THE NAPA VALLEY GENEALOGICAL AND BIOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY

The Society was founded by Marian E. McGuire in July of 1974 as an offshoot of the Napa County Bicentennial Commission. There were 135 charter members by the first membership meeting in January 1975 and the Society has grown rapidly to its present status of a highly respected educational organization. Incorporation as a non-profit organization was accomplished in June of that same year.

In March 1975 the doors to our library were opened. Those using our facility found it housed in just one small room, with a few shelves of books. As our membership increased and we were financially able to purchase books (or they were donated or loaned), more space was needed, and we acquired the use of two additional rooms. Our holdings are now over 4000 volumes -- and still growing.

Instructional classes are offered in beginning genealogical research, as well as clinics for specialized help and regional study groups. Our meetings are of a very high caliber, with timely, interesting, informative topics, from which we all benefit. The Society's highly successful annual "Roots and Shoots" seminars were begun in 1978, bringing to the area the very finest genealogical teachers and lecturers.

Objectives of the Society

- 1. To promote interest in genealogical and related historical and biographical research.
- 2. To provide instruction in research techniques involving evidence, proof and documentation stressing accuracy and ethics.
- 3. To accumulate and preserve manuscripts, documents, records, family histories and other genealogical holdings through the establishment of a genealogical library.
- 4. To serve as a medium for sharing knowledge and educational and social activities.
- 5. To encourage compilation and publication of records, family histories and biographies.

Membership and Dues

Membership commences with the month joined; annual dues are as follows:

Active membership	$10.00
Husband and Wife	$15.00
Patron membership	$25.00
Life membership	$100.00

Dues are payable to the Society on the anniversary of your membership.

This and That From Here and There

If your amcestor ever returned to the "old country" for a visit, you may find the village of origin on the passport application. Applications through 1905 are in the Diplomatic Records Branch of the National Archives, Room 5E, Washington, D.C. 20408. Applications for 1906 and later are in the custody of the Passport Office, Dept. of State, 1425 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20520. Give name, residence, place and approximate date of application. Search and copy fee of $6. has likely increased.

In 1918, and only in 1918, an Alien Registration was prepared by the Public Safety Commission in Minnesota. All aliens were asked to give present address, length of residence, age, place of birth and date, port of entry and date of arrival, marital information, occupation, names of children and ages, real estate ownership, and personal property and its value. The person was also asked about his/her participation in the war against the United States and were they naturalized or had filed papers. The records are open to the public and are being indexed by volunteers. The index will be an A to Z listing for the entire state. You may write to this address for more information: Minnesota Historical Society, Division of Archives and Manuscripts, 1500 Mississippi Street, St. Paul, MN 55101.

If you have Rhode Island families you will be interested to know that the Rhode Island Historical Society has started a Genealogical Hotline to help in the exchange of information. For further details write: Charles McNeil, Reference Librarian, 52 Power Street, Providence, RI 02906. (The above three articles from So. Bay Cities Gen. Soc. Newsletter May/June 1984.)

Free queries with Maine roots and links are accepted for publication in "Your Side of the Family," a genealogy column in the Rockland The Courier Gazette. Send a long SASE for date of publication and mail queries to the column (Your Side of the Family) at the newspaper, 12 Main Street, Camden, ME 04843. Please capitalize names.

For soldiers in the Civil War who wished to play cards, the American Card Company sold "Union Playing Cards." They were different from ordinary cards in that the four suits were Eagles, Shields, Stars and Flags: a colonel was a king, the Goddess of Liberty a queen and a major was a jack! (The above two articles from San Joaquin Gen. Soc. Newsletter Vol. 5 No. 3.)

Put your name and address somewhere on everything you take with you when doing research. It is heartbreaking to find notes, research material, etc., with no identification and no way to return to the owner. (Orange Co. CA Gen. Soc. Newsletter June 1984.)

SELECTIVE SERVICE RECORDS - When the United States became involved in World War I in 1917, all males between the ages of 18 and 45 were required to register for the draft. More than 24 million of these selective service records are on file at the National Archives and Records Center in East Point, GA. They are filed by state and then by draft board. The registration form was completed by the individual himself, who may have been born as early as 1872, and it may supply important information regarding parents, spouse, date of birth and place of birth. -- In order to request a copy of one of the selective service records, you must supply the full name of the person and the city and/or county in which they were living at the time of the registration. If your relative resided in one of the following cities, you must also supply an exact street address, which is available from a 1917 city directory:

Albany, NY
Atlanta, GA
Baltimore, MD
Boston, MA
Buffalo, NY
Chicago, IL
Cincinnati, OH
Cleveland, OH
Indianapolis, IN

Check your local library for yet another obscure source of research. The Sourcebook on Death and Dying, James A. Fruehling, Editor (Marquis Professional Publications) has various address listings which may prove helpful. Among others, there is an index to memorial societies and an index to all state Bar Associations, showing name and address of Presidents, Vice Presidents or Presidents elect and Executive Directors or Executive Secretaries. The quantity of potential genealogical aids to be found in the local libraries is surprising! (From California State Genealogical Alliance member Carlton Smith.)

