Miss Oba C. Algeo, an honorary member of the Sutter County Historical Society, is now in her 100th year.

Miss Algeo was born July 24, 1873, near Nicolaus, one of ten children of John Mahon Algeo and Amy Vestal Algeo, who came to California during Gold Rush days.

The photograph on the cover of this issue of the NEWS BULLETIN shows Miss Algeo, a highly successful and beloved teacher in California public schools for 47 years. She is holding a copy of her book of reminiscences, "A Pioneer Heritage: The Algeo-Vestal Story", published in her 99th year. The picture was taken to embellish her Christmas cards sent to friends in 1972.

Miss Algeo now lives with several other elderly guests in a private home near Roseville.

PROGRESS REPORT #3

MORE about our PARK PROJECT

Constant rains have prevented the further planting of trees for which your Park Committee had such high hopes of doing long before this goes to press. However, we are not giving up hopes that, by the time this bulletin reaches you, planting will have been accomplished. The fact that more gifts have been coming in will make it possible to plant that much more extensively.

Remember that gifts are tax deductible and are sent to the Colusa Avenue Branch of the Bank of America. Make your checks payable to the Sutter County Historical Society Memorial Park and Museum Fund.

The list of donors to date is now on display in a special book in the County Library. Those entitled to biographical accounts of their families or friends are urged to send in these accounts along with pictures that they may be added to a second specially prepared book, to be kept there, as well.

OUR AUTHOR

Phydalia Murphy Wagner of East Nicolaus, writer of the article in this issue of the NEWS BULLETIN, was born in 1903 near Pleasant Grove on the former "Spanish Ranch." She was one of seven daughters and two sons of Reese D. and Minnie Elliott Murphy. Her father was first foreman of the ranch and afterwards, until his death in 1920, a widely known dairyman of the area.

Following his death, Mrs. Murphy moved to Nicolaus and with the help of four daughters including Phydalia, operated another dairy.

In 1921 Phydalia Murphy married John Wagner, Nicolaus constable and operator of a butcher business. After his death in 1945 she became a clerk in an East Nicolaus grocery; then was a partner in a store in Nicolaus. Later, she was custodian and bus driver for the Brown elementary school in Rio Oso.

In 1950, Mrs. Wagner became postmaster of East Nicolaus, retiring from that position in 1972.

She has one daughter, Mrs. Ronald Tibbitts of Pleasant Grove and six grandchildren.

A HISTORY OF PLEASANT GROVE

by

Phydalia Murphy Wagner
Assisted by Mary Carlin Mulvany

Pleasant Grove is near the Placer county line in south-eastern Sutter County along Howsley and Pleasant Grove roads. Its origin dates back to early times. In 1861 I. S. Ingraham put up a blacksmith shop about one mile south of the site where the town was later built. He sold his property to Charles Bishop in 1865. Bishop kept a grocery store and saloon for two or three years and then moved north at which location the town soon developed. Here he built a little store which burned in 1870 but which was rebuilt nearby and operated by R. B. Pierce. The present Calvin James home is near the site of the first blacksmith shop.

The little village was first known as Gouge Eye. An article in the Sutter County Farmer of November 7, 1890 gives the following account of how the name came to be applied to the town of Pleasant Grove:

"When Pleasant Grove had become quite a settlement a man by the name of Bishop opened a general store there. At the same time a rather rough character, who shortly afterwards proved himself a villain, was hanging about the village. The man, Laws by name, did not have much love for the storekeeper and conceived the idea that he would hurt his trade by talking about him, and so often indulged in his favorite remark 'that anyone trading at Bishop's would be gouge-eyed' that it became a by-word with everyone for miles around."

When the post office was established in 1867 the town was given the name Pleasant Grove Creek, but in 1875 the name was shortened to the present name Pleasant Grove. The name Gouge Eye was not readily lost as is indicated by the following news item in the Wheatland Recorder of December 28, 1877: "A travelling dentist invaded Gouge Eye and hung out the startling sign 2th Pullin."

Charles Bishop was the first postmaster. The mails were carried on the Nicolaus-Sacramento route, to Sacramento on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and arriving from there on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

The postmasters and the dates of their appointment are:

The educational needs of the area first were served by the Auburn District School built at Pleasant Grove in 1864. After this building was destroyed by fire in 1874, the Trustees, in conjunction with the Grange, erected a two story building across the road from the old site. School was held on the lower floor and the Grange and other lodges met in the hall above. The garage of J. J. Stephenson now occupies the land where this building formerly stood.

