Publicist, former S-FP columnist Jack Smalley dies

Longtime motion picture publicist and Star-Free Press reporter-columnist Jack Smalley of Oxnard Shores has died.

Mr. Smalley, co-owner of a Hollywood advertising agency and publicity firm for 20 years, and writer of a column on outdoor activities as well as other features for the Star-Free Press during the 1960s, died Saturday in St. John's Hospital, Oxnard, after suffering a stroke. He was 82.

Mr. Smalley was born on Oct. 12, 1901, in Minnesota. He attended the University of Minnesota, where he was a member of the Zeta Psi Fraternity. He was editor of the Minnesota Daily, and after leaving college, worked on various newspapers, including the St. Paul Daily News, Minneapolis Daily News, New York Herald, Minneapolis Journal and Minneapolis Star.

After joining Fawcett Publications, he became editor of True Confessions, and was named managing editor of the group of magazines in 1927. In 1935 he was appointed managing editor of the Fawcett group of six fan magazines with offices in Hollywood.

Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn placed him in charge of its West Coast office the following year.

He was chairman of the Los Angeles chapter of the American Association of Advertising Agencies and during World War II was chairman of the advertising and publicity committee of the War Manpower Committee.

Mr. Smalley co-founded the Smalley-Levitt-Smith advertising agency and publicity firm in 1944. In 1960, it became known as Smalley-Smith. The firm specialized in doing publicity for the motion picture industry.

Mr. Smalley and his family moved to Ventura County 21 years ago from Studio City after he retired as co-owner of the firm.

He joined the editorial staff of the Star-Free Press in February 1964. Besides writing an outdoor column for the sports department, he wrote features on various county neighborhoods and travel articles for the newspaper's Sunday magazine.

In 1973, Mr. Smalley was one of the first reporters at the scene of the beaching of the ill-fated cruise ship "La Janelle" when it was blown aground onto Silver Strand Beach during a spring wind storm.

For many years he was a member of the Oxnard Art Club.

A memorial service for Mr. Smalley will be Saturday, Feb. 18, at 11 a.m. at All Saints Episcopal Church, Oxnard, with the Rev. John P. Fuller officiating.

Mr. Smalley is survived by sons Jack Jr. of Studio City and Thomas of Sherman Oaks; and sister Dody Collins of Lewiston, N.Y.

Private rites for educator James Bayles

Private funeral services will be held for longtime Ventura County educator James J. Bayles, 46, who died Monday night after suffering a heart attack at his Thousand Oaks home.

Bayles, who served for almost 2 years as assistant superintendent of administrative services for the Ventura County Superintendent of Schools Office, had reportedly been back on the job Monday after recuperating from a case of hepatitis.

His boss, County Superintendent of Schools Dr. James F. Cowan, said Wednesday that district officials will set up a James Bayles Memorial Fund in honor of their colleague. The family has requested that in lieu of flowers memorial contributions be sent to the Ventura County Superintendent of Schools Office, 535 E. Main St., Ventura 93009.

"Mr. Bayles worked in the office less than two years," said Cowan. "But during that time he helped initiate the (Ventura County) Academic Decathlon and the recent mock trial competition," a student law program conducted in Ventura County courtrooms and administered by the California Constitutional Rights Foundation.

"We'll miss him a great deal," said Cowan. "He was an outstanding professional, but more than that, he was a great human being."

Bayles was born June 11, 1937, in San Diego. He had worked in the Conejo Unified School District in Thousand Oaks, where he was director of elementary education for the district until 1982. Before that, he had been a teacher and in 1972 became principal of Wildwood Elementary School when it first opened in Thousand Oaks.

"He helped get it built, staffed it and opened it," said Cowan.

Bayles' wife, Marilyn, is principal at Westlake Hills School in Westlake Village.

Besides his wife, Bayles is survived by daughters Carrie and Michelle and son Jay, all of Thousand Oaks.

County doctor who started radium use for cancer dies

From wire and staff reports

Dr. Max Cutler of Camarillo, who pioneered the use of radium in the treatment of throat and breast cancer in the United States, has died.

Dr. Cutler, 85, the founder and longtime director of the Chicago Tumor Institute, died July 6 at his home, his family said. Services and burial were July 8 at the Hillside Memorial Park, West Los Angeles.

He was born May 9, 1899, in Jitomir, Russia, and came to the United States in 1907.