An unusual love story emerges from two entries in Kent Co., MD Marriage License Records. On 22 April 1797, both John Lewin and Robert Curry took out licenses to marry Jane Bird. A note by the clerk on the page on which the records were made, just under Curry's name, says, "Curry was successful." Here is a whole two-volume romance condensed in two names and dates, and a sentence of three words. Probably the shortest novel ever written. (Orange County CA Gen. Soc. - submitted by Colleen and Bill Robinson.)

Definitions - CERTIFIED COPY: An exact copy of a Bible, tombstone, baptismal or other record that has been attested by a Notary Public as being a correct copy. -- HOLOGRAPHIC WILL: A will made in the handwriting of the testator. -- NUNCUPATIVE WILL: An unwritten will has been declared or dictated by the testator in his last sickness, before a sufficient number of witnesses, and afterwards reduced to writing.

The following are published by and available from RHODES & McCLURE PUBLISHING CO. Chicago. All volumes are bound in the best English and American cloths, with full silver embossed sides and back stamp. Sent Post Paid.

PLOTS AND PENALTIES. A selection of Political stories, taken from life, and told by W. H. Hinrichsen, "Buck," a man who held the position of Secretary of State of Illinois. These stories do not give a one-sided view of the Comedies and Tragedies that occur in Politics but will prove of value and highest interest to the Democrat and Republican alike. True Humor and deepest Pathos go here hand in hand, and the book, once opened, will be rarely laid aside without that feeling of true satisfaction that comes after the perusal of literature, based on real life, and built by genius. Copiously illustrated. 458 pages.

THE PIONEER'S HOARD. A Thriling Romance of the Ozarks by Scott Van Gorden. A vivid, graphic tale of the reign of the Outlaws in those Mountains of the West, and their downfall and final extermination by the Regulators. Combat and Bloodshed, Indian warwhoops, and wild, dark night scenes blend most luckily with courtship and love-making, and offer a story to lovers of sensational literature that will hold them spall bound from beginning to end. Illustrated with twenty-three full page engravings by H. S. De Lay. 530 pages.

GLIMPSES OF HOOSIERDOM. A selection of Humorous and Pathetic Poems, which, together, give a most vivid and delightful description of the life, the thinking and feelings of the farmer of Ir diana. The Poems are truly original, and show that the author is a r sident of the State he sings about, and has lived through most of the incidents he depicts in a truly fascinating way. Copiously illustrated. Deamor R. Drake. 268 pages.

Family Reunions

If you are planning a family reunion, now is the time to start planning for it. This is a great opportunity to gather those little tidbits of information from family members, especially those who won't answer your letters for whatever reason. It's always easier to ask questions in person and get direct answers!

The following is a list of what to do to have an organized reunion. The main thing to remember is to PLAN AHEAD!

- Choose a locality that is near as many of the relatives as possible. Select the site with all planned activities in mind and reserve early.
- Begin a card file of family addresses. Use phone books at your local library. Get lists from other relatives, advertise in several places.
- 3. Duplicate a letter of invitation which gives time, place, accommodations available and activities which are planned. If you need family information, photographs, etc., this is the time to request such. Are you going to have a pot-luck or will each family contribute money for food? Send a reminder approximately one month beforehand to all who previously responded.
- Involve people. Get as many working on projects as possible. People tend to come if they are involved.
- Set up committees early. Have a welcoming committee--guest book, name tags, etc.; food committee; advertising committee; decoration committee; entertainment committee; display/historical material photograph committee; recording committee, etc.
- 6. Special project. You are apt to gather much more family data if those present, especially the younger relatives, can see where they fit into the family. It is most important to have some type of family tree available—a large piece of poster board, cork, etc.—with family information is easy to do and the lettering need not be perfect. Sheets of paper should be readily available for additions and corrections. An encore for succeeding reunions could be the addition of photographs of each family.
- 7. The recording committee or someone with special training could interview those especially selected or each one present for an oral history tape. Plan questions and those to be interviewed well ahead of time.
- 8. Plan special activities, games, mixers, dramatizations, musical selections, home movies, slides, write on blocks for family quilt, etc. Use your imagination to enhance the reunion so that all will wish to return and the hold-outs will wish that they had been there.
- Start a family newsletter to keep in touch, to maintain interest, and to glean information.

