnahan was again appointed to the Committee of Inspection, Correspondence and Safety at Blandsford.

In 1780 William Carnahan leased a large tract of land, paying for it "twenty Spanish milled dollars a year" plus taxes, and dedicated it for school purposes.

There is a story that Captain William Cannon was intimate with the Tories of that day and permitted them to have a concentration camp on his property. This action may have gotten him into serious trouble as another story was that he committed suicide.

William's wife Mary, and his son William Thompson, were administrators of his estate which was valued at 600 pounds, 16 shillings.

12002. JOHN CARNAHAN (11001) born in 1732, married Rebecca Gibbs on July 28, 1758 by Rev. James Morton Minister, recorded Blandford, MA. John died Dec. 7, 1780 Blandford, MA, both buried Old Cemetery, Blandford, MA at the foot of the Meeting House Hill. Notice that all his sons were given Biblical names, probably due to the influence of the Puritan upbringing of Rebecca Gibbs.

Rebecca Gibbs was d/o Israel and Mary Hamilton Gibbs, baptized July 22, 1732 Hopkinton, MA, died Oct. 20, 1812, Blandford, MA.

In 1753 John was elected town "Hog Constable".

In 1755 John was deeded a half-interest in his homelot on the town street of Blandford by his father but sometime after deeded this lot back to his father and took up land down in the valley on lot number 10 East. Later he added to this lot of rich farm land until he owned more than 200 acres. He fought in the French and Indian war (1754-1763) with his brother William Thompson Carnahan at the Crown Point and Fort William Henry area.

In 1757 John Carnahan paid the County's tax at Blandford in the amount of 14 shillings, 4 pence and 2 farthing.

In 1758 his marriage notice to Rebecca Gibbs was one of the first that was recorded in Blandford and reads "John Carnahan and Rebeckah Gibbs, both of Blandford, were Joined in marriage July 28th, 1758. These aforementioned persons were joined in marriage by Mr. James Morton, minister."

In 1762, 1771, and 1775 he was chosen a highway surveyor.

In 1771 he was appointed town "deer reeve".

On July 4, 1774, at a town meeting, John Carnahan was granted 1 pound, 16 shillings, 8 pence for money expended for the Council.

On Dec. 9, 1774 John and his brother William were appointed to a Committee of Inspection, Correspondence and Safety at Blandford, MA.

On Aug. 7, 1777, Blandford, MA town records have recorded:

"Voted, That the retraction that John Carnahan (and 3 others) have made is sufficient for the charge that was laid against them.

Voted, To take off the restriction that was laid on the above (John had been confined to his own property because of Royalist views).

Voted , To take the oath of fidelity when the town has proper instructions from the assembly".

John lived in Blandford, MA on lot No. 10 East, located down in the valley. He added to this rich farm land until he owned more than 200 acres.

At the time of his death on Dec. 7, 1780, he was attended by 5 doctors, including his brother-in-law Dr. John White. John's epitaph reads: "Death is a debt to Nature, due, That I have paid, and so must you."

His estate was probated in 1781 and was valued at 660 pounds, 14 shillings and included a library worth 18 shillings. (which would have been a number of books at second hand prices). His home farm was appraised at 240 pounds, and the "outlands" at 257 pounds. Livestock consisting of cows, horses, oxen, sheep and swine were valued at 89 pounds. His widow was given one-third of the personal property and a third of the real estate during her natural life. His oldest son John received a double portion of the remainder and the remainder was divided among the other children.

Rebecca's oldest surviving son, Nathan, was the executor of her estate after she died in 1812.

12003. ANNA CARNAHAN (11001) born about 1734, married Lt. David McConoughey on Sep. 21, 1758 Blandford, Hampshire Co, MA. Anna died about 1815.

David McConoughey was son of son of David McConoughey, Sr., born 1732 He served in the French and Indian war along with brother-in-laws William and John Carnahan, and in the Revolutionary war he was commissioned First Lieutenant in Capt. William Knox's company of the Third Hampshire County regiment, serving at Ticonderoga and other places. He was elected to many offices in the town such as moderator, selectman, treasurer, and town clerk.

It is said that David McConoughey's will which was executed Aug. 23, 1805, bequeathed to his "beloved Wife Anna, two cows to be kept summer and winter, and a horse to ride at any time when she wishes to ride, 5 bushel of rye, 5 bushels of Indian corn, 1 bushel of wheat, 5 score weight each of beef and pork, 6 bushels of potatoes and 4 bushels turnips, 8 pounds of good wool, 12 pounds of flax, yearly and every year so long as it shall please God to spare her life, firewood for one fire cut up at her door, one room in the house, such room as she shall choose, all my household furniture, also the loom." The estate was appraised for $1,592. There were three farms with a total of 107 acres.

Anna and David had ten children.

12004. SARAH CARNAHAN (11001) born about 1735 Hopkinton or Blandford, MA, married Dr. John White on Sep. 4, 1760 Blandford, Hampshire Co, MA. Sarah died Feb. 10, 1812. They had seven or eight children. After they were married they lived in Blandford, then for a time in Warren (known then as Western), then they returned to Blandford and Granville.

Dr. John White was s/o John and Thankful Goss White, born April 7, 1738. He served in the Revolutionary war as an Army surgeon and is thought to be buried at Chester Center. He died 1791. John's name is among the list of doctors who attended his brother-in-law John Carnahan during his last sickness in 1780.

In 1770 Samuel's father deeded him a Lot number 36 on the town street. He lived there until 1803 when he disposed portions of this land.

In 1771 Samuel was elected "Hog Reeve" at Blandford, MA.

On July 4, 1774, at a town meeting, Samuel Carnahan, Jr. was paid 2 shillings for leading the horses from Palmer.

Samuel served as a private in Capt. William Cooley's Company, of John Moseley's Third Hampshire County's Regiment from Sep. 1776 till Nov. 1776 at North Castle.

On May 3, 1779 he was made 2nd Lt. in Capt Solomon Brown's Company #6 of Col. John Mosely's 3rd Hampshire County Regiment, serving at New London. And again was appointed a Lt. in Capt. Brown's Company, in Col. Elisha Porter's Regiment, serving at New London from July 31, 1779 to Sep. 1, 1779.

On Jan. 9, 1781 Lt. Samuel Cannon (Carnahan) was appointed on a Committee by the Town of Brandsford to provide the one-seventh Levies, by Order of the General Court.

In 1781 Samuel Cannon was granted 50 pound continental for carrying a woman from Blandford to Loudon and from Blandford to Westfield, by order of the Selectmen.

In 1803 he lived on the Original Lot No. 36 he bought from his father and began selling this land to others.

It is thought that he had more than 7 children.

Molly, aka Mary was born about 1753, buried in the Old Cemetery..

14003. DAVID CARNAHAN (13007) born 1806, married Mary Kelso, of Becket, on Dec. 25, 1834. David died 1861, buried beside his mother Jane in the Old Ground, Chester, MA.

He lived in Blandford, MA and was part owner of a mercantile business. His will was dated April 12, 1842. It lists no children but leaves his estate to wife Mary, his mother, and the Heath children, stipulating that the widow continue to support Theodore Heath, who was living with them, until his majority.

David was an extensive landowner in Blandford, and in April 1836 he entered into a limited partnership with Justin Wilson, to carry on a mercantile business in Blandford. Their store and David's home were well north of the town street, on the east side of the road just above Northampton road. The "old red house" which continued as a landmark had a little poem written about it, and a pencil drawing of it made by H. Knox Smith (related to Sarah Carnahan family #13016). David bought out Wilson in 1838 and sold the store that year, together with a tract on the west side of the street. Then he removed to Chester, where he was in business with William Shepard, and where he was frequently called upon for public duty and for administrative assignments. He was a selectman of the village in 1849-50.

In 1804 Stephen Cannon went to Aurora, OH and in the winter of 1804-5, built a log cabin and then returned to Blandford for his mother and the family. The journey returning to Blandford was entirely afoot. In 1805 Mary Butler Cannon, along with her four grown sons, Stephen, John, George and Eli, and two daughters left Blandford for OH. Along with this party were; Solomon Cochran and family from Blandford, and Horace Granger, a single man from Suffield, CT. On their return trip to OH the family was also afoot and they arrived in the winter of 1805-6. Upon their arrival in OH, Stephen's mother deeded him 100 acres of her land.

Among the party described above was the family of John Cochran, Sr., who had purchased sixteen hundred acres of land in Aurora. He was attempting to follow the fortunes of his son, John Cochran, Jr., who had made the trip two years previously. John Cochran, Jr. left Blandford about 1803 with a party including: David Kennedy, Sr., George Holcomb from CT, David Kennedy, Jr., Eber Kennedy who was noted for his remarkable strength, and Justin Kennedy, sons of David Kennedy, Sr., and Samuel Ferguson, all single men. John Cochran, Sr. was taken sick on the way and his team rushed him on ahead to Buffalo, where he could get help and obtain medicine. Mrs. Cochran, with one of her daughters, stayed with John at Buffalo. John Cochran hired a Mr. and Mrs. Mills to take his daughters Laura (who later married Stephen Cannon) and Rhoda, who was helpless from rheumatism, to Aurora, OH. Rhoda was brought all the way on a bed, with Larua, a girl of thirteen, serving as nurse and companion. Laura was forced to walk a good part of the way. She followed the wagon day after day, sometimes with sore and blistered feet, hungry and weary, but with a pluck and perseverance which characterized her whole life. One night the man unhitched the team, and with his wife, departed and left the girls in the deep dense woods, four miles north of Burton, alone all night. They were hungry, defenseless and forsaken, and Laura was taken ill, but fortunately was better by morning. The next day Mr. Mills reappeared and took the two girls near a settler's cabin, where he wholly deserted them again, twenty five miles from their destination. The girls went to the cabin and made known their situation to the sympathetic people there, asked for food and shelter until they could contact their friends, for which she offered to work, determined to earn their support until their situation could be resolved. Later a generous captain of a boat, which plied its wares of grain between Mantua and Burton on the Cuyhoga to the mill there, offered to bring them to Mantua. At Mantua they learned of the death of their father at Buffalo and that their brother had gone to meet their mother. John Cochran, Sr. was the first man buried at Buffalo, which then consisted only of just a few rude cabins. Rhoda, the crippled girl, died in 1806 at the age of twenty four, and was the first person buried in Aurora Cemetery, Aurora, Ohio. Their mother died nineteen years later. Laura, the brave and courageous young girl, married Stephen Cannon in 1810 and her subsequent history and long useful life makes an interesting chapter in the developing history of the small town of Aurora. She was a famous horsewoman, braving the terrors of the woods to visit the sick at night when called upon, being skillful in the use of herbs and roots and home remedies. Many babies of that day were dressed in their first clothes by her hands. One day she mounted her horse and rode to Randolph for medicines needed for a sick patient, and arrived at home at ten o'clock at night after a ride of fifty two miles. The streams had no bridges, and Streetsboro, an unbroken wilderness, was traversed after dark. The wolves followed the horse on every side, with snapping teeth and gleaming eyes. Laura was a weaver of yarn carpets as well as "full cloth" and "Kersey blankets". In one year, besides her housework, she wove six hundred yards of woolen cloth, five blankets, one hundred yards of yarn carpet, five plaid fancy shawls and some other odd jobs, and did her own coloring, in seven months time. Laura died in 1880 at the age of eighty eight.

In 1832 and 1833 Stephen purchased the Twinsburg farm on which he settled his son Porter.

In 1855, having lost his farm in Ohio he went to IA with his daughter and her husband.

In 1857 Stephen died, some say from homesickness. After Stephen's death, wife Laura followed the children to WI, but didn't like it there so she drove her own wagon back to OH. She was affectionately called by most "Aunt Laura Cannon".

Laura died in her sleep at the home of her nephew, Fred Cannon, in 1880. She was buried in the Aurora Cemetery, "although her name is engraved on the Porter Cannon stone in Solon."

Colbert Harry Cannon, Sr. did not have an official biorth certificate. He was delivered at home with a midwife and the earliest official recognition of him was ion the 1905 Englewood,k CA census at the age of one. In order to establish a birth certificate at a later date, on March 31, 1'942 Sarah Ester Cannon swore in an affidavit to the details of C. H. Cannon's birth. The midwife in attendance at his birth was his grandmother, Alice R. Cannon

This is the first appearance in the Cannon line of the name Harry (Colbert Harry Cannon). It is likely that this was a name from the mother's side, Sarah Ester Avery Cannon, possibly her father's name. The name Colbert H. Cannon (16016) has appeared before, in the John Cannon Branch, where the initial H. Stood for Hanchett. (Traci Cannon)

THE PARIS BEACON, PARIS, EDGAR COUNTY, IL, AUGUST 11, 1882: SUICIDE- THE COURSE OF TRUE LOVE.

William Carnahan whose parents reside near the Wabash freight depot in this city, committed suicide at the residence of Daniel H. Williams, in Shiloh township, on last Saturday morning by taking strychnine. We give the following facts furnished us by Mr. Williams:

Mr. Carnahan, who was about 22 years of age had been working as a farm hand for James Burgett (whose farm adjoins that of Mr. Williams) during the spring and up to harvest. It appears that the young man and Miss Matilda Burgett, daughter of the farmer, became very much attached to each other. Early last week the young man made a visit to Mr. Burgett's and it seems that a disagreement occurred between Miss Matilda and her parents concerning Carnahan, and on Tuesday evening about 10 o'clock, the young people went to the house of James North, a brother-in-law of the young lady, and staid until the next morning. On Wednesday morning they came to the house of Mr. Williams, where young Carnahan engaged boarding for the young lady until Saturday, when it was understood he would return and take her to Paris township, and there they would be married. Early on Saturday morning, Mr. Carnahan hired a spring wagon and 2 horses at Mr. Hannasy's livery stable and with his sister started after the young lady, and reached the house of Mr. Williams about 8 a.m.

Mr. Carnahan took with him half a bottle of whiskey and also a quantity of strychnine. It is believed by his sister that he put a portion of the poison in the bottle. He took an occasional drink on his way out, and when within about a quarter of a mile of Mr. Williams residence, he drank the remainder of the whiskey, after shaking the bottle thoroughly. On arriving at the house, he appeared in good health, and after remaining seated in a chair some ten minutes, he fell prostrate to the floor, apparently in a fit. Dr. Roberts of Redmon, was immediately sent for and was with the sick man about an hour and a half before he died. He was beyond medical skill when the doctor arrived. Carnahan admitted that he had poisoned himself, and told the parties present to examine his pocket, where a portion of the poison was still in a package. He refused to give any reason for his rash act. He died about 30 minutes before 12 o'clock, on Saturday morning. An inquest was held by coroner, J. W. Garner over the body, and a verdict rendered to the effect that "he took his own life, of his own free will and accord." His remains were interred in Edgar Cemetery on last Sunday afternoon. The report that Miss Burgett had taken poison is without foundation.

14032. ALBERT E. CARNAHAN (13007) born February 1865, IL, married Mrs. Frances Oakley Downs Turner on April 20, 1898 Edgar Co, IL. Albert died October 3, 1909 Indianapolis, IN, buried Edgar Cemetery, Paris twp., Edgar Co, IL.

INDIANAPOLIS STAR, INDIANAPOLIS, IN., OCTOBER 8, 1909:

Murdered Woman's Estate Denied Husband's Brother, Relative of Carnahan, Who Killed Wife, Finds Law Disinherits Person Who Takes Life.

John W. Carnahan of Paris, Ill., a brother of Albert Carnahan, who in a frenzy killed hhis wife and Ida Galvin, in a rooming house on North Illinois Street Sunday night, and then ended his own life, appeared before Judge Ross in the Probate Court Yesterday and asked to be appointed administrator of his brother's estate.

Carnahan's request was made under rather peculiar circumstances, in as much as he and his attorney, William H. Ogborn, contended that the wife died before the husband and that therefore, he, the husband, was the legal heir to the wife's estate. Judge Ross denied the request and pointed out the law governing such matters after which Carnahan went his way. Mrs. Carnahan's estate consists of the furniture and "good will" of the rooming house where she met her death at the hands of her husband, and the brother believed he should be appointed to look after its affairs. Under the law of Indiana, a person who kills another cannot be made the heir of an estate, and this fact alone excluded Carnahan from being given letters of administration. No estate of Carnahan has yet come to light, the only property owned by the two having been in the name of the wife.

Joseph Mason will filed 3/29/1799, probated July 1799, land in territory of the US northwest of the Ohio River, Jefferson County, to Joseph Worthington, proven by the oath of John Carnahan and Rachael Thompson, that Joseph Mason died on board a Kentucky boat near Pittsburgh.