Dr. Cutler received a bachelor's degree from the University of Georgia in 1918 and a medical degree from Johns Hopkins University in 1922.

After training in Paris with Marie Curie at the Curie Institute, as well as Stockholm and New York, Dr. Cutler was appointed director of the New York Cancer Institute in 1930.

In 1931, he founded and directed the tumor clinic at Chicago's Michael Reese Hospital that became the springboard for the tumor institute.

In 1937, he was a visiting professor of surgery at Peking Union Medical College in China. He served as a consultant to the Chinese government on cancer and lectured throughout the country.

At the Chicago Tumor Institute, he introduced throat and breast cancer treatment that he learned after studying at the Curie Institute.

The tumor institute now is affiliated with the University of Chicago.

Dr. Cutler was an associate professor at Northwestern University Medical School when he and Dr. Loyal Davis, father of Nancy Reagan, presented a new treatment for brain tumors. The treatment called for implanting tiny amounts of radium in the diseased sections of the brain.

Previous attempts at similar methods had proved fatal to patients.

He later practiced medicine in Beverly Hills and was a staff surgeon at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, Los Angeles, from 1952 to 1979.

Dr. Cutler frequently testified before Congress as an expert witness on cancer and wrote numerous books and papers on his work.

He moved to Camarillo two years ago from West Los Angeles.

He is survived by wife Bertie; daughters Nina Miller of Los Angeles, Nancy Billingsley of Camarillo and Susie Baker of Sunnyvale; sister Bertha Heiman of Atlanta; and a granddaughter.

Frank Butler

Top jazz drummer Frank Butler dies en route to hospital

Frank Butler, one of the world's top jazz drummers, who once played at the White House during the Kennedy administration, died of cancer en route to a Ventura hospital Tuesday night.

Mr. Butler, 56, moved to Ventura from Los Angeles in 1980 with wife Mary Ann Butler and daughter Casey.

Jo Jones, another jazz giant in the bebop days, once described Mr. Butler as "The greatest drummer in the world."

Mr. Butler's credentials made that difficult to refute.

Born Feb. 18, 1928, in Kansas City, Mo., he grew up in the area and the era of jazz genius Charlie Parker.

After migrating to the West Coast at age 16, he shared the bandstand and the recording studios with such jazz legends as Dave Brubeck, Duke Ellington, Conte Condoli and Miles Davis.

He lived and recorded in Los Angeles studios and did volunteer work as a youth counselor on drug abuse with the Los Angeles County Department of Health.

Although Mr. Butler recorded on many labels during his career, his last album was with tenor sax player Gary Lefebvre two years ago. Lefebvre still lives in Ventura. The album has received nationwide attention in jazz circles.

Mr. Butler had been ill when he moved to Ventura, but his condition worsened a year ago. His last public appearance was last year when he was asked to sit in during a jam session at Charlie's Seaside Cafe in Ventura. Mr. Butler looked withered, but his playing sounded as intense as ever. He received a standing ovation after a two-hour set.

In addition to his wife and daughter, Mr. Butler is survived by mother Dora Beatrice Frazier of Oakland and father Roosevelt Butler of Kansas City, Mo.

Services for Mr. Butler will be at noon Saturday at the Olivet Baptist Church, Ventura.

Ellen E. Tuthill

Services for Ellen E. Tuthill, 64, Ventura, will be Friday at 2 p.m. in the chapel of Skillin-Snyder Mortuary, Santa Paula, with the Rev. James E. Maxson officiating. Burial will be in Santa Paula Cemetery.

Mrs. Tuthill died Wednesday in a Santa Paula hospital after a long illness. She was born April 8, 1920, in Michigan and was a 40-year Ventura County resident.

She was a graduate of Monmouth College in Monmouth, Ore., and worked as a professional artist for more than 20 years. She also taught art in Ventura County schools for more than 20 years.

She was a member of the Faith Bible Church of Ventura and was past president of the Santa Paula Society of the Arts.

She is survived by sons Robert of Santa Paula and Richard of Canoga Park; daughters Carole Weber of Pasadena and Connie Tate of Ventura; brother Elmond of Washington state; and seven grandchildren.

Memorial donations may be made to Faith Bible Church, Ventura.

Donna Fargo

A reception has been added to the services being held for Donna Fargo, 66, the longtime Thousand Oaks civic leader who died Sunday.