Our thanks to the Lincoln-Lancaster County Genealogical Society, Volume 6, Number 1, January, 1982.

CLARK FAMILY REUNION IN BERRYESSA VALLEY

At the adobe ranch on January 28th, there was a reunion of the Clark family to celebrate the 80th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Electa Clark, relict of the late Abram Clark. The following are the children and grandchildren, most of whom were present, and all reside in this valley: Children -- Alonzo, Norman and Reuben Clark, Etta Harris, and Amanda Anderson; children-in-law -- the Mrs. May, Annie and Mrs. Reuben Clark, John Anderson, Joe Harris, Geo. S. McKenzie; grandchildren -- Mallie, Ora, Irma, Celia, Nellie and Winna Clark; Mabel, Cleo, Genoa, Ula and Erie Anderson; Electa Harris, Cordelia and Effie McKenzie; Roy, Clifford, Howard, Abram, Elmer and Foster Clark; Ren, Clifford and Robert Harris; Vinton Anderson and Stanley McKenzie.

Mrs. Clark's brother, "Uncle" Thomas Snider, who will be 93 years old on the 16th of February, and whose senses, with the exception of seeing, are still nearly perfect, was also present.

The father of Mrs. Clark and Thomas Snider was a Captain in the War of 1812, and two of his children were born in the 18th century and there are two of his children still surviving in what we will call the 20th century.

NAPA DAILY JOURNAL, 8 Feb 1900; page 3, column 3. Submitted by Ida DeMay Wilson

When the above article was received for publication, it prompted a search of the "Illustrations of Napa County, California with Historical Sketch" which was published in 1878. On page 20 of that volume the following article on the Abraham Clark family appeared. cjc

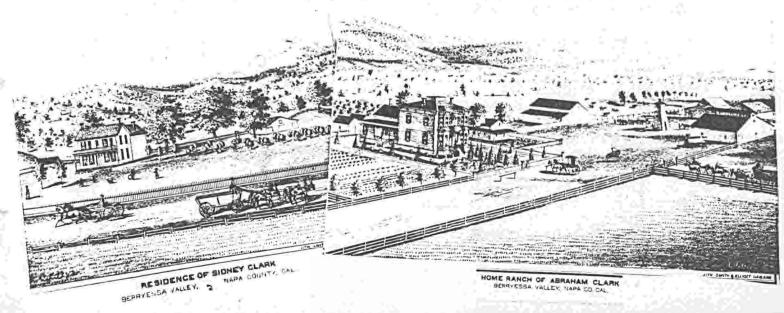

Abraham Clark now owns the largest farm in Berryessa valley, and indeed in Napa county. He owns and farms 10,000 acres in the middle and upper end of the valley. Of this tract 3,000 acres are in wheat, which generally averages twenty bushels to the acre. To successfully harvest this crop, he uses five headers of six horses each (they cut a swathe each of twelve feet wide), one straw-burning engine, and a large number of header wagons. He uses one 40-inch Pitt's Separator. To handle all this machinery and take care of the wheat will require sixty head of horses or mules and thirty men, and 30,000 sacks in which to place the grain, as in California the wheat is put into sacks or bags as it comes from the separator, where it usually remains in the field until sold.

Mr. Clark keeps about 180 head of cattle, 800 head of hogs, and 3,000 sheep. His farm is well fenced, he having put up nearly eleven miles of board fence within the last three years. The home farm is situated three miles from Monticello, and is bounded on the west by the river, affording ample water for stock use, but about the residence water is raised by wind mill for domestic purposes. There is a fine orchard of a variety of fruit on the home farm.

A first class residence is now being constructed near the original adobe house, both of which are represented in the view we have given in this work. The house will contain all modern improvements that can add to the comforts of a home, and constructed in the most substantial manner, and will cost, when finished, not less than $10,000. Surrounding the residence are large and convenient barns, and yards laid off in systematic shape, as are all his fields on the farm. The upper farm was the one on which Mr. Clark first settled. This farm is devoted largely to stock purposes, although it has some nice wheat land.