HENDERSON CO, KY, AUGUST TERM OF COURT 1799:

Rachel Thompson and John Carnahan appeared in Court and produced an affidavit filed in July of that year in Jefferson County, Territory of Ohio, by Mary Hartup stating that she had been present when Joseph Meason had died on a Kentucky boat on the Monongahela River a few miles above Pittsburgh on March 29, 1799 and that she had been one of the witnesses to his nuncupative will leaving all of his property on board the boat and an additional one thousand acres of land in Kentucky to Joseph Worthington. Rachel Thompson and John Carnahan swore on oath that they had also been present and that the facts were as stated in the affidavit. (The above land was in Christian County in 1796, in Henderson County in 1798 and in Union County in 1811. It lay on Mason's Creek, a branch of Highland Creek which had been granted to Edmon Rice, assignee of George Rice, assignee of Richard Archer by Patrick Henry of 2/4/1785.)

ENVELOPE MARKED "FROM JOHN M. CARNAHAN, MADISONVILLE, KY TO HIS SON FRANCIS MARION CARNAHAN^{A-10}:"

Madisonville, Ky.
Febry 20th, 1861

My Dear Son,

I received your letter a few days ago and it afford me the greatest pleasure and somewhat astonished me a year not getting my letters proper.

Our country so fair as political matters are concerned are very gloomy. It has put a stop to any kind of business and stopped the circulation of money. It is a hard matter for us to (?) to buy groceries & c.

Say to James Hewell his son William has (?) all winter and the Hewell connections are all well. I have not heard from William D. Carnahan for better than a year. Last account I had of his he was in Texas. Hiram E. Carnahan is living near Hopkinsville, Ky. Columbus Aihly has returned home and is very much afflicted with rheumatism and will stay (?) in a short time. Frank Wilkins came with him but has returned back to Cal.

I am so far as worldly matters are concerned I am gitting along about as usual and doing every thing to improve in spiritual affairs. Write Soon. I am your effectionate father. Jms M Carnahan. Calim G. Crich (?) writes this letter for me and sends his kindest regards.

Madisonville, Ky. August 14/61^{A-10}

My Dear Son,

I received your letter dated 3 May 1861 and it gave me much pleasure in perusing it. I have postponed answering until now for the purpose to give you a more lengthy history of affairs here. We have just got through with the most excited election you ever saw between Doc Mo Ray the administration candidate and Col. W. Bradley (?) the Southern Rites candidate. Every body on both sides did there very best at electioneering and Doc Ray beat Bradley 57 votes in Old Hopkins. This election has caused neighbors and I may say father and son to think hard of each other on account of there opinions. You would be astonished to hear the father say to the son you are an abolitionist and the son say to the father your are a tory. And now a few fights. We are expecting to hear every hour of Kentucky being invaded by the Lincoln party which will throw us here into a General War. Which I hope may not be the case. I want peace and do pray every body could be for the same.

There has been two or three very great battles in Virginia. The Southern Army has been the successful party in every battle. They had an encounter in Virginia in which the Southern party whipped the North out and made them retreat with a loss of 5000 to 20000 killed and wounded.

We are blessed here with the finest crops you ever saw grow and all kinds of fruit are plenty. You wanted to know something about the boys and I am sorry that I cant say positively where they are at but from the best of information I can get of their is that Billy has returned from Texas and got to Marion County from what I heard a few days ago. Every minute I am fearfull has joined the army and gone south.

Our connections here and as far I know are all well. Your effectionate father, John W. Carnahan.

Madisonville, Ky., July 21st 1862^{A-10}

Francis M. Carnahan, San Jose, Cal.

I received your letter a few days ago which was written on the 4th of May last--which gave me great satisfaction to hear from and to hear that you was well. My family is all well and all the rest of the connections as far as I know. I heard from brothers Wm and Worthington a few weeks ago and they was all well. Sallie Ann and your cousin Electa would be very glad to hear from you--Electa has received the miniatures sent to her by you. Which she was very glad to get. Uvias is living at Alfred Woods this year-Wm David and Hiram E. is living at Secor, Woodford Co. Ills. and was well a few weeks ago.

^{A-10} Letter

Now I will write something about the crops of this section. The corn crop is very fine equal to any crop ever raised in this county. Wheat crops was very good. Oats a complete failure. Tobacco is looking tolerable well. The excitement is very high here between the two parties. A great many of your acquaintances and friends have gone off to the army on both sides, the people are very much divided on our difficulty, which makes every thing very high and scarce. I hope the difficulty will be settled soon and all things go on in peace as before.

Hadussu has had three children but last summer lost one, Ludora which was next to the oldest child.

I want you to write to me often as it always gives me the greatest satisfaction to hear from you.

Nothing more but remain your affectionate father until death. Signed John M. Carnahan.
To F.M. Carnahan

Undated^{A-10}.

This is what your Father wanted me to write for him he said the reason he had not answered you letter was because he wanted to get all their minitures taken and send them to you in the letter but there is no artist in town at the present nor have not been for a great while and he could not have them taken or he would have sent them before now. The family is tolerable well. Monty got wounded in the last fight they had at Atlanta and is come to Nashville and will be home in a few weeks. Darius has gone in as a substitute and is now in Chattanooga or was there the last account. Your uncle George Cardwell joined the guerrillas and got wounded. They all send their love to you no more at present. Signed John M. Carnahan.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF CRITTENDEN CO, KY:

William C. Carnahan, Crittenden County, son of John and Sarah Carnahan, was born May 18, 1818, in Madisonville, Ky. His grandfather, John Carnahan, was a native of Pennsylvania. His maternal grandfather was William C. Bradburne, a native of Virginia. He moved to Caldwell County, Ky., in 1821, settling about twelve miles from Princeton. He was a silversmith by trade, but, after coming to this state, he engaged in farming, which he followed until his death in 1828. John Carnahan, subject's father, was born in Pennsylvania, which state he left in early manhood, coming to Kentucky and settling near Lexington, Fayette County. Later he moved to Hopkinsville, Christian County, where he lived for a number of years, working at his trade of gunsmith. He died at Madisonville in 1828, aged fifty-three years. Mrs. Carnahan was born in 1780, and died in Hopkins County in 1833. The family of John and Sarah Carnahan consisted of nine children. At the age of sixteen W.C. was apprenticed to learn the saddler's trade, and remained with his employer in Madisonville three years and nine months. After serving his apprenticeship he opened a shop of his own, working at his trade in Madisonville until 1845, when he came to Marion and carried on a successful business until the breaking out of the war, when he retired from active employment and engaged in trading. In 1864 he was elected sheriff of Crittenden County, the duties of which office he discharged four years, having been reelected in 1866. Previous to the above years he held the office of constable, and also served as county treasurer several terms, devoting his leisure time to trading in real estate, in which he was very successful. By strict attention to business and skillful management he, succeeded in accumulating a handsome fortune, owning large tracts of real estate in Crittenden County, besides valuable property in Marion and other towns. He is the largest property holder in Crittenden County, and in every respect a self-made man. Mr. Carnahan's first marriage took place May 17, 1839 to Miss Emeline, daughter of Reddick and Elizabeth O'Brien, of Hopkins County, by whom he had four children: Worthington B., Electa M., wife of John D. Boaz; Sarah A., deceased; and John R., deceased. Mrs. Carnahan died December 16, 1846, aged twenty four years. Mr. Carnahan was next married March 11, 1849 to Sarah A. Hammond, daughter of Martin and Margaret Hammond, of Crittenden County. Two children have been born to this union: William G., and Emeline, wife of I.F. Wheeler. Mr. Carnahan takes an active interest in church affairs and is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

THE DAILY REGISTER, HARRISBURG, IL, FEBRUARY 25, 1950:

HEZ CARNAHAN, 98, HONORED AS COUNTY'S OLDEST CITIZEN, DIES. FUNERAL SERVICES WILL BE HELD SUNDAY, AT 2 P.M. Hez Carnahan, 98 years of age, on January 11, at 12:15 p.m. Friday, at his home, 12 East Ford Avenue, the result of dropsy condition and infirmities. Active until he became ill about 6 months ago, he had since been confined to his home, and had been hospitalized for short periods on two occasions, becoming seriously ill ten days ago. He was born in Cottage Grove twp., Saline County, Illinois on January 11, 1852, the son of Magnus and Frances Davis Carnahan. The death of his father occurred shortly after, and his mother remarried Henry Sisk. At the age of 13 years, the family migrated to the state of Kansas, making the 6 weeks trip in a covered wagon drawn by oxen, settling on the site of what is now Coffeyville, Kansas. After seven years they returned to Saline County. Mr. Carnahan, then a young man of 20 years, settled in Cottage Grove twp., where he was engaged in the pursuit of farming and was married to Miss Alice Clark, who preceded him in death July 22, 1921. Ten years later on April 28, 1931, he married Mrs. Lou Flanders, who survives at the age of 91. He was the father of Mrs. Lillian Wiedman, wife of Cal Wiedman of Harrisburg; Mrs. Bessie Church, wife of Dan Church of Dorris Heights; Mrs. Ethel Smith, wife of Will Smith; Herbert Carnahan and Mrs. Nettie Smith, widow of the late Ira Smith, all of Cottage twp. Also surviving are his half brother and sister, George Sisk, Truman, Arkansas, and Mrs. Judy Burnett, Eldorado; 11 grandchildren; 16 great grandchildren, and three great great grandchildren. A brother, Mark Carnahan preceded him in death, and the family received word of the burial Thursday, in Kansas City of a half brother, Peter W. Sisk, a retired railroad conductor.

Mr. and Mrs. Carnahan moved to Harrisburg in May 1947, and during the Centennial in October, he was honored as Saline County's oldest citizen. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Sunday at the First Methodist Church in Cottage Grove. Burial will be in the Church Cemetery.

HISTORY OF MONTEREY AND SAN BENITO COUNTIES, CA, 1910:

An influential position among the ranchers of Monterey County is held by this honored California pioneer of 1853, a native Kentuckian, born in that state in 1831 and educated by private tutors, but since the age of twenty-two a citizen of the West. It was during the Autumn of 1853 that he left the home of his father and started upon the long journey to California, traveling first to New York, where he took passage on an ocean vessel for the isthmus of Panama, and from there sailing northward on the Pacific Ocean to San Francisco. After having landed in December of 1853 he took passage on a boat for Sacramento and from the capital city proceeded to Grass Valley, where he prospected and mined. During 1855 he changed his headquarters to the mines of Trinity County, where he remained until 1860 and then discontinued the search for gold in order to work in the red woods of Santa Clara County.

Coming to the unimproved lands of what is now San Benito County (but at that time Monterey County) in 1868, Mr. Carnahan took up a raw tract near Hollister, where he spent eight busy years. The year 1876 witnessed his arrival in Monterey County, where he bought a squatter's title to one hundred and sixty acres and this he homesteaded, developing the property until it became productive and highly remunerative. Later he acquired a tract of two hundred and fifteen acres and a portion of this tract he has since cultivated. The larger part of his property is utilized for pasture for his cattle and horses, the raising of which forms one of the important activities of the ranch. A fine orchard of three acres is irrigated by means of a pumping plant put in under his supervision and he has been active in making other valuable improvements on the ranch, including a thorough system of fencing. Thirty five acres of the ranch are under cultivation to wheat and barley, large crops of which bring a neat return for the labor expended thereon.

The marriage of Mr. Carnahan occurred in 1866 and united him with Miss Charlotte Hamilton, who was born in Iowa, but came to California at an early age and settled in San Jose. Nine children were born of their union. The eldest, Elizabeth, married J.M. Smith of McKittrick, Kern County. Nellie died in 1894. Nancy married A.M. Colthart, of Los Banos, Merced County. Minnie married William Greene of Salinas and passed from earth in March of 1904. Harry L. is engaged in ranching on his farm near Metz, Monterey County. Alice married Charles Ioppini, of Orland, Glenn County. Francis, Jr., is farming near Aromas. Lottie Belle attended the Bakersfield high school and is now at home, and Pauline attends the Los Banos high school. For fourteen years Mr. Carnahan officiated as a trustee of the Metz district and during that period he labored earnestly and effectively to aid in the upbuilding of the schools and the enlargement of their usefulness.

OBITUARY, METZ, MONTEREY CO, CA, JANUARY 1918:

Pioneer passes Beyond. F.M. Carnahan for many years a resident near Metz, died Tuesday at his home at the age of 86.

Mr. Carnahan was born in Madisonville, Kentucky November 8th, 1831 and came to California via the Isthmus of Panama in 1852 and engaged in mining upon arrival following it for seven years. In 1866 he married Charlotte Hamilton at San Jose where they lived until 1868 when they moved to Hollister, from there they came to Metz in 1876 where Mr. Carnahan acquired a ranch and resided until his death.

Besides his wife he leaves several children namely, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith of San Francisco, Mrs. A.M. Colthart of Stockton, H.L. Carnahan of Wilcox, Arizona, Mrs. C.G. Ioppini of Ripon, F.M. Carnahan Jr. of Fellows, Mrs. N.C. McFaun, of Taft, and Mrs. Lester Alsop of Salinas.

The funeral was held Thursday from the Methodist Church Soledad interment Soledad cemetery.

Almost the entire community attended the funeral of the aged pioneer who was highly respected by all of his kindly ways and neighborly acts throughout life.

OBITUARY, CAPITOLA, SANTA CRUZ CO, CA, MARCH 1923:

Salinas Woman dies suddenly at Capitola. Death came suddenly at Capitola yesterday morning to a much esteemed Monterey County woman, Mrs. Charlotte I. Carnahan. While on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth F. Cothorn, she was stricken by heart attack and passed away before medical aid could be summoned. Asthma, to which Mrs. Carnahan had been subjected for several years, is thought to have brought on the attack.

Mrs. Carnahan had been a resident of this county since 1876, and of Salinas since 1918. Born in Iowa March 14, 1851, she passed away on her seventy-second birthday, just one month ago. With her parents she crossed the plains to California with an ox team in 1852, when she was still a babe in arms.

In November, 1866, she was married to Francis Marion Carnahan, who died five years ago. The family first located in the redwoods of Stanislaus County on reaching California. Later they moved to Hollister. In 1876 Mrs. Carnahan and her husband located at Metz, Monterey County, where they resided until Mr. Carnahan's death in 1918.

Mrs. Carnahan was the mother of nine children, seven of whom survive. They are: Mrs. Elizabeth Floretta Cothorn, of Santa Cruz; Mrs. Nancy Mathilda Colthart of Los Gatos; Harry Lee Carnahan, of Wilcox, Arizona; Alice Ioppini, of Ripon; Francis Mason Carnahan, of Salinas; Mrs. Lottie B. McFawn, of Long Beach, and Mrs. Pauline R. Alsop, of Salinas.

During her long residence in Monterey County, Mrs. Carnahan made many friends who will learn of her passing with much sincere sorrow.

The funeral will be from Chase's undertaking parlors, Santa Cruz, at 3 o'clock next Monday afternoon.

Nov. 1st, 1894^{A-10}

F.M. Carnahan

Dear brother I am surprised that you are not informed that I am the youngest living son of our father by his last wife. I was born and raised in the same home that your were until I was twenty one and married to Miss Emma Eddings of Blackford a new town a the junction of Ohio Valley R.R. and Trade-water River in Webster Co. is now my home.

Our cousin W.C. Obryan owns most of the old farms and got me to write to you. He has concluded to offer forty dollars and then pay off all the claims against the estate so that the courts will not get everything. This is the most paid for any interest and what is its full worth considering the amounts of claims against the land and the condition of the farm. The old house nearly gone, no barns stables, the well has filled up some of the land thrown out to the commons now. If you want to sell write to me and I will get cousin Will to send you a deed to sign and return to the Bank at Madisonville and he will deposit the money in the bank and send you a check or P.O. money order. The clams against the estate is $515.00 beside two Dr. bills. The land has been in law about three years. The cort has decided to sell part of the land and pay off the claims. There has been on one living on the farm since mother died. If you dont believe what I have wrote you enquire from some one els. Think over this and let me know soon. This is all I can do if you want to sell at this price write your name and your wife in full. Write to me first what you will do. The land will be sold in February court if the claims are not paid off before then. Write soon to Johnson J. Carnahan, Blackford, Ky.

HISTORY OF MONTEREY AND SAN BENITO COUNTIES, CALIFORNIA, 1910:

A son of Francis M. Carnahan, an honored pioneer of 1853 in California, Harry L. Carnahan was born on a ranch near Hollister, San Benito County, this state, in 1875. When he was two and one-half years of age he was taken by his parents to Monterey County, where his father took up a homestead near Metz. Here he attended the public schools and became trained to efficient work on the ranch, remaining at home to assist his father until 1901, when he went to Alaska. For three years he engaged in mining at or near Nome, after which he returned to California and has since remained in Monterey County.