Noted county native

Ralph Bennett dies

A-2 Mon., Aug. 6, 1984

Ralph H. Bennett, a native of Ventura County who rose to national prominence in the insurance industry, died this morning at his home at Solimar Beach. He was 83.

He died from leukemia that was detected earlier in the year and had confined him to bed for the past several weeks. He expired peacefully in his sleep.

Mr. Bennett — "Tiny" to his friends — was one of the county's best known and respected citizens, a tall, jovial and gregarious man with a quick recall of much of Ventura County's history and personalities of the past three generations.

The high point of his business career came in 1961 when he was installed as president of the National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies at a convention in New York City. He spent much of the balance of that year on official trips throughout the country.

Mr. Bennett was born Dec. 17, 1900, in Santa Paula. His parents had come to Santa Paula three years earlier from Missouri.

In a biographical sketch written for the Star-Free Press in 1950, Mr. Bennett said:

"Spent the first 15 years of my life in Santa Paula and then moved to Chandler, Ariz., on a ranch. I attended two years of high school there, and as a freshman won the state high school pole vault record and took second in the high jump. In my sophomore year, I held the record in both the vault and high jump. I finished high school in Santa Paula and won places in most of the track meets in California. Made a letter in track at Oregon State College.

"Last track meet I was in was the Pacific Coast Conference meet held at Pullman, Wash., in 1923, tied for second place in the high jump with Brick Muller of California.

"Started to work for Standard Oil Co. in Santa Paula as a clerk and later went out as a salesman, 1923 to 1925. Salesman for Southern California Edison Company 1925-31. Insurance business in Santa Paula 1931-34. U.S. Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service 1934-37. From 1937 to present with the Ventura County Mutual Fire Insurance Co."

Mr. Bennett was secretary-general manager of the Ventura County Mutual Fire Insurance Co. and, in the 1960s, arranged for several other companies to merge with it to form California Mutual Insurance Co., of which he was the first president. He retired from the company in 1972, and the company shortly thereafter moved its headquarters from Ventura to Monterey.

He was a member of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity, Ventura Rotary Club and the Elks Lodge, and was foreman of the county grand jury in 1946. He held many offices in insurance industry organizations leading to the presidency of the National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies.

Mr. Bennett and Gertrude Virginia Ramsey were married June 12, 1925. She survives him, as do their son Ralph Ramsey "Hoot" Bennett, former mayor of Ojai and former county supervisor, and daughter Barbara Blanche Langlois, both of Ventura, four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The family will hold private funeral services.

Today is Monday, August 6th, the 219th day of 1984 with 147 to

Author Norma Gunter, Moorpark historian, dies in Santa Monica

Norma Gunter, one of Moorpark's best-known residents and the town's foremost historian, died Tuesday in a Santa Monica hospital.

Mrs. Gunter, 84, the author of two books about Moorpark, had been ill for some time and had been living with her son in Los Angeles for several months.

A private burial will be held Thursday in Ivy Lawn Memorial Park, Ventura.

Mrs. Gunter was born May 11, 1900, in Covington, Ky., and was a 38-year resident of Ventura County.

She came to Moorpark in 1948 and opened Gunter Pharmacy with her husband, Raymond.

She is best remembered by Moorpark residents for her intense interest in the town's history and her two published works, "The Moorpark Story" and "A Diamond For Moorpark."

She was a founding member of the Moorpark Historical Society and was its historian since its inception eight years ago.

"Mrs. Gunter was just a marvelous person in the community," said Charles Schwabauer, president of the society. "With anything to do with history, she was always willing and able to go the extra mile."

In an interview with the Star-Free Press 15 years ago, Mrs. Gunter said she believed her respect for the past must have taken root in her grandmother's parlor in De Mossville, Ky. She would sit with her grandmother, who pointed out ancestors in faded photographs, she said.

"It was the town of Moorpark that made an author out of me," Mrs. Gunter said.

She read old newspapers and wrote letters to those who had moved away and interviewed the town's old-timers, some of whom died while she was writing "The Moorpark Story."

"All they knew could have been buried with them," she said in the interview.

"What is history? It is families. People who come and go. If you tell their story, you are talking about a town, an age. It's like holding time on your palm for a moment before it flits away."