Abraham Clark was born in England in 1820, and came to New York in 1829, where his parents resided five years when they removed to Ohio, Crawford County, in 1835 and remained until 1853. In 1845 he married at Mount Morris, N.Y., Miss E.J. Snider, a resident of that place. From Ohio he removed to Chickasaw County, Iowa, where he remained ten years, and in 1864 started overland with teams and horses, being five months on the trip; Mrs. Clark drove one team the entire distance. Owing to sickness of the family on the road, Mr. Clark found himself at his destination in Napa with but $2.50 in money, and was obliged to mortgage his horses to obtain enough to feed them with. He stopped in Napa one year, and in 1866 worked a farm in Sonoma, but lost the entire crop and was worse off than on his arrival. In 1866 he moved to Berryessa and brought his first load of lumber from Napa by way of Rockville and Suisun, that being the only practical way of reaching the valley at that time. With this lumber he built a shanty on the upper place, which at that time he was renting. Mr. Clark's untiring energy was soon destined to meet with success and it was soon demonstrated that perseverance and integrity combined with good judgment is bound to win. His career demonstrates that any of us by perseverance may advance from the poorest ranks to that of the comparatively wealthy.

Large as Mr. Clark's farming operations are in Napa, he is also farming 12,000 acres in Spring valley, Colusa county, in wheat and barley. It is all under plow, but only 8,000 acres will be harvested this year. He has been farming in Colusa seven years, and generally with good success. This year he expects to harvest about 80,000 sacks, of about 130 pounds each. On this farm he uses a separate assortment of machinery, which is not used on the Napa farms. When in full harvesting rig, he will use on the Colusa farm, at one time, one Pitt's and one Russell separator and 1 straw-burner engine. Nine headers will be running at once, and each header cuts a swath from nine to twelve feet wide. Eastern readers will bear in mind that the header is pushed ahead of the five or seven horses, thus cutting down a wide strip of grain. In the harvesting scene on Mr. Clark's ranch will be seen the three full sets of headers, header wagons, men and horses, as they begin operations, with the separator and engine beginning to thresh as fast as the grain is cut. For each header will be required three header wagons, twelve horses and seven men. For each thresher, or separator, is required twelve men and six horses. Besides these, are men and horses used in hauling water for the engine and general use, and in attendance on engine, etc.; so that the total number required at one time when in full operation is 128 head of horses and mules, and ninety men. To carry on these vast farming operations requires a large amount of money, and Mr. Clark's farming operations this year will require an expenditure of about $100,000; $20,000 will be spent in improvements about the Berryessa farms. There is still much to be done hereafter in improvements, including five miles of board fence yet required to properly divide and lay out the farms.

FOOTSTEPS THROUGH CALIFORNIA'S MOTHER LODE COUNTRY

OLD HORNITOS THE WICKEDEST TOWN IN THE MOTHER LODE

Located 11 miles off Highway 49, or alternately 12 miles off Highway 140, Hornitos is a delightful relic of days gone by. The tall tree beauty of nearby Mariposa and Yosemite belie the sparse rolling hills burned brown by the blazing sun. The hard and rocky ground made above ground burial a necessity at first, and the graves resembled little outdoor ovens. The Mexicans referred to them as "hornitos", Spanish for little ovens.

The nearby area was rich in placer (surface) gold and miners were flowing in along with gamblers, thieves, outlaws, and "fandango" hall girls. This lesser element was kicked out of nearby Quartzburg, but while they were camped near Hornitos considering their situation, they discovered gold and a town was born.

The wealthy little town attracted a wide range of people: John Studebaker in 1853, worked as a blacksmith before returning to Indiana; Rosie Martinez had a two story Fandango Hall in 1852. By 1853 underground dance halls were popular where a pit dug in the center sometimes served as a "jail" for the more unruly of customers. The first real jail was built by 1852/53, made of adobe three feet thick.

Joaquin Murrieta frequented the town where his famous escape tunnels were well known for thwarting pursuers. And Joaquin was in fine company in town, overflowing as it was with rowdy, raucous, and totally wild citizens. Murder was frequent and seldom punished as law was non-existent.

Today, many old structures remain, including the Masonic Lodge (1856), the ruins of the Ghirardelli Building (of chocolate fame, before the company moved to San Francisco), the old church, several mines, the jail, and little in the way of modern buildings to disturb the dreamers of days of old.

submitted by Sandra K. Ogle, C.G. Biblio: THE GOLD OF OLD HORNITOS, by Francisco Salazar as told to William B. Secrest, 1964, Saga West Publishing Company, Fresno, California.

Where are the Records of Napa County?

Birth records are kept in the County Recorder's Office. They begin in 1873, but there are a few earlier ones. To find the record you want, you must know the year, at least. You must fill out a card explaining why you want the record, and you must show relationship with the person in order to get a copy of the birth certificate.

Death records, also beginning in 1873, are in the County Recorder's Office, too. You should know the year, and records are accessible for search.