On his return from Alaska Mr. Carnahan bought two hundred and forty acres near Metz station and here he has since given his attention to the cultivation of the land, making of needed improvements and the rearing of stock. Ever since he settled on the place he has made a specialty of raising barley and recently also he has become interested in the raising of alfalfa and sugar beets, both of which are proving the sources of a neat income in return for his efforts. Hogs are raised on his land for sale in the markets and good horses and fine cattle also are to be seen on the place, the whole forming a homestead indicative of the thrift and energy of its proprietor and bearing testimony as to his future success.

14040. ALICE IANTHE CARNAHAN (13040) born January 16, 1877, married Charles Guilio Ioppini of Orland, Glenn Co, CA on May 13, 1898. Alice died Ripon, San Joaquin Co, CA. In 1918 she lived Ripon, CA.

A note from Nancy Jenkins, daughter of Everett Edward on March 7, 2006:

I have to tell you that this (information on Everett Edward Carnahan) takes me by surprise that so much of a person is about for others to look at. Da was a very private person, he did not talk about his past or family very much. It was as he said in the past and he can't change it. Tomorrow would come and no sense in trying in the telling. (Editors Note: This is typical of a great many of our Carnahans, past and present. Information from most of them is hard to come by and if it was not for public records we would be unable to publish these genealogies.)

ALEDO WEEKLY RECORD, ALEDO, MERCER CO, IL, OCTOBER 20, 1880:

Mr. Samuel Carnahan died at his residence in this place, on Sabbath, October 10, after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Carnahan had been a resident of our county for years, being among the earliest settlers, we believe, and had resided on his farm in Millersburg twp. most of the time. He was a kind neighbor, a good citizen, a honest man.

THE ALEDO DEMOCRAT, ALEDO, MERCER CO, IL, SEPTEMBER 7, 1888:

Mrs. Samuel Carnahan, who has resided in Aledo for eight or ten years died on Wednesday evening last, and was buried at Peniel Cemetery on Friday. With her husband, she was one of the early settlers of Millersburg township, where they lived up until their removal to Aledo. Shortly after the death of Mr. Carnahan, which occurred about two years later, her mind partially failed her, and she has since been tenderly nursed and cared for by her youngest daughter, Linda, who removed with her to Aledo. For some time prior to her death she was confined to her bed, slowly but surely failing, and at last tired, nature gave up the struggle, and she silently passed away.

HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS OF HARRISON COUNTY, OHIO, PAGE 151:

"The cause in Cadiz found itself now with two congregations, two houses of worship, and one pastor, Rev. Forsythe having resigned. A basis of union between the two congregations was agreed upon. Each congregation was to choose three of its members, who were to constitute the Board of Trustees. The church was to be called the "First United Presbyterian Congregation of Cadiz." The trustees of the Associate congregation were to transfer all their property to the new Board. The United Church was to occupy the brick house, and the pews in it were to be forever free. Each congregation was to have an equal number of elders. The United Congregation was to meet on the last Saturday of March to ask for the moderation of a call. These Conditions were signed by Andrew Jamison and John McFadden, on the part of the Union Church on February 20, 1859, and by Martin Wilson and John Carnahan on the part of the Seceder Church, February 26, 1859. In accordance with these propositions, the Seceder church building was sold to Eliza Hatcher for $1,400 and the congregation worshipped in the old Union Church. The elders of the Seceder Church were Alexander Haverfield, John Carnahan, and 3 others.

OBIT: OSKALOOSA DAILY HERALD, OSKALOOSA, MAHASKA CO, IA, FRIDAY JULY 29, 1904:

Harry Carnahan, an uncle of Mrs. Charles C. Pike, and a young men well known in this city by a large circle of friends, died this morning at the Methodist Hospital in Des Moines, the result of a target rifle wound in the side. The body was brought to this city, arriving at the Rock Island station at 1:15 o'clock p.m. It was taken to the Carnahan home near Cedar where the funeral will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, and interment made in the Carnahan lot in Forest Cemetery, this city.

The deceased was in attendance at a picnic at Van Wert Wednesday and was accidentally shot by a twenty-two calibre target rifle. The ball entered the side. The wound was not considered dangerous for a time. It seemed to have taken a course around the side. Alarming symptoms were developed within a few hours, however, and the wounded man was taken to Des Moines and to the Methodist Hospital for treatment. He grew rapidly worse yesterday and relatives were informed of his condition. "Dick" Carnahan, a brother from the family home near Cedar, went to Des Moines last evening and arrived at the bedside of the dying man before life passed away. Gilmore Carnahan, another brother, was also at the side of the injured man at the time of death.

Harry Carnahan was well known in this city, where he worked a number of years as a general delivery clerk in the post office. He is a son of Mrs. Sarah Carnahan of near Cedar, and a brother of Richard and Gilmore Carnahan. He has been employed during a number of years with the Keokuck & Western railway as a baggageman and express manager and was running between Des Moines and Van Wert. He was in this city but a short time ago visiting with many friends and acquaintances and at the home of his mother. The blow is a severe one to the old lady. She is about eighty years of age. Harry was her youngest son and her pet and the sudden taking off strikes the devoted parent with greatest severity. The family has the sincerest sympathy of all friends in their bereavement.

OBIT: OSKALOOSA DAILY HERALD, OSKALOOSA, MAHASKA CO, IA, SATURDAY JULY 30, 1904:

The body of the late Harry Carnahan, who died in the Methodist Hospital in Des Moines on Friday morning, was brought to this city Friday evening via the Rock Island and taken to the home of the mother, Mrs. Sarah Carnahan, near Cedar, where the funeral was held Saturday Morning at 10 o'clock. Interment was made in Forest Cemetery Saturday afternoon.

The particulars of the accident that caused the death of the young man came to the city yesterday afternoon. The deceased was attending an evening picnic near Van Wert, the guest of a party of many young people. He was seated under a tree, one of a party of several engaged in conversation. Two young men at some distance from the company were engaged in a tussle with a loaded target rifle, one trying to get it away from the other. The one who was trying to gain possession pushed the gun downwards with the muzzle towards the ground, as he thought. He shoved the barrell between the legs of the one holding it and pulled the trigger to discharge it. At the time the rifle was discharged the muzzle was elevated and the ball entered the side of Carnahan some distance away. Harry gave a little cry of pain as the bullet passed into the body and immediate examination revealed what had happened. Medical attention was secured as soon as possible. The ball did not enter the abdominal cavity, but seemed to have passed around the side just beneath the skin and lodged near the spinal chord. The wound was not considered serious at first, but soon signs of pleuro-pneumonia began developing and the man was hurried to the hospital. The man was helpless, however, and the progress of the trouble could not be stayed. A post mortem was held and it was shown that the course of the ball was above stated. The funeral near Cedar was quite largely attended. Many were present from this city.

THE LIMAITE A POOR SHOT. Fired Four Times and Then Used His Gun as a Club.

The following dispatch from Denver Col., will be of interest to the number of Lima people who remember T. C. Carnahan whose parents are said to still be residents of this city. The dispatch says:

“T. C. Carnahan fired four shots at Hugh Swearinger in the Burlington ticket office, at Seventeenth and Arapahoe Street this afternoon. Swearinger was in the office of Geo. Vallery, Denver agent of the company talking to the latter at the time. Carnahan’s bullets went wild, and he then began clubbing Swearinger with his revolver.

None of the bullets struck Swearinger, but Carnahan’s revolver, used as a club, badly damaged his head. Carnahan was speedily disarmed and placed under arrest. He is a mining man, operating in Leadville. Swearinger is contracting freight solicitor of the Burlington and it is said the trouble between the two men was caused by a domestic quarrel over Swearingers’ visits to Carnahan’s. Carnahan’s parents reside at Lima, Ohio. Swearinger, although virtually uninjured, believed he was dying and made an ante-mortem statement, which he afterward tore up.”

ADAMS COUNTY NEWS, GETTYSBURG, PA, MAY 16, 1914:

AN AMERICAN HEROINE. How an American woman, the wife of the American printer at Monterey, carrying an American flag rushed past the federal outposts and through the rebel forces, reviled and insulted as she passed and fought her way to the American Consulate seeking a physician for her husband, who had been wounded by a federal shell at their finca just outside of Monterey, was told by one of the first refugees to reach Washington.

Her husband, J. S. Carnahan, pictured the heroic daring of this frail little American woman, clinging to her United States flag at a time when the flag of her country was a signal for attack.

The Carnahans have lived in Monterey for more than fifteen years. They were both under fire during the two battles at Monterey.

Mrs. Carnahan said they had been forced to surrender their horses and automobiles when the rebel leader General Gonzales took the city.

Mrs. Carnahan saw the flag of the United States dragged in the mud and torn by the Banda de Guerra, led by General Massieu, in company with the mayor of the city and his officers and the governor of the state, Salome Botella who rode about the town of Monterey proclaiming that the United States was going to invade Mexico and calling upon all citizens to take up arms against the invaders.

OBIT, HARRISON CO, OH ABOUT APRIL 1903:

The funeral was held at the home of Tempe's parents in Cadiz on Wednesday morning this week, the services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Butler of the U.P. Church. Music was furnished by the choir members who had so often sung with Tempe at the funerals of others. The handsome casket was decked with beautiful flowers, the gifts of many loving friends. Among the very large company of people who had come together to take the last look at the pale yet beautiful face, were the teachers who had been so intimately associated with Tempe, and after all others had gone the young ladies of the Monday Night Club assembled together around the silently sleeping form, beautiful in death, but whose lips could give no answer back to the sighs and tears of those who had loved her so intimately and so well.

All of Tempe's nearest relatives were present at the funeral excepting her two brothers: Mr. Charles T. Carnahan of Denver, Colorado, and Mr. John S. Carnahan of Monterey, Mexico. Her brothers, Frank W. and wife of Charlotte, North Carolina and George H. of Leadville, Colorado, had arrived on Tuesday. Her Sister, Mrs. Hammond, of Chicago, had been here for several days.

The pall-bearers were Charles E. Stewart, Fred Wood, John Wilson, Dr. P.M. Sharp, E.M. Brown, and Ralph Cunningham.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE, CHICAGO, COOK CO, IL, JANUARY 6, 1926:

Rubber Growing Is Pronounced Feasible In U.S.

New York, Jan. 5 - Production of rubber in the United States for the purpose of combating the British rubber monopoly was pronounced feasible today by George H. Carnahan, president of the Inter-Continental Rubber Company, before a meeting of the company's stockholders here. "This company has put in fifteen years of research and experimentation and I believe that we are not ready to cultivate the rubber ????ing shrub on a profitable commercial basis under normal rubber prices." said Mr. Carnahan. "We have a small commercial crop already planted and in a few years we expect to be producing rubber in large quantities right here in the United States."

Stockholders approved a reorganization plan which dissolves the old corporation and distributes the assets in cash and stock in the new company. Stockholders have been given the option of taking 100 shares of new stock and $150 cash or 180 shares and $70 cash.

OBIT: THE CHICAGO REPORTER NEWSPAPER, CHICAGO, IL, MAY 5, 1898:

Mrs. J.W.H. Higbee, wife of the manager of the Chicago branch of the Smith-Premier Typewriter Company, fell from a second-story window of her home, 1874 Central Park Blvd., this morning and was killed almost instantly.

It is supposed that, weakened from a long sickness, she became faint while dressing, and going to the window to revive herself, lost her balance and fell to the asphalt pavement below. Although Dr. J. D. Higgins, who was called by Mr. Higbee, arrived in time to give medical assistance before Mrs. Higbee died, the coroner decided to hold an inquest this evening.

Mrs. Higbee was 25 years old, and was the daughter of Maj. Thomas Carnahan of St. Louis. She was well known in the social life of the Menoken club, of which her husband is a member.

The accident occurred at 8 o'clock. Mr. Higbee had gone to another part of the house, leaving his wife alone in her room to finish her preparations to accompany him downtown. Early in the morning she had complained of dizziness, but this apparently had passed away, and had ceased to trouble her.

But Mr. Higbee had been out of the room only a few minutes when he was startled by a scream, followed by the sound of a body striking the pavement. He hurried downstairs and found his wife lying on the ground unconscious. She had fallen on her shoulder and had received fatal internal injuries. Having recovered consciousness for a few minutes after the doctor's arrival, Mr. Higbee explained to those around her bedside the circumstances of the accident. The body will be taken to her old home in Mendota, Illinois for interment.

THE TIMES RECORD, ALEDO, MERCER CO, IL, JUNE 10, 1931:

DEATH TAKES RESIDENT OF ALEDO TODAY. Mrs. Myrtle Bridgeford Dies in Hospital After Four Weeks Illness. Funeral to be held here Friday.

Mrs. Myrtle Carnahan Bridgeford, 57 years old, died at St. Anthony's hospital at 5 a.m. today following a four week's illness. The immediate cause of death was heart disease, but she had undergone an operation for appendicitis about one month ago and her condition had been considered critical for some time.

Mrs. Bridgford was born Jan. 2, 1874, at Joy, the daughter of Alexander and Mary Downing Carnahan. In 1894 she was married to Capt. O. A. Bridgford, for years one of the most prominent residents of the Joy community. His death occurred in 1910.

A resident of Aledo for the past 36 years, Mrs. Bridgford spent her entire life in Mercer County. She was a member of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Aledo and took an active part in missionary and other church work.

Surviving are one daughter; Mrs. Ethel Mannon of Aledo; and six brothers and sisters. They are: Mrs. C.F. Elliott, Chicago; Mrs. S. R. Amlong, Aledo; J. L. Carnahan, Genesco; J. D. Carnahan, Joy; L. M. Carnahan, Kansas City and F.E. Carnahan, Los Angeles, Calif.

Funeral Services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday from the home with Rev. L.M. Thompson, Methodist pastor, officiating. Interment will be made in the Aledo Cemetery. The family requests that no flowers be sent.

William Carnahan 1804 IRELAND

12001. WILLIAM CARNAHAN born about 1804 Ireland, married^{MR-79} Mary (Polly) Buckles on December 31, 1825 Greene Co, IN by Augustine Papman JP. William died just after 1840.

Mary (Polly) Buckles was d/o William A. and Mary A. Kyles Buckles, christened 1801 VA, died March 29, 1856 Greene Co, IN, buried Edwardsport Town Cemetery, Vigo twp., Knox Co, IN.

On 1830 census Greene Co, IN.

On 1840 census Greene Co, IN.

On 1850 census Vigo twp., Knox Co, IN. Mary and children only.

Children:

13001. JOHN M. CARNAHAN

13002. JOSEPH CARNAHAN

13003. MARY A. CARNAHAN

13004. PETER H. CARNAHAN

The last record found so far relating to William was in the early fall of 1835 when he went to the sale of his brother-in-law Robert Buckles' and bought a tea kettle.

On September 5, 1843 Mary Carnahan of Knox Co, IN appointed Van T. Buckles (her brother) as her attorney and gave him power-of-attorney^{D-254} (document recorded on April 1, 1844 at Vincennes, IN) to receive and collect any monies due her from the following:

1. William Luce and Richard B. Dallan, executors for the estate of William Buckles, late of Muhlenberg Co, KY.
2. Estate of Robert Buckles, late of Jefferson Co, VA.
3. Estate of "My Mother" Mary Buckles, late of Butler Co, OH.
4. Estate of William Kyle, late of Butler Co, OH.

There does not seem to be any probate records recorded for William nor Mary Carnahan in Greene Co, IN or at the Records Department of Vincennes, Knox Co, IN. But there was a land patent^{D-263} issued to William Buckles dated January 9, 1835 at Vincennes and was certified September 25, 1907 and recorded November 8, 1907.

13001. JOHN M. CARNAHAN (12001) born December 28, 1823ts Davies Co, IN, but his obituary shows death age as 78 in IN, so he was probably born December 28, 1828. (the stonecutter probably failed to finish cutting the last number "3" so that it would read "8". John married^{MR-74} 1st to Lucretia Steffy on October 31, 1852, Knox Co, IN by minister Samuel R. Alexander, married^{MR-73} 2nd to Mrs. Acenith Downey on January 22, 1874 Knox Co, IN. John died December 1, 1906ts Columbus, Cherokee Co, KS from a busted blood vessel in his lungs and suffocated during minor surgery, at the home of his daughter Rebecca E. McCullough. John was originally buried in the City Cemetery which was where the present Columbus, Kansas high school is now located. Those graves were moved to the new City Cemetery which is 3/4 mile east and 1/4 mile south of town. He was buried Block 7, lot 86, space 11 of the City Cemetery. His gravemarker is a rectangular, reddish, granite stone and showed no weathering.