Money for the purchase of a bell for the Auburn school was obtained from socials and entertainments by the pupils under the direction of their teacher, Miss Ella Ross. This bell was preserved by interested citizens of the community and is now on display in front of the Pleasant Grove Elementary school.

A report of Auburn School District gives the following statistics: Total enrollment, 81; average daily attendance, 35; teacher's salary, $751; repairs, fuel, etc, $70; library, $38; apparatus, $10; site, building and furniture, $34; total expenditures $903. The land, houses, furniture, library, apparatus, etc. had a total valuation of $1630. These figures are taken from the report of June 30, 1879. At the time of this report the trustees were Eben Fifield, Alex Donaldson and W. J. Roberts.

The building is now on the George Algeo ranch where it was moved in the 1920's after the Auburn, Eagle and Cottonwood school districts consolidated to form the Pleasant Grove Joint Union School.

Auburn school was consolidated with Eagle and Cottonwood schools in 1920 forming the Pleasant Grove Joint Union Elementary School which had at the time an average daily attendance of 109 and a faculty of four. At the present time the enrollment is 134 with a faculty of six.

The Eagle schoolhouse was situated farther south. It was purchased by the Poston family and converted into a residence which is still in use at the original site.

The Cottonwood schoolhouse was on what is now Pacific Avenue near the George Algeo home. The Algeo family purchased the building and moved it to their ranch where it can still be seen. Miss Oba Algeo was the teacher of this school for four years during the 1890's. She and her pupils obtained money from entertainments with which they purchased a bell. Miss Algeo is now almost 100 years of age and is living in Citrus Heights. She is listed as one of the honorary members of the Sutter County Historical Society in the Bulletin of October, 1970. In 1972 she published a book, "A Pioneer Heritage: The Algeo-Vestal Story" which will be a valuable documentary addition to our county archives.

High school classes were first held in the old Auburn school building in 1921 with a faculty of two. Mr. Ray Moss was principal and Miss Aileen Donovan (now Mrs. Lloyd Hudson of Rio Oso) was a teacher. The classes were moved to Ward's store in 1923 but the next year, 1924, became a part of the new East Nicolaus High School of which Miss Donovan was the first principal.

In 1879 the town of Pleasant Grove included one each of the following businesses or services: store, saloon, hotel, boarding house, shoemaker shop, physician, schoolhouse and hall. There were two blacksmith shops and about a dozen dwellings in the immediate vicinity. McKenna's Business Directory of 1882 lists Phillipe Brothers of Pleasant Grove as manufacturers of windmills.

The California State Gazeteer and Business Directory of 1888 listed the following places of business: Goode and McRae, general store; W. Hart, shoemaker; Keyes Brothers, blacksmiths; Henry Klemp, saloon, livery stable and hotel (formerly owned by F. G. Browning); J. P. Morgan, blacksmith; T. J. Pierce, general store; J. D. Saunders, blacksmith; F. J. Talmes, harness shop; Wit Browning, barbershop.

Dan Compton operated a grocery and general merchandise store at the corner of Howsley and Pleasant Grove roads for many years. His nephew, Dan Bell, carried on a meat business at this location and still makes his home on this property.

South Sutter Grange No. 207 was organized June 13, 1874 by 28 charter members. The first officers were: Thomas Boyd, master; James Jones, overseer; and Alexander Donaldson, secretary. The lodge soon had 145 members but in a few years the membership was reduced to 90. The financial condition was good with property valued at $500. Officers in 1879 were J. M. McClellan, master; A. L. Chandler, overseer and R. H. McClellan, secretary. The lodge met on the fourth Saturday evening of the month in Grange Hall. It is said that meetings were held "by the light of the moon" because many members came from miles around and moonlight was welcomed for the drive. In later years the meetings were moved to the Odd Fellows' Hall in East Nicolaus. At the present time remaining members are affiliated with the Bogue Grange.

Pleasant Grove Odd Fellows (I.O.O.F. Lodge No. 269) organized December 28, 1877 with nine charter members including the following officers:

Charles G. Roth, N.G.; Amos F. Lyons, V.G.; William Trevethan, R.S.; and A. L. Chandler, treasurer. Other members were Reuben B. Pierce, R. S. Algeo, Francis Heyland, John Burns and M. Del Calmes. By 1879 the lodge had 30 members and was in good financial condition with $350 in the treasury and owning property valued at $550. During the year $25 was contributed to the yellow fever fund. At first, meetings were held every Friday evening in the Grange Hall, but later moved to the Odd Fellows' Hall in East Nicolaus where they are yet held today.

