EDITOR'S COMMENT:

Our recently formed genealogical society is a dream that has come to pass for me. By living in the northern part of California it has been difficult for anyone to obtain any information on their family's history. The Siskiyou County Library in obtaining the census records and a microfilm reader-printer made it possible for the older families of this area to trace their family lineage. With the United States census records plus the many county records that are available, the families of this area will be able to compile or verify their family lineage accurately. By exchanging our bulletin with other libraries and genealogical societies, we may obtain the same type of information for those who are seeking to verify their ancestors in other areas. Genealogy is history. History gives little information on individual people, but it is the individual people who make history.

Since I have been doing research on Siskiyou County families. I have found some people who had no idea how many children there were in their family. This was largely due to the fact that the step parents were so good that they never made any distinction between step children and their own children. This is one of the reasons that all families should check their family history.

During my research, I have found that of the people of Siskiyou County who were early settlers all but a few came from states that had public school systems. The first public schools were started in 1834 in Pennsylvania. The rest of the New England states followed suit. About all of our early settlers were from these areas. The people who came to this area could read and write. They were also people who had trade skills.

I want to thank all those who helped to put the first issue of the Genealogical Society of Siskiyou County Bulletin together, those who compiled it, and Marvel Soule, Vada Letcher, Bernita Tickner and Wilogene Simpson for typing.

I hope in the near future to put all the family histories together.

Siskiyou County: A Brief History by Bernita L. Tickner

Searching for your ancestors in the West? If your illusive ancestor came to the gold fields, it could have been very likely to Siskiyou County that he came.

Siskiyou County was formed in 1852 by taking from Shasta and Klamath Counties. A search earlier than 1852 leads one to Shasta, Klamath and Trinity County records. In 1850, Trinity and Shasta Counties embraced the whole northern (east-to-west) section of California--from the Pacific Ocean to Nevada. Because of topographical conditions, these counties were divided. Later, Del Norte and Humboldt counties were created to share a boundary line on the southwest of Siskiyou. *Klamath was completely abolished in 1874, having been created from the northern half of Trinity County in 1851. The same year Modoc was formed from the eastern portion of Siskiyou County.

Siskiyou County was first visited by early day trappers, to be followed by the gold miners. The population in 1852 was 2,240. The 1860's saw an increase in population with pioneering families coming to settle the valleys where abundant water and grass encouraged cattle raising to become significant.

Yreka was voted county seat in 1852, vying with Deadwood for this distinction.

*Klamath County records were distributed between Humboldt, Siskiyou and Del Norte Counties.