Lucretia Steffy was d/o Joseph and Mary Phillippe Steffey who came to Indiana in 1832, born June 18, 1833 Knox Co, IN, died April 18, 1873 Knox Co, IN, buried Asbury Chapel Cemetery, Washington twp., Knox Co, IN.

Mrs. Acenith Downey was born about 1842 IN, died May 6, 1891 of the "grippe" at home 1/4 mile east of Faulkner, Neosha twp., Cherokee Co, KS, probably buried in an unmarked grave at Fly Creek Cemetery near her home.

In September 1851 John sold land he had obtained from the Government in Knox Co, IN. On March 28, 1854 John M. Carnahan (#13001) and Richard Merrell Jr. posted $50.00 bond in Knox Co, IN for John M. Carnahan to be the guardian of Peter H. Carnahan (#13004). Peter Stated that he was a minor under age 21, heir of William Carnahan (#12001), deceased, and that John M. Carnahan was his brother. John M. Carnahan stated that Peter had no personal or real estate belonging to him.

On June 16, 1856 John M. Carnahan stated^{OC-70} that he had received no monies or property of any kind belonging to Peter, that Peter is a "crippel", and that he was merely appointed guardian for the purpose of taking care of him. It is noted that John M. and Peter's mother, Mary A. Carnahan, had died on March 29, 1856.

On October 17, 1860, John M. Carnahan, and wife Lucretia, sold^{D-255} 200 plus acres, NW 1/2 of Donation Lot 245 in Knox Co, IN to George W. McKinley for $1400.

On August 16, 1862 G. W. McKinley sold^{D-256} to Lucretia Carnahan part of the land they sold to him in 1860, for $800.

On April 29, 1865 Robert McKinley sold^{D-253} to Lucretia Carnahan 100 acres, which was the south end half of the NW half of Donation lot No. 245 that they sold in 1860.

On July 25, 1882 John M. Carnahan bought^{D-260} 320 acres (N 1/2 of section 12, twp. 32, range 16 E of 64 principal meridian) from William, David and Emiline Walter for $10,000 which included $2787.30 in mortgages.

On August 21, 1882 John M. Carnahan and wife Ascenth sold^{D-259} 320 acres N 1/2 of section 12, twp. 32, range 16 E of 6th principal meridian, to John M.J. Carnahan (his son) for $10,000 plus $2787.30 in mortgages (the same as he had paid for it). The land was located in West Cherry twp., Montgomery Co, KS.

June 1883 term of Court, Knox Co, IN, William Asher Carnahan and brother George W. Carnahan were residing in Montgomery Co, KS. with their father John M. Carnahan and were joint owners of Real estate valued at $400 in Knox Co, IN. These two brothers were the minor heirs of Lucretia Steffy Carnahan, deceased and David Busby in Montgomery Co, KS and Smily M. Chambers in Knox Co, IN were appointed by the court as guardians of these brothers and to rent the Indiana property for $50 per year.

On March 1, 1895 Neosha twp., Cherokee Co, KS of "General Statistics relating to farm of Agriculture" John M. Carnahan is listed with 200 acres of land, 80 acres of which was under cultivation.

Although John M. Carnahan lived much of his life at Faulkner, Neosha twp., Cherokee Co, KS the 1890 nor 1895 state census records do not have him listed even though he was still alive at that time, but there is a James Carnahan that came to KS from IN that was listed on the 1895 Neosha twp., Cherokee County census with John Carnahan's children listed with him. So apparently the census taker wrote his name James instead of John M. Carnahan in error.

HISTORY OF KNOX COUNTY, IN., 1886, GOODSPEED PUBLISHING COMPANY:

J.M. Carnahan was born Daviess County, In. in 1828, where he remained until eleven years of age, when his father, William Carnahan, a native of Ireland, died, and he then made his home with J. McKinley. When twenty one years of age he began farming for himself, and four years later was married to Lucretia Steffey, a native of Virginia, and daughter of Joseph and Mary Steffey. After J.M. Carnahan's wife, Lucretia, died, J.M. again married and reared two children from that marriage. From 1839 to 1883 J.M. resided in Knox County, In. and then removed to Kansas in the Cherokee Nation Indian Territory.

THE COLUMBUS STAR COURIER, COLUMBUS, CHEROKEE COUNTY, KANSAS, THURSDAY, MAY 14, 1891:

DIED- At the residence of Mr. J.M. Carnaham, 1/2 miles east of Faulkner, Mrs. Carnaham, wife of J.M. Carnaham, on Wednesday, May 6, 1891, of la grippe, Mrs. Carnaham was ailing for some time, but she died very suddenly, surrounded by all her family. She was a tireless Christian and beloved by everyone. We extend our heartfelt sympathies to the bereaved family in their hour of trouble and grief.

John M. Carnahan died Saturday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hugh McCullough, in east town, aged 78 years. Four of his sons and daughter live in Indiana, and were notified of the death. Those who could come, came in on Monday morning. The funeral was held on Monday, at 2 p.m.

THE COLUMBUS WEEKLY ADVOCATE NEWSPAPER, COLUMBUS, CHEROKEE COUNTY, KANSAS, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1906:

John M. Carneyhan dead- Blood vessel burst while he was under surgical operation. John M. Carneyhan, a man quite well known throughout the county, having lived for several years at Faulkner, and later at Columbus, died Saturday afternoon, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hugh McCullough, in east Columbus. He had been ill but a few days, but not down, and his physician thought to aid him by a very simple surgical operation. The old gentleman would not take an opiate. At a slight incision he showed strong nervous tension and a second slight cut excited his nerves till a blood vessel in the lungs bursted & he suffocated in a few moments. He was 78 years old. He was of Kindly and generous disposition. He had been wealthy in earlier years, but lost everything by indorsing paper for others. He has two sons here, George and Robert.

Joseph Davidson was born Bertie Co, NC.

The family story is that Jane Eveline, Mary's daughter, said that her mother's death was caused from pneumonia. It seemed that Mary objected to some sort of loud party that her husband was having at their home with his former war buddies, so she took their 3 children, Jane, Will and Jim, and went out on the hillside to sit. She caught a heavy cold which turned into pneumonia in just a few days.

After Mary died, Jane, though only a small child of 7, tried to take care of her two younger brothers and do the housework until Joseph remarried about 2 years later. Jane didn't know much about cooking, but she could make cakes. She told that one day she had made a cake and the children were out in the yard eating it, when a total eclipse occurred on a cloudy day. The children became terrified of the darkness and went back to the house and crouched inside.

RUBY BANTON, now deceased, had researched the greater Carnahan family since 1935, over 60 years, was descended from this Mary A. Carnahan and Joseph Davidson. Ruby was a retired college math professor and did extensive Carnahan research throughout the country.

ARTICLE FROM THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER, DATE UNKNOWN:

BOY SMOTHERED TO DEATH. A most distressing accident occurred at Reasnor last Wednesday, which cast a shadow of gloom over the entire community. About one o'clock some boys were in the elevator where Dennison and Partridge were loading a car of Oats, when in some manner Frank Carnahan, eleven year old son of Andy Carnahan, was drawn by the suction into the shoot and carried to the bottom. When taken out he was dead-all efforts to resuscitate proved to be futile. The case is an extremely sad one, as the father who has already had more than his share of trouble is illy able to bear this additional sorrow. His wife was recently taken to the asylum at Mt. Pleasant, leaving him with the care of a family of one daughter, three sons, and a step-son. Little Frank's sudden and terrible death is a crushing blow to his father's heart, and elicits for him the sympathy of everybody.

CARNAHAN FAMILY GROUP NUMBER 61

Robert Carnahan 1749 Ireland

SEE GROUP NUMBERS 37 , 62 and 12 FOR ROBERT'S POSSIBLE BROTHERS.
(The four Carnahan Family Groups 61 ,37, 12 could possibly be connected although positive proof has not yet been found. Based on dates and places of residences John Carnahan in Group 12 and Robert of Group 61 could possibly be brothers.)

Richland Co, OH created 1808 from Fairfield County.

Ashland Co, OH created 1846 from Richland, Wayne, Huron & Lorain Counties in Ohio.
Both Green and Vermillion twp. were in Harrison Co, OH, then both put in Richland Co, OH, then in 1846 both were put in Ashland Co, OH.

In 1846 both Green twp. and Vermillion twp. were in Ashland County.

Monroe twp., Carroll Co, OH was originally in Harrison County.

14003. ROBERT CARNAHAN born 1749 Northern Ireland, married Margaret Robertson about 1770 Hanover twp., Lancaster Co, PA. Robert died June 1, 1809, age 60, Island Creek twp., Jefferson Co, OH, buried Two Ridge Cemetery, Island Creek twp., Jefferson Co, OH. At the time of his death the "corn was still in the ground but the oats and flax were in the shock". His will^{W-47} dated June 1, 1809, probated August 1, 1809, recorded January 6, 1810, Jefferson Co, OH gives money to daughter Margaret Patterson from sale of land he owns on the Susquahana River in PA and also names sons William and James, but no wife.

Margaret Robertson was d/o William Robertson, born 1750 East Hanover twp., Lancaster Co, PA, died after June 1, 1809 Island Creek twp., Jefferson Co, OH.
He was a Presbyterian.

January 20, 1802 Orphans Court^{W-56}, Lancaster Co, PA, distribution of the estate of William Robertson, late of East Hanover township, shows Robert Carnahan received 99.17.2, he being the husband of William Robertson's daughter Margaret.

The family story is that Robert was on the British side in the Revolutionary War, whereas his brother David was on the American Side. Both were standing picket one evening. One gave an unique particular Carnahan family whistle and that whistle was answered in the unique Carnahan family manner. The two brothers had been separated for several years and had lost track of each other. They got together and had a family chat. This episode was related by Oscar Carnahan, also by William B. Frew, great-

OBIT: SEPTEMBER 1902, ASHLAND COURIER, ASHLAND COUNTY, OHIO:

Mrs. McDaniel was born in Chippewa twp., Wayne County, Ohio, August 15, 1827. Her maiden name was Sophrona Hutchinson. She was married to George Lee, June 18, 1844, and lived with him eight years. He died June 11, 1852, leaving three children: William, Sarah, and John. On November 18, 1853 she married William Carnahan. They spent more than thirty three years of life together sharing mutual hopes, and toil, until April 30, 1887, when he was called home, leaving three children: Madison, Anna, and Edwin. She lived on the same farm from 1844 until October 30, 1894, when she married Uriah McDaniel, and moved to Ashland, Ohio, where she lived to her death which occurred September 29, 1902. Thus after spending 75 years, 1 month, and 14 days of life on earth she was called to the life of heaven. In her young womanhood she gave her heart to God, and became a member of the Baptist Church in Seville, where she kept her membership until the end. She tried faithfully to meet all the obligations that came to her as friend, neighbor, wife, mother and Christian.

The funeral was held at the home of Mr. & Mrs. A.L. Ober, at 2:00 P.M. Wednesday afternoon, and was conducted by Rev. S.E. Sears. She was buried in the family lot in the Seville Cemetery.

THE ASHLAND PRESS, HAYESVILLE, OHIO, OCTOBER 21, 1914:

Death and burial of Mary E. Karnahan. Mary E. Karnahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Madison Karnahan, was born September 11, 1854, on a farm near Hayesville. At the age of nine she moved with her parents to the Roland Farm on Honey Creek where she spent thirty five years of her life. The past sixteen years have been spent in Hayesville, where she made many friends and left a memory of many kind words, and deeds. At about fourteen years of age she united with the Presbyterian Church of Perrysville, later was affiliated with the Presbyterian congregation at McKay, and finally became a member of the Presbyterian Church of Hayesville, where she remained a faithful and consistent member until death. During the eighteen months of suffering which preceded her release from the flesh, it was her joy and privilege to attend divine service whenever possible and she loved the reading of the scriptures as well as the prayers of God's children. On Friday, October 16, 1914, Aunt Mary fell asleep on earth and was "Entered into Life" with those redeemed, when her father, mother, one brother, and one sister awaited to give her greeting. She leaves to mourn her loss, three sisters, two brothers, many nieces and nephews, besides a host of other friends. The funeral services were held in the Presbyterian Church, Sunday, October 18, conducted by Rev. W.E. Hopkins, pastor of the M.E. Church. Interment in the Hayesville Cemetery.

She died March 17, 1906 Olympia, or Seattle, King Co, WA, buried Masonic Cemetery, Longston, Elk Co, WA

OBITUARY, MARCH 1906:

GONE TO REST. Mrs. Anna M. Brundage died at Rainer Beach, Washington, March 17, 1906. Miss Anna M. Kernahan was born December 23, 1840 in Lawrence County, IL. She grew to womanhood in Oskaloosa, Iowa, going from there to Lancaster, Texas, where she married to Albert Brundage in 1861. To them were born four children, one daughter and three sons. The daughter, Adah, has been sleeping more than a third of a century, and nearly thirty years have passed since the husband and father sank into that dreamless slumber that now envelopes her. The sons Howard and A.K. are residents of Rainer Beach while Frank D. resides at Blackburn, Oklahoma.

Hers was one of those beautiful characters that go thru life doing their duty to their children and mankind, with a sublime faith in God and humanity, bearing all the hardships and sufferings of life with patience that surpasses understanding, and at last going before their maker without fear, but with assurance that they will enter into the joys that were prepared for them from the foundation of the world.

OBIT; CANTON, LEWIS COUNTY, MO, JULY 1878:

Dr. George S. Carnahan died at his residence in this city at 10:40 a.m., July 5, 1878, after a long and painful sickness, at the ripe age 74 years. He was possessed of clear judgment, positive ideas, a strict sense of justice, & was universally esteemed as an honest and just Christian man. He lived a good life, and was rewarded at its close by the loving administrations of his wife and children, & the sympathy and attention of this whole community, the citizens having taken his case in hand & relieved each other as watchers both day and night for six weeks.

Doctor Carnahan was born in Hamilton County, Ohio, near Cincinnati, his father having settled there on a farm in 1797, the year after the Greenville Treaty. He remained on the farm until he became of age, when he studied medicine at a Medical College in Cincinnati. The practice of medicine was not agreeable to him, his sympathy for his patients being so great, that he was always affected by their suffering. It resulted in his twice engaging in mercantile pursuits before he came to this county, which was in 1847. He has since resided here, except for an intermission of about six years. On the breaking out of the Civil War he was a very pronounced Union man, organized a company of home guards that went into Col. Woodyard's command, and he went into the war as one of the surgeons of the 21st Missouri Infantry Volunteers. Soon after the close of the war he received an appointment from the President as Route Agent in the mail service and continued in this position until the work became too laborious for his declining years, and he resigned. It is impossible in a brief article of this kind, to do justice to his memory, but it is well known that he honored and elevated every position in life he was called to. But where he shone the brightest was in his family, here he was all kindness and devotion, ever ready to lend a sympathetic ear, and give that wholesome practicable and Christian counsel that was characteristic of his life.

Mrs. Wahneta Link of Keokuk, IA, in a letter written March 5, 1980, states she has a copy of a note written by her great-grandmother, Mary E. Carnahan, d/o George S. Carnahan from an old scrapbook of hers. It reads: "William Carnahan came from county Antrim, Ireland, settled in Penn, died 1832, age 92, 2 sons, James & Robert and 1 daughter Elizabeth, wife of Aaron Lane of New Jersey. Moved to Ohio to New Burlington, near Cincinnati. Lived with his son Jas., near Robert and Mrs. Lane. Mothers name was Mary Smith"

James, at the age of twenty years abandoned the family farm where he grew up for commercial occupations in the mercantile business in the neighboring village of Venice, and shortly afterward, in 1828, married Margaret Brown. In 1831 this couple, together with their first-born, August G. Carnahan, moved to Dayton. Here they remained for two years, then removed and settled as pioneers in Tippecanoe Co, IN, choosing to live in Lafayette. At Lafayette James entered into general merchandising business, which he followed for about twenty years. They lived the remainder of their lives in Lafayette until James died in 1873.

LAFAYETTE DAILY JOURNAL, LAFAYETTE, TIPPECANOE CO, IN, FRIDAY JAN. 3, 1873:

DEATH OF JAMES G. CARNAHAN. The kindly angel of death released our old friend and fellow-townsmen, James G. Carnahan from his protracted sufferings, at half-past 8 o'clock on new years day. For many weeks he has been languishing in a living death and his departure almost daily and hourly expected. The following brief sketch of his life was prepared for the Courier of last evening from which we copy the same:

"Mr. Carnahan was born in Hamilton County, Ohio, and removed to Lafayette, in the Spring of 1833. He embarked in the general merchandise business with his brother-in-law, the late John Taylor. Subsequently he formed a business partnership with Isaac V. Hunter. He withdrew from the firm in 1839 or 1840, and retired to a farm outside of town, where he lived for 3 years. Mr. Carnahan was naturally rather a quiet and retiring man, yet a man of strong convictions and unflinching integrity.