The Defiance Lodge of Good Templars (I.D.G.T. No. 219) was organized December 18, 1876 with a membership of 36 ladies and gentlemen. This order was the first to admit women on equal terms with men. Soon there were 50 members in the lodge with cash and property valued at $175. The following officers were serving in 1879: Miss Flora McClellan, W.C.T.; Miss Angie McClellan, W.V.T.; Thomas J. Pierce, P.W.C.T.; Thomas W. Trevethan, W.S.; Frank B. Pierce, W.F.S.; and William Trevethan, W.J.

The first religious services were held in the schoolhouse by ministers of five different denominations - Christian, United Brethren, Methodist Episcopal, Baptist and Methodist Episcopal South. Later a thriving Union Sunday School was maintained. Two denominations built churches in Pleasant Grove -- Christian and Methodist. These churches were located near the Auburn school on Howsley road. The Methodist building was later moved to the Pleasant Grove Union school and used for a multipurpose room but was torn down in 1972 to make room for a new building. The Christian church building was razed many years ago. It is told by some of the older residents that the two churches were so close together that in warm weather with the windows open the singing of hymns in one church would interfere with services in the other.

One of the largest ranches of early days was the Spanish Ranch. It contained 2000 acres and was owned by State Senator Frederick Cox of Sacramento County. In the 1890's this land was leased by Reese D. Murphy who farmed it for many years. An adobe cellar built by Mrs. Murphy can yet be seen on the ranch. Mrs. Phydalia Wagner of East Nicolaus is a daughter of the Murphys. At one time some of the land of the Spanish Ranch sold for 50 cents an acre.

Over the years the Spanish Ranch has been broken up into smaller parcels. The Pleasant Grove Cemetery is located on a portion of the ranch and is one of the oldest in Sutter County, containing markers dated in 1850. This cemetery is now administered by a district and supported by its own local tax. The school is also located on land formerly a part of the Spanish Ranch.

Freight wagons and passenger stages bound for Nevada County and the Mother Lode area passed through Pleasant Grove. They continued by way of Sheridan and Spenceville to Auburn and Grass Valley and on to the mining districts.

The Western Pacific Railroad ran its line a few miles west of Pleasant Grove and in 1910 a depot was built near the town.

Pleasant Grove has always been an agricultural area with grain (mainly wheat) and livestock forming the principal crops. However, rice has become an important crop in later years. Many ranches which were developed before 1900 are operated today by descendants of the pioneer settlers.

A fire department was organized in the early 1960's. Roy Osterli was the first chief. The farmers of the community financed a firehouse which was placed on Howsley road in 1963. An efficient volunteer fire crew and a rescue squad are maintained which are valuable assets to Pleasant Grove and the nearby communities.

In 1972 the oldest section of the school was replaced by a new building. This, with a complete renovation of the remaining rooms has given Pleasant Grove a school of which the citizens can well be proud.

A branch of the Sutter County Library was established in 1918. It was first placed in the post office and managed by the postmaster. In later years a building to house the library was built across from the school on Howsley road. Lucille James is the present librarian.

Organizations active at the present time are a 4H Club for young people, a Mothers Club for the school and a Women's Auxiliary of the Fire Department.

There are not many buildings in Pleasant Grove today, but a thriving community exists. The post office serves 646 patrons which covers a large area. Many new homes have been built in the surrounding area, and a number of the old homes built by the pioneers still can be seen on a ride through this country. Highway 70 is only a few miles away. This road joins the community with Sacramento to the south and north to Marysville and Yuba City.

This picture was taken in the early 1900's. The ranch is three miles south of Trowbridge. Pete Darrach is identified as the man on the harvester to the right partially hidden by the machinery. This ranch was one of the few in the locality to use mule teams on the harvester. The mules are guided by a single line to the lead mule called a jerk-line.

In A Dictionary of Americanisms by Mitford and Mathews, 1951, in volume 2 on page 1265 there appears the history of the several uses of the verb, "plug". The authors give quotations of the earliest uses they have found.

The first use of the verb to refer to the act of removing a small bit of a melon to determine its ripeness was found in the Sutter Banner, Yuba City, of August 3, 1876, p. 1, c. 6.

The sentence quoted reads: "Let me plug 'em to find a ripe one?"