Marriage records are also in the Recorder's Office. They begin in 1850, and are indexed by year and by names of groom and bride.

Divorce records are kept at the County Clerk's Office. They are in chronological order with other civil cases, so you have to know the date.

Court records are all kept in the County Clerk's Office, but they are very complex and difficult to work with. They include probate of wills, civil, criminal, juvenile, and adoption cases.

Land records such as deeds are kept in the County Recorder's Office. They begin in 1850 and are indexed by year for both grantor and grantee.

Other records in the Recorder's Office include: old maps, old patents, and cattle brands.

Other records in the County Clerk's Office include: minutes of meetings of the Board of Supervisors, county ordinances, voter registration lists, professional licenses, articles of incorporation, partnerships, and lists of notaries public.

Taxation records are kept at the Tax Collector's Office.

Minutes of meetings of the City Council, beginning in 1872, are kept in the City Clerk's Office in the Napa City Hall. Also available there are copies of City Ordinances, beginning in 1874.

Fees are charged for searching most of the records mentioned above, and for photocopies of the documents.

Usually, these records were also published in the current local newspapers, beginning about 1862. Microfilm copies of the old newspapers are kept at the Napa City/County Public Library, and are available, free of charge, for use by the public. The library is now having these newspapers indexed by names of people and also by subjects of historical interest, such as businesses, mines, schools, organizations, specific areas in the county, old buildings, churches, Indians, Chinese, earthquakes, and animals. To locate records in the index files, ask the Reference Librarian to help you get a photocopy of the cards you are interested in. Then you can search the library's microfilms yourself and make copies of the articles you want.

Other historical records may be found in the Napa County Historical Society's files, and in archives of various businesses, organizations, churches, and cemeteries. For example, the Tulocay Cemetery's records begin about 1850 and are in good order, but the public does not have access to them. Also, Louis Ezettie, who writes a weekly column for the Napa Register, has extensive files on the history of Napa County.

The following poem was probably written by Jennie Shaffer, great aunt of our member Queen Cherney Berwald, as this was found in a family trunk and Jennie was always, "writing a bit of poetry."

Jennie Shaffer was born 23 August 1859 in Wisconsin and died 13 August 1947 in Iowa. She lived most of her life in Black Hawk County, Iowa.

In this county was an area called the "Big Woods", where the family lived and where, according to family tradition, the Indians were always causing some trouble. Perhaps this poem was written as a result of one of their forays--perhaps this was actually Jennie's experience....

Oho

Minnehaha Laughing water Cease they laughing now for aye Savage hands are red with slaughter Of the innocent today

Oho

Minnehaha Laughing Water Heedeth not this mournful tale What cares Laughing Minnehaha For the corpse lies in the vale

Oho

Give me back my Selas tresses Let me kiss them once again She who blessed me with caresses Lies unburied on the plain

Oho

Soldiers bury her my darling Place her there beneath the sod Song was lived and loved together Let me die with her Oh God Oho

Did they kill my Hans and Otto Did they find them in the corn Go and tell them savage monsters Not to slay my youngest born

Oho

Oh my daughter Jennie darling Worse than death was Jennie's fate Nelson as the troops were leaving Turned and closed the garden gate

Oho

Faithful fido you theyve left me Can you tell me fido why God at once has thus bereft me All I ask is here to die

Oho

Did they find my new bought reaper And the tall and ripening grain Em my cow ask why I leave her Wandering uncared for on the plain

Oho

See you smoke that was my dwelling
That is all I have of home
Hark I hear their fiendish yelling
As I homeless friendless roam

(The original pages of this record are in the possession of Madge L. King, great grandaughter of Charles H. Knapp and Eliza Jane Romaine; they were removed from the Bible some time ago. They were given to Mrs. King by a daughter-in-law of Frank Tunis Knapp. The record was apparently started by Eliza Jane and then added to by Charles Henry and several others. This conclusion was made based on handwriting comparisons with samples taken from Charles Henry's CivWar pension records. Submitted by Carol J. Carsner, member NVGBS.)

Publications

The quarterly publication of the Napa Valley Genealogical and Biographical Society is published in February, May, August and November and mailed to all members. The Wine Press, containing current information of interest to members, is mailed monthly to all members.

We welcome periodicals from other societies on an exchange basis. Periodicals received, and books and manuscripts presented to the Society, are placed in the Society library and become the property of NVGBS.

The Society solicits records and data for publication in the Quarterly. Records that can be used include: (1) abstracts, or summaries, of early deeds, wills, probate and death records; (2) cemetery and mortuary records; (3) marriage records; (4) Bible records; and (5) miscellaneous records of a genealogical nature.