The funeral services will be at Grace Church, the rector, Mr. Stimson officiating, assisted by Dr. Carres, rector of St. John's Church of which Mr. Carnahan was an officer for so many years. The remains will be interred in the Greenbush Old Cemetery."

ENCLYCOPEDIA OF BIOGRAPHY OF INDIANA, VOLUME II, 1899:

AUGUSTUS G. CARNAHAN, president of the Lafayette Savings Bank, has been a resident of that city for sixty five years. His great-grandfather, William Carnahan, was a native of County Antrim, Ireland, born of Protestant Scot-Irish parentage and emigrated to America in 1765, settling in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. He was a soldier in the Revolutionary war and while serving in the army his son Robert, the grandfather of our subject, was born June 7, 1777. In 1795 Robert Carnahan removed from Pennsylvania to Ohio and located on a farm in Hamilton County, about twelve miles from the site of Cincinnati. He remained on the farm and cultivated it until the time of his death in 1845. The old homestead is still in possession of the family. James G. Carnahan, son of Robert, was born on the farm near the village of Mount Pleasant, December 31, 1807, and remained there until he reached his twentieth year, when he left home to engage in mercantile business in the village of Venice, in the neighborhood of his home. He married Margaret, daughter of Robert and Rachael (Bailey) Brown, a native of Hamilton County, in 1828, and the eldest child born of this union was Augustus Gaston Carnahan, the subject of this biography, who was born November 21, 1829. The family removed to Dayton, Ohio, in 1831, and thence to Lafayette two years later, when Augustus was under four years of age. His father formed a copartnership with Mr. John Taylor, who was his brother-in-law, and the father of Colonel W.C.L Taylor, at present the Circuit Judge of Tippecanoe County, under the firm name of Taylor & Carnahan, for the business of general merchandising; this firm continued until 1839. In 1842 Mr. Carnahan resumed mercantile pursuits, which he carried on until 1854. From that date until his death, January 1, 1873, he was not engaged in mercantile life. Augustus attended school in Lafayette until his fifteenth year, when he began business life by securing employment in a general store. Here he remained three years, then attended Tippecanoe County Seminary one school year, after which he entered and was graduated from Bartlett's Commercial College, Cincinnati. This seemed sufficient to qualify him to begin the active duties of a business life, where experience in the most effective school for the practical acquirements essential to success in the broad field of affairs. Before re-entering mercantile life Mr. Carnahan took a position of one season as second clerk on the steamer "Sam Walker" of Louisville, commanded by Captain Grey, plying mostly on the Ohio River. He then entered the employ of Carnahan & Earl, a firm engaged in general merchandising at Lafayette, of which his father was the senior and the late Adams Earl the junior partner. The partnership of the above named firm ended in the summer of 1851 by Mr. Carnahan purchasing the interest of Mr. Earl and associating with him Augustus under the firm name of J.G. Carnahan & Son, this firm continuing until the spring of 1854. After an interval of a few months Augustus engaged in the retail boot and shoe business, taking charge of a stock of goods for the executor of an estate. By the exercise of strict economy and careful management he was able to purchase this stock at the end of two years and continued the retail boot and shoe business until the spring of 1864. In 1861, in connection with the late Adams Earl and William H. Hatcher, he opened a separate house for the wholesale trade in boots and shoes in the firm name of Carnahan, Earl & Co. (Messrs. Earl & Hatcher being then engaged in the wholesale grocery trade). This copartnership expired by limitation in 1864, at which time Mr. Carnahan sold out his retail business, purchased the interest of his wholesale partners, and, continuing the business, associated with him his brother, William L. Carnahan, and Mr. David Murphy, under the firm name of A.G. Carnahan & Co. In 1872 Mr. Carnahan purchased the interest of his brother, William L., thereafter continuing with Mr. Murphy without change of the firm until 1878, when he sold his interest to Mr. Murphy and William Comstock and retired permanently from the business of a merchant. Mr. Carnahan had already other interests in Lafayette, having become a stockholder in the Bank of the State of Indiana soon after its organization by the late Moses Fowler. He was also elected a director in its successor, the National State Bank, and held the position continuously until the expiration of its charter in 1885. In 1877 Mr. Carnahan was elected a trustee of Lafayette Savings Bank and in 1889 he was elected president, and since that date has been re-elected annually. This institution was organized in 1869 and its history has been one of unexampled prosperity. The late John Purdue, founder of Purdue University, was its first president. Mr. Carnahan is the fourth. In the year 1888 Mr. Carnahan was elected a trustee of Greenbush Cemetery Association and has been under yearly re-elections, president of the board for eight years. In 1894 Mr. Carnahan became a stockholder in the W.L. Carnahan Boot and Shoe Company, of Fort Wayne, and was elected vice president of the company in 1897. On the 17th of January, 1854, Mr. Carnahan was married to Miss Sarah C. Robinson, daughter of Thomas and Eleanor Hueston Robinson. Mr. Robinson was a native of England, coming to America while yet a boy, with his father, who established the first manufactory of glass in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. Of This marriage two children were born: Eleanor Margaret, who is now the wife of David Linn Ross of Lafayette, and Edward James, who married Jessie Vermilya, daughter of the late E.M. and Marietta V. Talbot. He died at the age of twenty-eight years. Mr. Carnahan has been a Republican since the organization of the party, but has never been a candidate for any political office. He is a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal church and was a vestryman for over thirty years.

Biographical Record and Portrait Album of Tippecanoe County, Indiana, p. 581, Lewis Publishing Company, Chicago, 1888:

JOHN M. EACOCK, boot and shoe merchant, and an active and enterprising businessman of La Fayette, is a native of Suffolk, England, the date of his birth being April 14, 1847. He was reared and educated in his native country, and there learned the shoemaker's trade. He left England for America by the Inman line, in 1870, and May 4 landed in New York City, and May 7 arrived at La Fayette, Tippecanoe County, Indiana. He began working on a farm in this county, which he followed for eleven weeks, when he returned to La Fayette, and soon found employment in the boot and shoe factory of A. G. CARNAHAN, BRO. & CO, where he was engaged for some time. His next employment was as shipping clerk in the wholesale house of W. W. Comstock & Co., and made his maiden trip on the road for this firm. Later he went to Chicago, and from 1875 until the fall of 1877, he traveled for the wholesale boot and shoe house of Phelps, Dodge & Palmer, after which he traveled for Redpath Brothers, of Boston, Mass., with headquarters at Indianapolis, Indiana. In August, 1886, he established his present business at La Fayette, which he has since followed with success. MR. EACOCK was married at Indianapolis, to MISS ARABELLA E. LUDLOW, who was born in Newark, New Jersey. They are the parents of one child, a daughter named BELLE MIDDLETON. In his political views MR. EACOCK affiliates with the Republican party.

OBIT, FORT WAYNE SENTINEL, FORT WAYNE, ALLEN COUNTY, IN, June 26, 1897:

W. L. CARNAHAN DEAD. Demise of a Leading Citizen of Fort Wayne. He Was Prominent in Business and a Force in the City's Progress -- His Life:

William L. Carnahan was the son of James G. and Margaret (Brown) Carnahan, both of whom were natives of Ohio. They removed to Indiana in 1833, becoming pioneers of Tippecanoe County, settling at Lafayette, the father became engaged in merchandise. At that place, William L. Carnahan was born, March 5, 1837, and growing to manhood there attended the city schools and prepared himself for entrance to the state university, at which he was graduated. At the close of the year 1856 he went to Nebraska and remained in that state three years, the greater part of the time in Dakota County and the city of Omaha, in the latter place being engaged in merchandise and clerk of the land office. In 1860 Mr. Carnahan returned to Indiana and established himself in business in Delphi, where he was occupied two years, after which he removed to Lafayette and embarked in the boot and shoe trade. Two years later he became a traveling salesman for the firm of Carnahan, Earl & Co, Lafayette, in which capacity he was engaged for eighteen months, at the end of that period becoming a member of the firm of Carnahan Brothers & Co., wholesale dealers and manufacturers of boots and shoes. Attending to the wholesale trade, he spent seven years altogether on the road.

In 1872 Mr. Carnahan came to Fort Wayne to live and established the business which is now transacted extensively in many states by the W. L. Carnahan Company. The firm was first Carnahan, Skinner & Co. and this was succeeded in 1875 by Carnahan, Hanna & Co., and in 1886 became Carnahan & Co., with E. H. McDonald in the firm. The establishment was incorporated in 1894 under the name of The W. L. Carnahan Co., with W. L. Carnahan as president, Robert H. Carnahan as vice president, and W. E. Hood as secretary and treasurer.

In 1864 Mr. Carnahan was united in marriage to Clara L., daughter of James Bayliss Hanna, of this city, and of this union four children were born, Robert H., Misses Louise, Clara, and Virginia, all of whom, with Mrs. Carnahan, survive the deceased. Mr. Carnahan, was a high-minded Christian gentleman and a devout communicant of Trinity Episcopal church in this city. In his private life, as in his business affairs, Mr. Carnahan was controlled by a stern integrity and a lofty honor. He was extremely devoted to his family and was of strong domestic tastes. He was active and liberal in religious and charitable work, but without ostentation. He had been a steadfast friend of the Young Men's Christian Association of Fort Wayne and had conferred many benefits upon it. He was esteemed by all who knew him and in the progress of this city was recognized as a positive force. His death will be the occasion for general sorrow in the community.

This morning at 9:45, at the family residence, 119 East Wayne street, occurred the death of William L. Carnahan, president of the W. L. Carnahan Co., wholesale boots and shoes, one of the oldest and most extensive wholesale establishments in Fort Wayne. His death, while not unexpected, was none the less a shock to his hosts of friends and acquaintances throughout the city, for he was a representative man and held a high place in the popular esteem. For twenty-five years he had been a citizen of this city and had acquired an importance in its commercial affairs and a prominence in its society that combined to make him a man whose absence will be deeply felt.

Mr. Carnahan had been an invalid for about three years, suffering with Bright's disease and heart trouble. For two years his condition had been regarded as serious and for the past four or five weeks he had been confined most of the time to his bed. Last week there was some improvement in his condition, but a relapse followed which ended in his death this morning.

FORT WAYNE DAILY GAZETTE, FORT WAYNE, ALLEN COUNTY, IN, JUNE 27, 1897:

William L. Carnahan Expires After a Long Illness. He Was One of the Leading Citizens of Fort Wayne—Born and Reared in Indiana.

W. L. Carnahan, one of the oldest citizens and one of the most prominent business men of this city died yesterday morning at 9:45 o'clock at the family residence, 119 East Wayne Street. The cause of death was Bright's disease and heart trouble. Mr. Carnahan had been a sufferer from those maladies for three years, and for two years his condition was regarded as serious. For the past three weeks he was confined to his bed almost all the time. His condition changed considerably during the last few days so that his end was expected almost at any time.

William L. Carnahan was the president of the Carnahan company, wholesale dealers in Boots and shoes. He was the son of James G. and Margaret Carnahan, and was born in Lafayette, on March 5, 1837. He remained there until after he had attained manhood. He graduated at the state university. After graduating he went west, where he remained for several years. He then came back to his native state and after spending some time as a member of the Carnahan Shoe & Boot Company, of Lafayette, he came to this city and established the business of which he was the head when he died. The style of the firm was changed several times and the present company was incorporated in 1894.

He was a member of Company G, 67th Regiment, Infantry, Indiana Volunteers.

Mr. Carnahan was married to Miss Clara L. Hanna in 1864. Four children, Robert H., Louise, Clara and Virginia were born of the union, and these, with Mrs. Carnahan, survive the father and husband.

Mr. Carnahan was a member of Trinity Episcopal Church and was a warm friend of the Y.M.C.A., which institutions fared well at his hands in a financial way, as did other public institutions.

In business life he was an honest and upright man. All his dealings were those of a conscientious and honorable business man. He gave his untiring efforts toward making the public enterprises of Fort Wayne successful.

OBIT, FORT WAYNE MORNING JOURNAL, ALLEN COUNTY, IN., JUNE 27, 1897:

Wm. L. Carnahan, a leading citizen gone to his reward. At the head of one of Fort Wayne's largest business houses for twenty-five years, three years of suffering ended.

After suffering for a period of three years, Mr. William L. Carnahan passed away yesterday morning at a few minutes before ten o'clock. The sad event was not unexpected, but the news nevertheless cast a shadow of gloom over the commercial and social circles, where Mr. Carnahan was held in such high esteem. For the past two years Mr. Carnahan had suffered acutely at times from Bright's disease and heart trouble, and for the past five weeks his condition had been very critical, being confined to his bed most of the time.

In the death of Mr. Carnahan the business community of Fort Wayne has suffered a deep loss, for he was one of the most enterprising and progressive men in the city, and his influence and advice were always at the command of those who sought to advance the interests of Fort Wayne.

Mr. William L. Carnahan was the president of the wholesale boot and shoe firm of Carnahan & Company, one of the largest business houses in northern Indiana. He was born at Lafayette, March 5, 1837. He was the son of James G. and Margaret Brown Carnahan, who had moved to Lafayette from Ohio four years previously. The deceased grew to manhood in the city of his birth, attending the common schools in early life and afterward completing a course at the state university. He went to Nebraska in 1856 settling at Omaha, engaging in business and being clerk of the land office for nearly three years. He returned to Indiana in 1860, and established himself in business at Delphi, but after two years sold out and went back to Lafayette, where he embarked in the boot and shoe business. Two years later he entered the employ of Carnahan, Earl & Company, of Lafayette, as a traveling salesman, and was finally admitted to a partnership in the firm, which then became known as Carnahan Bros.

Mr. Carnahan was attracted to Fort Wayne in 1872. In that year he came here and established the business which has, under his guidance, grown to immense proportions, with sales of from $400,000 to $500,000 annually.

The firm was first Carnahan, Skinner & Co., and this was succeeded in 1875 by Carnahan, Hanna & Co. K, and in 1886 became Carnahan & Co., with E.H. McDonald in the firm. The establishment was incorporated in 1894 under the name of the W.L. Carnahan Co., with W.L. Carnahan as president, Robert H. Carnahan as vice president and W.E. Hood as secretary and treasurer.

In 1864 Mr. Carnahan was united in marriage to Clara L., daughter of James Bayliss Hanna of this city, and of this union four children were born: Robert H., the Misses Louise, Clara, and Virginia, all of whom, with Mrs. Carnahan, survive the deceased.

Mr. Carnahan was a high minded man, of broad views and lived in consistence with his strongly rooted principles. He was a type of the true gentleman, courteous and kindly, and combined with an interesting personality, honesty and love of fair dealing that made him respected in business circles. He was an ardent patriot, and during the civil war was a member of the Seventy-sixth regiment Indiana Volunteers. He was a member of Trinity Episcopal church and one of the most devoted communicants of that denomination.