The next use was in Pecks Bad Boy in 1883.

SUTTERANA

William A. Leidesdorff, vice consul at San Francisco, wrote the following letter, dated January 3, 1845 to his superior officer, Thomas O. Larkin, United States consul to Mexico at Monterey, California:

"Last Munday there was a young lady arrived here from Sacramento. It appears that she is an orphan, came into the country with her step father... Whilst she was at the Sacramento... a deserter from a British ship proposed marriage after making her believe he was rich... The poor girl having no one to advice her... agreed to marry him. Sutter in consequence was the parson... She came here with her supposed husband... she found out that it was all a take in... Mr. and Mrs. Clemence took her to their house... She asked me to protect her..."

On January 6, 1846 Larkin wrote to the Secretary of State in Washington, D.C. for instructions in dealing with such cases as described above:

"...There has been many marriages taken place in California between citizens of The United States who arrived here by land. Some of them have taken place by private written contracts (so said). Others by J. A. Sutter, Mexican Justice of Peace on the River Sacramento, although only a Catholic Priest can marry by the Laws of the land... The undersigned has repeatedly asked for information on this subject which is becoming a serious and extensive one in California among the many arrivals over the Rocky Mountains..."

During the year 1845 Leidesdorff at San Francisco had paid out some money for board of the young woman who had asked his protection from her husband. The husband threatened to enlist the Mexican authorities to force her to live with him. She contended that she was not legally married to the would be husband because Sutter did not have authority to perform marriage ceremonies in Mexican territory. Leidesdorff had assumed that it was his duty to protect and assist the girl because she was a citizen of the United States; and he expected Larkin to authorize his claim on the United States government for the money he had spent. On January 20, 1846 Larkin replied to Leidesdorff as follows:

"...I cannot decide respecting the young woman who applied to you. Had her supposed husband been all she asked, she would have taken the marriage as legal. I am confident that Captain Sutter ought not to marry anyone. I anticipate trouble from some hasty made matches... I am sorry Captain Sutter has anything to do with marriages. I will write to him on the subject..."

The same day, January 20, 1846, Larkin wrote a letter to Captain Sutter which letter we quote in part:

"...I have for some time wished to write to you respecting your marrying citizens of the United States. I believe the Mexican Laws admit of no marriages by her citizens unless a Priest officiates. I am therefore afraid I am to have future trouble from some of those you have joined as man and wife. The parties themselves will deny the legality when so inclined... One young woman married by you in 1845 already denies the match and throws herself on this consulate for protection. I do not know what to do in the case. Had she married to her liking perhaps she would call the ceremony legal. As she is disappointed she will not follow the man you married her to..."

The Shaver's Soliloquy

To shave or not to shave! the question is Whether tis better on the human phiz,
To let accumulation of our hair cover the chin and lips which now are bare;
Or to continue still to scrape away
The hirsute ornament from day to day --
To lather, shave, perchance to gash the face?
Ay, there's the rub; for in this latter case
What mis'ry ours! Tis this must give us pause
And make us rather let alone our jaws
Than by continuance in the barb'rous use cut, scratch and lacerate them like the deuce.
For if it actually were the case that nature never meant the human face to be so teased and tortured as it is --
If so, I say, why then what business have mortals to cry out that nature knew not what she was about?
Why, since the beard was evidently meant
To grow, should men be seemingly intent on trying to prove nature was a dunce and did not know her trade?
Why not at once pluck out the eyebrows and extract the nails and shave the heads of females and males?
Strange tis that men should worship fashion, so as to be willing thus to undergo the pains of shaving,

rather than permit moustache and beard to grow
as they think fit.

How singular that men should still delight
In torturing their faces; when they might Themselves their comfort, ease and health obtain
By vowing that they will never shave again!
But tis the dread of ridicule and scorn
Makes the foul fashions easy to be borne.
This custom of us all doth cowards make; and for this savage custom, then, we take the trouble and the pains our chins to mow, because it is the fashion to do so.

But thus our chins will soon no more, I hope,
Be lather'd o'er with the pale suds of soap
Soon shall moustache and beard once more on all
Our chins wag merrily, in street and hall!

Quoted from the Marysville Herald -

"Whiskerets" is the name of the "little cow catchers" that the ladies wear on their cheeks in the place "where whiskers ought to grow." They are formed by drawing down a little tuft of hair from the temple, and curling it up in the shape of a ram's horn, or a little pig's tail with an extra kink in it.