FROM: "THE NATIONAL CYCLOOPAEDIA OF AMERICAN BIOGRAPHY VOL XXXII, 1967:

CARNAHAN, William Lane, merchant and manufacturer, was born in Lafayette, Ind., March 5, 1837, son of James G. and Margaret (Brown) Carnahan. His father was a merchant. He was educated at Lafayette public schools and the preparatory department of Indiana University. At the age of nineteen he entered the employ of a merchant in Council Bluffs, Iowa. Later he removed to Nebraska, where for three years he was engaged in merchandising as a clerk in the U.S. land office in Omaha. Returning to Indiana in 1860, he established himself in business in Delphi. Two years later he returned to Lafayette, where he became a clerk for the wholesale boot and shoe firm of Carnahan, Earl & Co., in which his brother Augustus G. Carnahan was a partner. After two years he became a traveling salesman for the firm and in 1865 was made a partner, in charge of wholesale trade. He sold his interest in this business in 1872 and established in Ft. Wayne, Ind., the W.L. Carnahan Company. Soon afterward Benjamin Skinner joined him and the firm name was changed to Carnahan, Skinner & Co. Later Carnahan bought out Skinner's interest and James Thomas Hanna joined the firm, which became Carnahan, Hanna & Co. In 1886 he bought out Hanna and the firm name was changed to Carnahan & Co. It was incorporated in 1894 with Carnahan as president, which office he held until death. The firm conducted a wholesale boot and shoe business and grew to large proportions, covering a wide territory. He was a member of the Masonic order and the Ft. Wayne Club. An Episcopalian in religion, he was for many years treasurer of Trinity Church in Ft. Wayne. In politics he was a Republican. During the Civil War he was a member of the 75th regiment, Indiana volunteers. His hobby was the driving of his fine horses. He was married in Lafayette, November 3, 1864, to Clara Louise, daughter of James Baylis Hanna, a Ft. Wayne merchant, and they had four children: Louise, who married Nelson Lloyd Deming; Robert Hanna; Clara C. and Virginia C. Carnahan, who married Creighton Hamilton Williams. He died in Ft. Wayne, Ind., June 26, 1897

FROM: ENCYCLOPEDIA OF BIOGRAPHY OF INDIANA, VOLUME II, 1899:

William Lane Carnahan was born Lafayette, Tippecanoe County, In. on March 5, 1837, and here he spent his childhood and early youth, attending the schools of his native city and preparing for college. In due time he entered the State University at Bloomington, but not to complete the prescribed course. After a year of collegiate work he left the university, and early in the winter of 1856-7 he set out for Nebraska in quest of the possible fortune that still lures ambitious young men westward. The next three years were spent in the above-named state, for the most part in Dakota County and the city of Omaha, his time being divided between the two occupations of general merchandising and clerking in the land office. In 1860 he returned to Indiana and became engaged in the retail shoe business at Delphi, and two years later found him back in the familiar haunts of Lafayette, where he connected himself with the boot and shoe concern of Carnahan, Earl & Co., as traveling salesman, in which capacity he served for eighteen months. He was then taken into the firm, which continued operations under the name of Carnahan Brothers & Co., he continuing his services on the road in the interests of the wholesale trade. After seven years spent in this way he severed his connections with the firm and early in 1872 went to Fort Wayne and there established the wholesale boot and shoe business with which he was closely identified during the rest of his life. The first style of house was Carnahan, Hanna & Co., which in turn gave place to the simple style of Carnahan & Co., Emmet H. McDonald becoming at this time associated with the house. Still another change occurred in the establishing of the W.L. Carnahan Company, under which title the business was incorporated in 1894. The officers of the company were William L. Carnahan, president; Robert H. Carnahan, vice president, and W.E. Hood, secretary and treasurer, the location of the concern being at 13 West Jefferson Street, whither its predecessor had removed two years previously. After the incorporation of the new firm the business expanded rapidly, until the W.L. Carnahan Company had become one of the largest and most prosperous of its line in the State. The evolution of so flourishing a commercial house is essentially conducive of benefit to the town in which it is located, and doubly so when the man or men from which the enterprise draws its chief vital force are earnestly in league with the spirit of advancement and high business ethics. Thus lofty and progressive was the unwavering attitude of Mr. Carnahan throughout the twenty-five years of his residence in Fort Wayne. The weal of his home city ever found in him a strong and faithful promoter; yet a wise conservatism tempered his zeal for public improvements, his fine balance and keen insight enabling him to discern with unerring judgment an ephemeral element in any newly projected scheme. And he was respected and loved not only for what he did, but for what he was as well. His frank integrity and friendly courtesy of manner constantly won to him the regard and warm affection of his associates, whether in business, social or private life, while his character found its crown in the reverential aspirations of sincere piety. He was for many years a devoted member and communicant of the Trinity Episcopal Church of Fort Wayne, always taking a leading part in the conduct of church affairs and contributing money generously to all objects which appealed to him as meritorious. In religion as in secular enterprise, however, he was always governed by a discriminating and far-sighted judgment. Among the institutions of his city substantially favored by his patronage may be mentioned the Young Men's Christian Association, which found in him a constant and helpful friend. Mr. Carnahan never took an active part in politics, yet few politicians can justly claim so fervent a love of their country or so lively an interest in all that makes for its welfare. This spirit of patriotism early engendered, was fostering during his soldier days in the Civil War, when he belonged to the Seventy Sixth Regiment of Indiana Volunteers. Mr. Carnahan was married in 1864 to Miss Clara L. Hanna, daughter of the late James Bayless Hanna of Fort Wayne, and granddaughter of Judge Samuel Hanna, who was born in Scott County, Kentucky, in 1797, but who came to Fort Wayne when that city was merely a trading post of the Indians and toiled as a pioneer for its settlement and advancement. In 1894, during a trip to the Atlantic coast Mr. Carnahan contracted la grippe, from the effects of which he was permanently invalidated, and three years later, on the 26th of June, 1897, he passed out of this life, sincerely and deeply lamented by a host of friends and acquaintances in both Fort Wayne and Lafayette. Of few men who have entered the mystery of the beyond can it so truly be said: "In all the varied walks of his life he fulfilled to the last iota the trusts divinely imposed upon him as man and citizen". The family left by Mr. Carnahan consists of his widow and four children. His son, Robert Hanna Carnahan, has succeeded to the responsibilities of his father's place in The W.L. Carnahan Company. The three daughters are respectively Louise, wife of Dr. Nelson L. Deming, of Fort Wayne, and Misses Clara and Virginia Carnahan.

OBIT: OXFORD, BENTON COUNTY, INDIANA, MAY 1952:

JOHN GRAY CARNAHAN, fourth son and youngest child of Alfred and Amanda Batchelder Carnahan was born in Cincinnati, November 29, 1859, and died early Saturday morning, May 24, 1952, aged 92 years, 6 months and 5 days. His parents were pioneers of Benton County, residing on a farm one mile north of Oxford, where they lived for several years with their four young sons, James, Joseph, Fred and John.

In 1865, they came to Oxford and took over management of the Heath and Carnahan Dry Goods store, where they served the public for many years.

John Carnahan attended school in the old Oxford Academy, and at the age of 14 years, he was apprenticed to a skilled watchmaker, William Dale, a man who had learned the trade at Tiffany's store in New York City. He was married December 29, 1886 to Grace M. Scott, who survives him.

While still a very young man, Mr. Carnahan opened a jewelry store in Oxford and continued in business until 1907, when he closed his store and went to Princeton, Kentucky, in 1907, and worked at his trade in the Wiley Jewelry store for several years.

In 1913, the family moved to Fowler, and until 1927, he was connected with the Rodman Drug Store. In 1927, they went to Findlay, Ohio, where they remained until the fall of 1928, when they again returned to Oxford, where they have since resided.

One son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Carnahan, Charles A., who is deceased. In 1906, John M. Bartindale was taken into the Carnahan home when a tiny baby on the death of his mother, and remained there until he established his own home. Much comfort was found for the aged man in this relationship, much as an own son.

John Carnahan was a lover of sports and all outdoor activities, hunting, fishing and baseball interested him greatly, until failing health and the infirmities of age overtook him.

He was a keen student of history and took great delight several years ago in the writing of the "Prairie Town" by Howard Gillespie, a story of Oxford.

This passing removes the last of his family and one more of the pioneers, who have helped to build Benton County.

He was a member of the Methodist church and of the Masonic Fraternity. Besides the widow and foster son, several nieces and nephews, and other relatives survive.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD. Funeral services for John G. Carnahan were held from the Shipps Funeral Chapel at 2 p.m., Monday, May 26, 1952, where the body lay in state over Sunday. Instrumental music was provided by Mr. Charles Sanders and Rev. W. G. Parker of the Methodist Church gave a brief talk, using several appropriate passages of Scripture.

Interment was at the West Cemetery with Masonic Graveside rites.

Among out-of-town relatives who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Carnahan, Mrs. Harley Hale and daughter of Versailles, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Carnahan of Greenville, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Husted of Winchester; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Atkinson of Indianapolis; Mrs. Gerald Sewell and son, Dwight Sewell; and Mrs. Edna Sewell, all of Otterbein; Owen Carnahan and sons, John Carnahan and Joe Carnahan, all of Pine Village, and other relatives and many friends.

OBIT, BENTON COUNTY, INDIANA, May 12, 1933:

LUELLA MITCHELL, was born July 12, 1858 on a farm one mile south of Oxford and passed from this life Monday evening, May 9, 1933, at the home of her only child, Louise Young, four miles northeast of Oxford. Of seven children born to Abram P. and Juliet Benedict Carnahan, Luella was the oldest and a second mother to the young members of the family.

When she was about 24, she learned telegraphy at Rankin, Ill., and then went to Chicago, where she was married to W.H. Mitchell on October, 1885. During the next ten years she lived most of the time in Chicago, Lafayette, Indianapolis and Danville. Since then her home has been in this community, among the old friends who were so dear to the last day of her life. The greatest pleasure to her was to be out of doors.

To mother, father, sister Jennie and Loretta and brother, Leonard, who have passed on before her, she gave loving care just as she was cared for in the months of failing health by the brother and two sisters who survive. Walter B. Carnahan, Mrs. Martha Taylor and Mrs. Grace Hoover.

OBIT, FORT WAYNE DAILY NEWS, FORT WAYNE ALLEN COUNTY, IN, NOVEMBER 26, 1906:

Last evening at 8:30 o'clock a telegram was received in Fort Wayne announcing the death of Mrs. Robert H. Carnahan at the family home in Indianapolis. Death was due to carcinoma from which the patient had been a sufferer for about a year. A few weeks ago Mrs. Carnahan was taken to New York City for treatment, but specialists gave up hope of recovery and the patient was hurried home from New York in the private car of General Manager W. W. Atterbury, of the Pennsylvania. Mrs. Atterbury was formerly Miss Minnie Hoffman, of Fort Wayne, and one of Mrs. Carnahan's dearest friends.

Six months ago Mr. Carnahan's business interests took him to Indianapolis and he moved with his wife and interesting family of three sons a short time later. Since then the family residence has been in that city. Previous to that time both Mr. and Mrs. Carnahan had been life-long residents of Fort Wayne.

Mrs. Carnahan was formerly Miss Constance Lumbard, youngest daughter of the late Sidney C. Lumbard, one of Fort Wayne's most prominent citizens. Mrs. Carnahan as Miss Connie Lumbard was a most popular young lady. She was a leader in the younger social set. She was bright and studious and when she was graduated from the Fort Wayne high school she carried off the honors of her class and was the valedictorian. Several years ago she became the bride of Mr. Robert H. Carnahan. She was a most charming matron, and a loving mother. Her demise at the age of thirty-four will not only be a shock to her family but to a wide circle of friends. The surviving members of the immediate family are her mother, Mrs. S.C. Lumbard, her grandmother, Mrs. Mary A. Lumbard, her aunt, Miss Effie Lumbard, her sister Mrs. Eugene H. Olds and her brother Mr. Frank S. Lumbard. The remains will be accompanied to Fort Wayne by the bereaved husband and his three sons.

OBIT, FORT WAYNE NEWS SENTINEL, JULY 8, 1939, PAGE 2:

Carnahan Rites set for Monday. Retired Business Man dies of heart disease after brief illness. Funeral services for Robert H. Carnahan, 71, retired businessman and member of a prominent pioneer family who died Friday afternoon at a local hospital of heart disease after an illness of a few days, will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Trinity Episcopal Church with the venerable James McNeal Wheatley officiating. Burial in Lindenwood Cemetery. Friends may view the body at the Peltier-Ashley Funeral Home. Masonic services will be held at a time to be announced later.

Mr. Carnahan was born in Lafayette, but came to Fort Wayne when a young boy. He was educated at the Hill School in Pennsylvania and at Yale University, from which he was graduated in 1891. In 1906 he was married to Miss Constance Lumbard, who preceded him in death. He was the son of William L. and Clara Hanna Carnahan.

He formerly operated a boot and shoe wholesale business here. He later managed an office service company in Chicago for 10 years. Upon retirement he returned to Fort Wayne. In recent years he had made his home with his son, William Carnahan, and a sister, Mrs. Creighton Williams of this city.

Survivors are three sons William of this city, Robert of Cleveland, Oh., and Sidney Carnahan of Chicago, two sisters, Mrs. Williams and Miss Clara Carnahan of New York City, and several grandchildren.

18133. CLARA C. CARNAHAN (17136) born 1879 IN, never married, died in 1946, buried Lindenwood Cemetery, Fort Wayne, IN.

In 1927 she lived Fort Wayne, IN.

In 1939 she lived in New York City, NY.

THE CARNAHAN DOLLHOUSE

In Fort Wayne, two little girls who lived at 119 East Wayne Street had a particularly memorable Christmas. Their special Christmas has had the added blessing of being shared by generation after generation of Fort Wayne families ever since.

On Christmas morning in 1886, Virginia and Clara Carnahan found a wondrous six-room dollhouse as their Christmas gift. In later years, fortunately for Fort Wayne's young at heart, this fully furnished treasure became the central holiday feature in the Historical Museum for decades.

Virginia Carnahan recalled, "We were sent to the play-room and found standing higher than our heads the dollhouse, a beautiful new house with six rooms, a winding staircase rising from the center hall to the second story, a kitchen, and dining room downstairs, a bedroom and a sitting-room upstairs, all completely furnished in doll-sized furniture, even to the pins in the pincushion".

A doll family lived there, too. In the hall was a little boy and his dog waiting to welcome us. Clara giggled with delight when she saw the little gold whatnot shelf with its bright glass vases, and I noticed the lace antimacassars (protective coverings for the chair backs and arms) – why, they weren't any larger than a penny! The papa doll in his high silk hat was dressed just like our own father who owned a fine shoe store in Fort Wayne. We learned later that our older sister had painstakingly sewed and hemstitched all the napkins and doilies, tablecloths and towels.

The parlor was elegant indeed with upholstered furniture, a handsome mantle and beautiful lamps. The family Bible lay on the marble table. Nothing had been forgotten. Bright flowers decorated the piano. Clara said perhaps if we closed our eyes we could hear the tinkle of doll music. But there was so much to look at – we couldn't close our eyes. The mistress of the house stood in the parlor dressed in a silk gown. We admired her regal appearance and decided she needed a dignified name, so we called her Mrs. Aldrich – and from that minute on, our house was known as the "Aldrich House".

William Carnahan, the girls' father, was a prosperous shoe manufacturer and retailer who came to Fort Wayne from Lafayette and in 1864 married Clara Hanna. The dollhouse was constructed by employees at the Carnahan, Hanna, & Company store. Mrs. Carnahan bought the dollhouse furnishings during trips to New York and Boston with her husband. The Carnahan sisters donated the dollhouse to the Society in the 1930's.

18134. VIRGINIA C. CARNAHAN (17136) born December 4, 1884 IN, married Creighton Hamilton Williams. There is a story^{A-163} that Virginia had a daughter Martha Carnahan before she married Mr. Williams. Virginia and Creighton both buried Lindenwood Cemetery, Fort Wayne, Allen Co, IN.

LIMA NEWS, LIMA, OHIO, JANUARY 22, 1977:

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. – The son of a man terminally ill with cancer may import the illegal drug Laetrile into the United States in limited amounts for three months, a federal judge ruled Friday.

U. S. District Court Judge Gordon Thompson thus made an exception in the federal regulation that forbids importing the substance, which federal officials claim is worthless in the treatment of cancer.

In making a plea for his 75 year old father, truck driver Michael O. Carnohan of Santa Rosa said Laetrile may be the only hope left. He said his father, Ray Carnohan of San Diego, is dying of an inoperative pancreatic cancer.

Laetrile, produced from apricot pits, is available in Mexico. There have been several other cases of rulings allowing the drug's importation for treatment of individual patients.

CARNAHAN FAMILY GROUP NUMBER 65

Alexander Carnahan 1757 Scotland

14001. ALEXANDER CARNAHAN (There is speculation by many researchers that Alexander was born June 21, 1757 Scotland and was the son of James Alexander Carnahan. This author has not found any kind of documentation of his connection to James Alexander Carnahan, nor has he found any connection between James Alexander Carnahan and any other Carnahan that came to America. This Alexander married Elizabeth Tomb in Ireland, probably before 1785.

Elizabeth Tomb was born about 1765 Armagh, Armagh County, Ireland, d/o William and Euphemia S. Baird Tomb.

Alexander arrived in Philadelphia with his wife and 4 children; and Margaret Tomb Graham and her four children, Samuel, William, Jane and Hugh Parker; David Tomb and his wife Elizabeth Dickson Tomb and one child; Mary Tomb; James Anderson and wife Catharine Tomb; Andrew Fee and his wife Jane and daughter Elizabeth; James Leslie and wife; James Luke and wife; and Hugh Jenkins, on July 21, 1792 by the way of the North Atlantic Delaware Bay and onto the Market Street Wharf, on the ship "Minerva" mastered by Charles Forrest (burden 400 tons, or "The Renown" mastered by William Loth, burden 450 tons) , as these two ships traveled together to America from New Castle, Ireland, they having lived in County Armagh, Ireland previous to their departure. In September 1792, with his wife and four children, and the 21 others that accompanied them on their voyage to America, settled at Plainfield, PA, because the lay of the land which reminded them of Armagh, Ireland, from which they came. The place was partially covered with a thin, scrubby growth of oak trees and they were the first settlers there. Later the town was called Armagh, Indiana Co, PA (which was then in Westmoreland Co, PA). On May 9, 1794 Alexander obtained a survey for 400 acres in Westmoreland County and in 1796 he bought the 400 acre tract of land for 10 lbs. On January 29, 1795 he made oath of allegiance to US and petitioned^{D-113} the Court in Westmoreland County to become a naturalized citizen on September 18, 1804. By trade he was a cooper. (Some researchers say they had two daughters named Mary. One married Hugh King, and the other married John Trimble and that this Mary died November 1858 and buried Muddy Creek, Butler Co, PA)

^{D-113} Petition for Citizenship

Elizabeth Tomb's parents were William Tomb and Euphemia S. Baird and they had 7 children. The Tomb family were of Scottish extraction, but for generations had lived in Armagh, Armagh County, Ireland. The Tomb family came to America about 1792. William and Euphemia Tomb's children were:

1. David Tomb born about 1760 Antrim, Ire, married Elizabeth Dickson (born about 1770, died 1854, age 84). David died August 23, 1838, age 78. They had 9 children and belonged to Presbyterian Church. It is said that he and his brother John patented 200,000 acres on Blacklick Creek, now East Wheatfield twp., Indiana Co, PA, 1 1/2 miles East of Armagh, and at the time of the patent it was part of Westmoreland Co, PA. (This may be true but this author has found no such patent)
2. John Tomb. patented over 200,000 acres on Blacklick Creek with brother David.
3. Hugh Tomb - he did not come to America
4. Catherine Tomb, married James Anderson
5. Mary Tomb, married Richard Demsey.
6. Elizabeth Tomb, married Alexander Carnahan
7. Margaret Jane Tomb, married 1st William Parker, married 2nd James Graham.

OBIT:

SAMUEL CARNAHAN, who lived some three miles north west of this place, died on Tuesday afternoon, under somewhat peculiar circumstances. On Saturday last he was in town and purchased mourning clothes for his wife and family, remarking that such clothing would be most appropriate for them. Sunday morning he sent for Mr. Davis, his nearest neighbor, to whom he gave money to pay his funeral expenses, stating that he should soon die. He was up to this time in his usual health, which thought has been poor for several years. He died that afternoon in the presence of his family, and as far as we can learn without any further cause. Mr. Carnahan was about fifty years of age, and old and esteemed citizen, and in comfortable circumstances. His sudden departure will occasion much surprise and universal regret among his numerous acquaintances.

LAGRANGE STANDARD, JANUARY 19, 1878): "DIED" - At the residence of her daughter, January 19, 1878. Mrs. Mary Ann Carnahan, aged 65 years, 9 months, and 7 days. The deceased was born in Ohio and moved to this County in an early day. She has been blind for many years. She professed religion and joined the M.E. Church about 20 years ago, and since that time, has looked forward with an eye faith to the land where the blind receive their sight. The funeral services were conducted by Edward Keasey, from the following words: "It is not all of life to live nor all of death to die."

16006. MARY CARNAHAN (15004) born June 5, 1817 Indiana Co, PA, married Solomon B. Welch on January 6, 1836 Pleasant twp., Marion Co, OH. Mary died November 28, 1886 Prospect twp., Marion Co, OH, buried Prospect Cemetery, Marion Co, OH.

Mary related that "when she first settled in Marion County traveling was all done a-foot or on horseback. The meetings were held in schoolhouses or at private residences. There was scarcely any fruit except wild plums and gooseberries, but they had plenty of maple syrup and sugar, which was used in place of fruit. Eggs sold for 3 cents per dozen, and they would receive but $1.50 per hundred weight for pork, after carrying it to Delaware. Their clothing was all made from flax and wool, spun in the family. She was a member of the Methodist Church. Her son, Uriah, was in General Sherman's army on its march through Georgia to Savannah in the Civil War."

Solomon B. Welch was born Vermont, September 16, 1799, died October 23, 1862 Propect twp., Marion Co, OH, his first marriage was to Lavina Smith about 1820.

THE LIMA DAILY TIMES, LIMA, OH, AUGUST 2, 1892:

Thomas Carnahan, an old and respected citizen of Ottawa, suicided Sunday by taking paris green. It appears that he lost heavily in a business deal, and it worried him to such an extent that he lost his reason.

FINDLAY WEEKLY JEFFERSONIAN, FINDLAY, HANCOCK CO, OH, THURSDAY, AUGUST 4, 1892:

Suicide. Thomas Carnahan, an old and respected citizen of Ottawa, suicided Sunday by taking paris green. It appears that he lost heavily in a business deal and it worried him to such an extent that he lost his reason.

PUTNAM COUNTY SENTINEL, OTTAWA, OH, THURSDAY, AUGUST 4, 1892:

Death of Thomas Carnahan. Mr. Thomas Carnahan, an old citizen of Ottawa, died at his residence here on last Saturday, July 30th, 1892. The deceased for nearly the past year was afflicted with mental despondency, which at times was very marked yet as he showed but little disposition to do harm to himself he was not sent to an asylum, but was carefully taken care of by his family. On last Friday afternoon he in some manner obtained a quantity of Paris Green which he took with suicidal intent and which resulted in his death at 2 o'clock on Saturday morning. It was not discovered that he had taken the fatal dose until an hour afterwards, when every effort was made to counteract the poison yet the efforts failed and he died as stated. Before his death he appeared to be rational and gave as his reason for taking the fatal dose that he was tired of life. The deceased was born in Indiana County, Pa., March 4th, 1827, and moved with his parents to Marion County, this State, when but a child. In 1860 he was married to Jane Hoover and came to Ottawa where he resided ever since. He was a good citizen and highly respected by all who intimately knew him. He leaves a wife, one brother and one sister to mourn their great loss. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity of Ottawa, and his funeral took place on last Sunday under the auspices of the order, and was very largely attended, and his remains were laid to rest in the Harman Cemetery.

The following tribute to his memory was adopted by the lodge of which he was a member: IN MEMORIAM, HALL OF OTTAWA, LODGE NO. 325, F.& A.M., Ottawa, O., July 30, 1892. "Truly in the midst of life we are in death. It is with sorrow that we are called upon to pay tribute to one of our worthy and beloved members, Brother Thomas Carnahan, who departed this life on Saturday morning, July 30th, 1892. The death of our deceased brother causes more than ordinary sadness among us, from the fact that for sometime past he had been a sufferer from mental despondency and was not responsible for his own doing. Therefore, be it

Resolved, that in the death of Brother Carnahan our lodge loses a worthy member, the community a good and upright citizen and his wife a devoted husband, and that his wife and relatives have the deepest sympathy of his Masonic brethren in the hours of their affliction.

Resolved, that the members of this Lodge attend the funeral in a body; that the Lodge be draped in mourning for the period of thirty days; and that the newspapers of Ottawa be requested to publish these resolutions. Signed C.M. Godfrey, J.L. Olney, Geo. D. Kinder, Com"

THE LIMA NEWS, LIMA, OH, APRIL 15, 1925:

BENEFICIARIES NAMED UNDER CARNAHAN WILL.

OTTAWA—Mrs. Lillie Cahill, wife of B. M. Cahill, village marshal, was chief beneficiary under the provisions of the will of Mrs. Jane Carnahan, probated Tuesday in court.

For ten years Mrs. Cahill cared for Mrs. Carnahan, who occupied quarters in an apartment adjoining that of the Cahill family on W. Main St. Mrs. Cahill gave her the same care as she would a mother, according to J. P. Leasure, who was Mrs. Carnahan's legal counsel.

Mrs. Cahill is to have the W. Main St. residence where the Cahill family and Mrs. Carnahan resided. Some time ago Mrs. Carnahan deeded another property to Mrs. Cahill. This is located in Ottawa.

Leasure, for his legal services rendered during her life, was given the brick block occupied by the Doecker tin shop. Mrs. Cahill is to have all the household goods and personal effects, the will says. She must pay all debts and personal expenses.

INFORMATION FURNISHED BY BARBARA BOYD STEWART:

Arion and Nancy lived on a farm several miles south of the Saylor School House. Arion was ill only a short time before his death. He died at the age of 39 years, 2 months and 19 days. Nancy remained on the farm after Arion's death and often visited her husband's sister, Elizabeth Frisbey and family, driving a horse and buggy. She was very sociable and of a happy disposition. Frances Dekker told me she recalled Nancy coming in the horse and buggy to visit and she always had a smile on her face. Arion and Nancy were buried in the Saylor-Bethel Cemetery west of LaGrange.

Further information on this family may be found on the Boyd Family Pages.

THE LAGRANGE STANDARD, LAGRANGE CO, IN, THURSDAY MARCH 25, 1897:

Mrs. Nancy Boyd died at her home in LaGrange, March 11, 1897, after many long weeks and months of suffering, aged 60 years, 8 months, and 27 days. Mrs. Boyd was born in Marion County, Ohio, and when 4 years of age came with her parents, Samuel and Mary Carnahan, to LaGrange County, and settled in northeast Clay twp., and has lived in the county all her life. Her father cleared up a large farm in the heavy timber, and she with the rest of the children knew what hard work was and the privations of the old settlers. She was married to Aaron Boyd in July 1856, and by the union five children were born: Samuel, Ella, James, Emma, and Mate, and all survive her but Emma, who died some eight years ago. The deceased united with the Methodist Church many years ago, and had strong faith in a future life, and tried so to live to be ready to enter the Heavenly mansions when the Messenger bade her come. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Keasy, assisted by Rev. Stennard at Bethel, on Saturday, and her remains laid to rest with her many kindred in the Bethel Cemetery.

LAGRANGE, INDIANA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1913: Alexander Carnahan killed by Automobile: Clay Township Pioneer Meets Death This - Friday - Afternoon, Near Howe - Was Driving a New Ford Car, His Own, Home From Sturgis - Machine Ran Into Ditch. "Alexander Carnahan of Clay township was accidentally killed th - Friday - afternoon, on the Vistula road, West of Howe, not far from where the Foremans live.

Mr. Carnahan was driving home from Sturgis in a new Ford automobile, accompanied by a young man named Long.

In turning the corner, on the West Sturgis Road, going West on the Vistula Road, and running about thirty miles an hour, according to the Long boy, Mr. Carnahan lost control of his machine and the automobile slid into the ditch, made by a fill-in.

Dr. Stewart H. Shrock, deputy coroner, who held an inquest shortly after the accident occurred, is of opinion that the death of Mr. Carnahan was caused by shock. No bruise or contusion could be found upon the body, nor was the body crushed or any bone broken. Mr. Long, who was in the car with Mr. Carnahan, was not injured, being thrown clear of the machine. He righted the automobile and called to Mr. Carnahan to "get up". No response coming, he examined the body and found that the aged man was dead.

Mr. Carnahan was born in Ohio, seventy-three years ago, the son of Samuel and Mary Carnahan. He came with his parents to LaGrange County and Bethel Street in Clay township at three or four years of age, his home thereafter.

Mr. Carnahan leaves a widow, two daughters, Mrs. David M. Ream of Sturgis and Mrs. Julian Doriot of Kansas City, Missouri; a son Albert, living in Clay township; a brother, Samuel Carnahan, of Sherman, Michigan, and two sisters, Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Naomi Taylor of Clay township.

Alexander Carnahan was one of the strong and sturdy men of the County, of rugged honesty, bluff in his manner, but considerate and tender at heart.

His accidental death has come as a saddening shock, more especially to his old friends and neighbors of seventy years in Clay township, and the sympathy of all our people is with the aged widow and the other members of the stricken family.

LAGRANGE STANDARD, LAGRANGE CO, IN, DECEMBER 4, 1913:

Alexander Carnahan was driving the Frank W. Wait car. With reference to the death of Alexander Carnahan, which occurred last Friday afternoon, near Howe, the result of an automobile accident, the Sturgis Journal of last week said: "In company with his wife, Mr. Carnahan came to this city to spend Thanksgiving with his daughter, Mrs. David M. Ream, at 204 North Jefferson Street, as had been the custom for a number of years. During his visit Mr. Carnahan expressed the wish to his son-in-law that he would like to have him purchase a good driving horse, which Mr. Ream agreed to do. After circulating around town for a few hours, he entered the Parker & Kenyon livery stable, where Mr. Ream is foreman, and imparted the information that he was considering the purchase of an automobile. Nothing more was said until he requested Mr. Ream to go to the Ford garage on North Nottawa Street and look at the Frank W. Wait car, which Mr. Wright was trying to dispose of. Mr. Ream pronounced the car in good condition, and the deal was made a little later. In the meantime, Mrs. Carnahan becoming worried about the son they had left at home, decided to take the one o'clock train for home, leaving her husband to follow, as she supposed, on a later train. At the dinner table Mr. Carnahan told his daughter that he had purchased the car, and that he intended to drive home in it, telling Mr. Ream that a Mr. Long was going along to drive the car. Mr. Ream supposed at the time that it was Long of the firm of Curtis & Long. Instead it was Ray Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Long, who was to accompany him. Had Mr. Ream known the true state of affairs he would have gone along, being an experienced and licensed chauffeur himself."

Contrary to the statement appearing in several papers, Mr. Carnahan died from shock, and not from an injury, according to Dr. Stewart H. Schrock, deputy coroner, who held the inquest and examined the body. No bones were broken and there was no abrasion of the skin.

SAME PAPER AND DATE: IN MEMORIAM: Be ye also ready, for in an hour that ye think not the Son of Man Cometh.

Death rides aloft on every breeze and lurks in every flower. It comes with the lightning flash, from the blast of the tornado, and on sea and land we see its relentless hand. The rich, the poor, the old, the young must pass under its rod.

To our brother the blow was quick and relentless and his spirit was wafted away in a moment to that land whence no traveler ever returns.

Alexander, son of Samuel and Mary Carnahan, was born in Marion County, Ohio, March 2, 1841, and departed this life November 28, 1913, aged seventy-two years, eight months and twenty-six days.

He came with his parents to Clay when two years of age and the father settled on land in Section 11 and from the dense forest burned coal, lumbered, split rails, and plowed among stumps until a good farm and comfortable home was obtained. Those pioneer days were trying and the hardships many. It was a common thing to see the boys out at four o'clock with their ox teams, drawing logs to the mill until school hours, and this in zero weather.

Alexander, Hiram, and Samuel lived to see a good farm and plenty for their parents in their declining years as a reward for their toil.

The deceased was united in marriage to Sarah Fought, October 12, 1866, and five children blessed this home. Two died in youth, while Mrs. Lorana Ream of Sturgis, Albert of Clay, and Mrs. Nellie Doriot of Kansas City, Missouri, with their mother, are left to mourn the loss of a kind husband and father. He was one of a family of nine children. Six have passed the river of life, Mrs. Robert Allen and Mrs. Oregon Taylor of Clay township survive him.

The deceased was a hard working, industrious man and by industry and economy has left a good farm and comfortable home for his family. In early life he was converted and he united with the United Brethren Church at the Saylor schoolhouse on Bethel Street. The class became disorganized and the members drifted away and he never united with any other church. He never lost sight of his first faith, was a firm believer of the bible and believed a rest remains on the other shore for the children of God.

1882 HISTORY OF LAGRANGE COUNTY, INDIANA, by F. A. Battery & Company, Clay Township.

HIRAM CARNAHAN is the son of Samuel and Mary A. (Marshone) Carnahan, natives of Pennsylvania and Greene County, Ohio; the birth of the former occurring April 15, 1813, and that of the latter May 14th of the same year.

In 1835 Samuel Carnahan moved to Greene County, Ohio, where he was married. In his youth he worked several years on the Lower Mississippi, near New Orleans. In 1841, came to Lima Township, where he was employed in the Grannis Mills, and bought 40 acres of unimproved land in Clay Township; built a house and began clearing.

In this house Hiram Carnahan was born December 6, 1842. His father returned to the South, but made a brief sojourn. In 1845, he sold his farm and bought another of 100 acres in same township, where he died November 5, 1867, having increased his land to 340 acres.

Mrs. Carnahan died at the same place January 18, 1878. Hiram Carnahan lived at home after his father's death. November 13, 1869, he was married to Orvilla Tedrick, who was born September 18, 1847, in Bloomfield Township, this county. They had two children - Jacob S., who died September 25, 1873, and Carrie May. Mr. Carnahan bought the farm of 81 acres where he now lives, in 1870. It is part of the old homestead and is well improved. Mr. and Mrs. Carnahan belong to the M. P. Church. He has served as assessor three years. Mrs. Carnahan's father, Jacob Tedrick, was born in Maryland; and her mother, Sarah (Rathbun) Tedrick, in Licking County, Ohio.

17004. SAMUEL CARNAHAN (16005) born March 19, 1844 Clay twp, LaGrange Co, IN, married Sarah C. Rathbun on January 12, 1871 LaGrange Co, IN. INDIANA COUNTY GAZETTE, INDIANA CO, PA, MAY 8, 1912:

John L. Carnahan and Miss Margaret J. Thompson, both of Homer City. were united in marriage by Squire J. A. Crossman, at his office in Court Place, on Monday, April 29.

CLEARFIELD PROGRESS, CLEAREFIELD CO, PA, JUNE 1, 1918:

John C. Arnold, Esq., filed a petition in the prothonotary's office this morning in behalf of Mrs. Margaret Carnahan in which a divorce is asked from John Carnohan. The Carnahan's were married April 29, 1917, but their joy did not last long as the husband's cruel and barbarous treatment forced his wife to leave his home on June 15, 1917. The divorce suit is the sequel. (Editor's note. Apparently the couple married in Indiana County, Pa. on April 29, 1912, not 1917.)

INDIANA EVENING GAZETTE, INDIANA CO, PA, SEPTEMBER 6, 1924:

At the opening of the September Term of Court yesterday, Simeon Johns of Green township was named as foreman of the Grand Jury which inquisitory body is now considering the bills of indictment presented by District Attorney Wilmer H. Wood. In Court yesterday, Robert Parks, John L. Carnahan, and John Myers, who confessed to entering and robbing the company store at Claghorn, entered pleas of guilty and waived the sending of an indictment to the Grand Jury. They have not yet been sentenced.

INDIANA EVENING GAZETTE, INDIANA CO, PA, NOVEMBER 10, 1930:

Alleged Fowl Thieves Taken.

John L. Carnahan, 38 and Sam Lorella, 37, both of Heshbon, reported to be professional chicken thieves, were trapped and taken into custody by State Troopers John O'Mara and Harry Wagner when, according to the officers they were wringing the heads off chickens on the farm of Frank Clark, two miles east of Penn View Inn, on the William Penn Highway about 1:30 o'clock this morning. When Carnahan and Lorella were surprised by the troopers, it is claimed they had already removed the heads of 22 chickens.

The troopers were called by Mr. Clark about 1:00 o'clock this morning after he was awakened by a noise near the barn and an investigation showed someone was stealing his chickens.

O'Mara and Wagner made a record drive to the Clark farm where they arrested the two alleged chicken thieves, brought them to Indiana and lodged them in the County Jail where they are being held for a hearing.

INDIANA EVENING GAZETTE, INDIANA CO, PA, NOVEMBER 11, 1930:Two Are Held In $1,000 Bail.

John L. Carnahan and Sam Lovella, of Heshbon, charged by State Trooper Harry Wagner with larceny of chickens, waived a hearing when called before Squire C. C. McLain yesterday and were committed to jail in default of $1,000 bail each for their appearance in court.

The two Heshbon young men were trapped by Wagner and Trooper John O'Mara, when it is claimed, they were stealing chickens from the farm of Frank Clark, who resides two miles east of Penn View Inn on the William Penn Highway. According to the officers when the men were arrested they had already removed the heads of 22 chickens by wringing their necks. The case will come to trial during the December term of court.

INDIANA WEEKLY MESSENGER, INDIANA CO, PA, NOVEMBER 13, 1930:

CHICKEN THIEVES CAUGHT WHILE SLAUGHTERING FOWLS. John L. Carnahan and Samuel Lorella, both of Heshbon, said to be professional chicken thieves, are in the law's clutches. The two were caught on the farm of Frank Clark, two miles east of the Penn View Inn on the William Penn highway at 1:30 o'clock Monday morning by State Troopers John O'Mara and Harry Wagner, who were called by phone to the Clark farm. The officers found Carnahan and Lorella wringing the heads off Chickens when they reached the poultry house, where they found 22 fowls slaughtered. The offenders were brought to town where they were lodged in jail pending a hearing.

INDIANA EVENING GAZETTE, INDIANA CO, PA, NOVEMBER 25, 1930:Quick Justice Is Meted Out In Local Court.

Sam Orella and John L. Carnahan, felonious entry and larceny, were sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $25 each and undergo imprisonment in the Allegheny County workhouse for a period of not less than six nor more than twelve months.

CLEARFIELD PROGRESS, CLEARFIELD, PA, JULY 21, 1947:Probe Death of Man, 54, at Indiana.

Indiana, Pa., July 21. Investigation is being continued today in the death of a 54 year old man who District Attorney Edwin M. Clark said was held over a coal stove during an argument April 24. Clark identified the victim as John L. Carnahan. He said that James F. McGee, 45, has been held without bail since April 28 on charges of assault and battery and aggravated assault and battery. Clark said Carnahan, before he died, declared that McGee had heaped hot coals on him while he was sleeping, then had pressed him against a stove. (THERE IS AN ERROR OF HIS DEATH DATE IN ONE OF THE ABOVE ARTICLES, 1947 or 1949)

HISTORY OF PIERCE CO, WA, 1927:

Fred Carnahan. Standing in the front rank of the real estate dealers of the Puyallup Valley is Fred Carnahan, of Sumner, whose energy and enterprise have gained for him not only well deserved material success but also the confidence and respect of his fellow men. Mr. Carnahan was born in the state of Kansas April 17, 1889, and is a son of Joseph and Ruth (Reeves) Carnahan, the former of whom is a contractor. The mother died in 1893. Our subject's parental grandfather, Thomas Carnahan, was a veteran of the Civil War, in which he served four years, and his father was William Carnahan who fought with Oliver Hazard Perry in the historic battle of Lake Erie.

Fred Carnahan attended the public schools of Kansas and Oklahoma and also took a course in the International Correspondence School. He worked on farms in Oklahoma and later had a farm of his own there. In 1905 he went to Alberta, Canada, where he bought a farm, which he operated until 1908, when he sold it. He then came to the Yakima Valley, Washington, and bought a farm, to the operation which he devoted himself until 1920, Mr. Carnahan came to Sumner and in the following year engaged in the real estate business, which he has successfully conducted to the present time, handling both city and farm property. A man of marked business capacity, with an accurate knowledge of values, he has been a sound adviser in real estate matters and has earned the respect of all who have had dealings with him.

In 1914 Mr. Carnahan was united in marriage to Miss Irma K. Hoffmaster, who was born in Redwood Falls, Minnesota, and they are the parents of two children: George M. and Irma Ruth. Mr. Carnahan is independent in his political action. He is a member of the Masonic order and the Commercial Club, and he is deservedly popular throughout the range of his acquaintance.

A letter from Marj. Brown, Bend, OR in June 1999, states that Frederick's wife was adopted and her birth name was Katherine Milne, and daughter of Alexander &

Margaret McDougall Milne. Also she notes a correction should be made in the above article that "Frederick bought the farm" but this is wrong in that he did not buy the farm but just worked on it with his father Joseph. And it was Joseph that went to Washington and had an orchard.

18020. RALPH CARNAHAN (17038) born April 25, 1891.

18021. BABY CARNAHAN (17038) born May 3, 1899 and died at birth. This child's mother Ruth Shreves Carnahan also died in childbirth.

OBIT, EXCELSIOR NEWSPAPER, THURSDAY, NOV. 12, 1925:

Death is no respecter of persons and today all Blakesburg mourns with the Carnahan family in the sad ending of the husband and father, Elmer Carnahan, who met death Tuesday morning while chopping wood in the timber west of the Blakesburg Cemetery. He and Ernest Schoech were working together in the timber and had sawed two trees partly down, leaving one stand while they worked the other into wood. When they had almost finished, the second tree, a good sized hickory fell, striking Elmer at the base of the brain and crushing his body to the ground. His left shoulder was crushed and left foot was broken. The men were only a few feet apart and neither saw the tree falling and some of the limbs struck Ernest Schoech. He cut away some of the branches and pulled Elmer from under the tree and tried to revive him the best he could. He was unconscious and never regained consciousness. Mr. Schoech hurried to town and men rushed to the scene to give any assistance they could. A cot was secured of Miller & Knedler and he was carried home where he passed away a short time after. Elmer Carnahan was a good citizen and a lover of his home, his family and kind to all. He was a hard worker but always happy. He is survived by his heart broken wife and six children. Also a brother residing in St. Joseph, Mo.

OBIT, EXCELSIOR NEWSPAPER, NOVEMBER 19, 1925:

A large crowd of sorrowing friends assembled at the Baptist Church last Thursday afternoon to pay a tribute of respect to the life of Elmer Carnahan who departed this life November 10, 1925, aged 50 years, five months and eleven days. William McCausland was s/o John and Margaret Culbertson McCausland, born 1843 Mullaghmore, Tyronne Co, Ireland, arrived in New York May 1, 1863 aboard the ship Etna which had departed from Liverpool, England. He died September 10, 1887 in Greene Co, PA, buried Bellevue Cemetery. He was a wealthy stockbroker. William was murdered in Green County, PA. His body was found 3.5 miles east from Carmichaels on the McCann Ferry road. The place was called "Murder Hollow". He was supposed to have left Pittsburgh on the Friday evening boat and got off at McCann's Ferry on the Saturday morning he was murdered. It was stated that several witnesses testified in Washington Court to have seen George Clark and Zack Taylor in the ravine where the murder took place. They were tried, found guilty and hanged for the murder of William McCausland. The two men who paid the penalty on the gallows protested their innocence up to the time the trap was sprung. At the trial, witnesses testified to a complete alibi for the condemned men and others testified that they had seen the two men in the vicinity of the murder about the time the deed was committed. There prevailed a general opinion that the two men were not guilty and that it had been planned and carried into execution by another person, whose name has not been disclosed.

DAILY TIMES, NEW PHILADELPHIA, TUSCARAWAS CO, OH, FRIDAY, JANUARY 29, 1926:

Death Claims R. Carnahan, 72, at New England. Robert Carnahan, 72, well known retired miner, died suddenly today at 10:15 a.m. at his home in New England where he lived alone. A cerebral hemorrhage was the cause of death.

John Click, a neighbor, who heard Carnahan call for help, rushed to his assistance but life was extinct when he arrived. Apparently Carnahan was sitting on his bed and had fallen backward. His body fully clothed was found lying on the bed.,

A physician was summoned and following his arrival Coroner J. F. Lewis, Dover, was called.

Carnahan had been ill a week. Neighbors had been caring for him during his illness.

Last April he retired after engaging in trapping for some time at the No. 2 mine of the Reeves Manufacturing Company. His son, Walter Carnahan was fatally injured four years ago, only living eight hours after he was injured at the Reeves No. 3 mine.

Mr. Carnahan's wife has been dead twenty five years. He has a daughter, Mrs. George Wolf residing in Massillon.

LIMA TIMES DEMOCRAT, LIMA, OHIO, NOVEMBER 23, 1895:

LOST A LEG., Fireman Carnahan, of the P. F.W. &C., Injured by Being Thrown from the Tank by a Rear End Collision.

Yesterday Lloyd Carnahan, a P.Ft. W. & C. fireman, was going west on the first section of freight train No. 73, which stopped at the water plug at Monroeville. Carnahan had just lowered the spout and turned the water into the tank when there was a crash in the rear and the engine moved rapidly forward a few feet. The second section of 73 had collided with the first, and it was this that caused the engine to move. Carnahan was thrown down and rolled over the coal and top of the tank by the water spout, and then dropped to the ground in a dazed condition., one leg was broken and the flesh crushed from the bone of the left one from the knee down.

At first it was thought that he had been killed, but he soon revived and was able to talk to his companions concerning the accident. Carnahan commenced working for the company about four weeks ago. He is a man of perhaps twenty-three years and his parents reside in Dunkirk. He was taken to the Ft. Wayne hospital and the left leg was amputated. His recovery is doubtful.

FORT WAYNE SENTINEL, FORT WAYNE, IN, NOVEMBER 23, 1895:

CARNAHAN DEAD. Could not Survive the Shock of His Terrible Injuries.

Lloyd Carnahan the Pittsburg fireman who was so badly injured at Monroeville as mentioned in yesterday's Sentinel died from the shock of the accident at 1 o'clock this morning. The remains were removed from the hospital to Peltier's Undertaking establishment, where they were prepared for burial and sent down to Dunkirk, Ohio on train No. 20. William Carnahan, the father of the deceased accompanying them. Lloyd Carnahan was twenty four years old and unmarried. A few months ago he discovered a broken rail in the Pittsburg tracks, between Dunkirk and Washington, Ohio, a few minutes before the westbound passenger train, No. 9 was due and by prompt action he warned the engineer in time to prevent a wreck and possibly great loss of life. The company wished to reward the young man and with that end in view sent an agent to consult with him. Carnahan refused a money present but hinted that a position as fireman would not be refused. He was accordingly given work and during his short but efficient service had ingratiated himself unto the esteem of the officers and his fellow trainmen and was considered one of the best men in the service. He was a member of the Voluntary Relief Association, holding a policy for $750.

THE DAILY HERALD, DEPHOS, OHIO, NOVEMBER 26, 1895:

Lloyd Carnahan, the young Dunkirk fireman who was injured in the P.F. wreck at Monroeville Friday night, died and his remains were taken through her Saturday afternoon on train No. 20 to his home. About a year ago Carnahan discovered a broken rail between Dunkirk and Washington and flagged train No. 9 and prevented a terrible wreck. As a reward for this act he was given the position of fireman which lead to his death. He was 24 years old and unmarried.

EXPLANATION OF FAMILY GROUPS NUMBERING CODES AND FOOTNOTES

Group number represents the specific ancestor as a family head and his descendents follow.

11001 – These numbers represent first generation ancestor. (Numbers were selected in order to leave room for future researchers who may find information on the ancestor before my dates. Some begin at 11001, others at 12001, etc. Numbering is unique to each family group.

12001 through last number – These numbers represent the generation following generation 11001.

13001 through last number – These numbers represent the generation following generation 12001 and so on.

Footnotes explanation:

D+number – Author's file number of deed included in text.

OC+number – Author's file number of the Orphans Court Record included in text.

W+number – Author's file number of the will included in text.

1899ts+number are year, ts shows. Information was taken from tombstone inscription.

1899dr+number are year dr shows information was taken from (death record source).

There many footnotes found in the genealogies in Volumes I, II and III. These footnotes refer to documents in the possession of the author. If you would like a copy of any of these documents, please contact the author, referring to the footnotes and the family group for the copies desired. A copy of the original recorded document or a transcription (if the copy is of poor quality) will be sent for a nominal fee, far less than the original cost.

VOLUME IV with more Carnahan genealogies will be available soon.

Bobby Vernon Carnahan was born in a two story log cabin, not more than 200 feet from where the Kirby Cemetery is located in Macon County, TN, on April 6, 1928. He attended Clemson A & M College, Clemson SC, studying Electrical Engineering. He was a veteran of World War II, serving in Germany. After returning to civilian life and school, he held various positions with Magic Chef, Inc., C B & Q Railroad, Southern Railway Company and AMTRAK. He retired as a courier in 1989 in Atlanta, Georgia. Upon his retirement he took a course in homebuilding and built his own home in Mt. Juliet, TN, where he still resides.

Bobby has been twice married and by his first marriage he has two sons. By his second marriage he has two daughters. A good part of his adult life has been spent researching and exploring the genealogies of most of the Carnahan lines in America. He has also researched the family connections in Ireland. Much of his research was done the old fashioned way, before computers, e-mail and the Internet

Bobby V. Carnahan
Geneva Switzerland
1946 just after the close of WWII.

Bess Ware Carnahan was born in Washington DC, and is herself mostly Irish and Scot Irish. She has always had a love affair with Ireland. As a Regional Director for Trans World Airlines she had the opportunity to visit and work in Ireland on many occasions.

Married to Hal Carnahan in 1955, she tried to research the Carnahan name. “The only thing I could find out was that Carnahan is one of the oldest names in Ireland”. Bess and Hal spent their honeymoon in Ireland trying to research the name without any real luck.

An accident in 1999 left her pretty immobile for 4 years and she was able to devote full time for that 4 years researching Carnahans. Bess found Hal’s ancestor who came over from Scotland but hit the research “brick wall” at Scotland. No self respecting Carnahan every claimed to be a Scot. So what happened? It took a mountain of research and a ton of money, but she eventually uncovered the history of the Carnahan Clan and was able to document them back to the earliest of times. And yes, they are Irish to the bone!

A chance meeting with Bobby V. Carnahan led to collaboration on publishing the history of the clan and the genealogy series. Both Bobby and Bess are dedicated to publishing only that information which can be proven from documents and reliable sources and not hearsay. The research continues today.

That clan research and story is available in Volume 1 of the genealogies and is still available in hard back print.