She was a member of the Moorpark Chamber of Commerce, an honorary member of the Rotarians. She had also been a member of the Ebell Club of Los Angeles for more than 60 years.

Mrs. Gunter belonged to the Wilshire Christian Church of Los Angeles.

Retired T.O. rancher 'Bill' Rothschild, 84, dies after short illness

Retired Thousand Oaks rancher Wilfred A. "Bill" Rothschild, 84, for years one of the Conejo Valley's most prominent residents, died Saturday after a short illness.

Private graveside services will be at Valley Oaks Memorial Park, Westlake Village.

A public memorial service will be at 10 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 6, at St. Patrick's Episcopal Church, Thousand Oaks.

Mr. Rothschild died at his home in Los Robles Estates, where he and his wife retired in 1980 after their 230-acre ranch was sold off for development.

Rothschild was born on Aug. 12, 1900, in New York, N.Y., and moved to the Conejo Valley in 1942 after giving up a film career in Hollywood for the slower-paced ranching life. At the time of his arrival, Thousand Oaks was only a hamlet of 650 or so people.

At the time of his retirement, Rothschild told the Thousand Oaks News Chronicle that retirement meant not having to read the newspaper daily or having to make trips to City Hall.

Rothschild was involved in numerous activities in the Conejo Valley.

He started the area's first 4-H Club and was a founder of the Conejo Future Foundation. He was active in the Conejo Players Theater group and listed sculpture as his hobby, a hobby he lamented he had very little time to pursue.

He served as president of the Conejo Valley Chamber of Commerce, was a past member of the Ventura County Grand Jury and was a Ventura County Fair Board member.

In the area of education, Rothschild was a member of the President's Advisory Board at California Lutheran College, Thousand Oaks, in addition to many other of the college's committees.

In 1974 he was named the Conejo Valley Historical Society's Don Triunfo.

Rothschild was a member of the American Legion Post 271, Westwood Village, as well as the Thousand Oaks Rotary Club.

Mr. Rothschild is survived by wife Janet Widmer Rothschild; son Frederick A. of Van Nuys; and sister Eleanor Hundley and brother Howard Rothschild, both of New York, N.Y.

Leader in Lions Club, Edward C. Coyle, dies

Edward C. Coyle, a former World War II prisoner of war and a leader in the Ventura Downtown Lions Club, died early Sunday morning in a Ventura hospital after suffering a heart attack. He was 69.

Mr. Coyle was a 20-year veteran of the Army. He spent 34 months as a prisoner in two Japanese prisoner of war camps during World War II before being liberated in September 1945. He returned to Japan in 1971 and visited the camps and renewed an acquaintance with a captor who had befriended him.

After retiring from the Army in 1961, Mr. Coyle came to Ventura where he opened his own bookkeeping firm and later joined the Ventura County Star-Free Press as assistant circulation manager in 1968. He retired after 10 years with the newspaper in 1978.

His work with the Ventura Downtown Lions Club earned him many honors. Earlier this year he was named outstanding secretary-treasurer for Lions clubs in the Tri-counties district. The local club honored him with an Ed Coyle Day in September. He received the "Lion of the Year" award from the club in 1975. He succeeded the late Al Albinger, former Ventura mayor, as secretary-treasurer of the club.

Mr. Coyle was born Aug. 15, 1915, in Reading, Pa.

Services will be held under the direction of Joseph P. Reardon Funeral Chapel, Ventura.

He is survived by his wife, Selina; son Barry of Ventura; daughters Heather Murphy of San Luis Obispo and Karen Coyle of Berkeley; and one grandchild.

Mr. McDonald died Friday in an Oxnard hospital after a short illness. He was born July 9, 1918, in Canada and came to Ventura County from Irvine one year ago.

He was a retired area manager for the R.B. Furniture Co. for 32 years. He also served in the Royal Canadian Air Force.

He is survived by wife Elsie; daughters Wannette Jauregui of Santa Paula, Linda of Camarillo and Margaret Scarbrough of Reno, Nev.; son Donald Scot McDonald of Spokane Wash.; mother Ida MacDonald of Temple City; sister Catherine Teller of Canada; brothers Jack of La Mirada and Robert of Costa Mesa.

The family requests that donations be sent to the Kidney Foundation or the American Heart Association.

June
Nelson

June Nelson dies; musician, golfer

June Felcher Nelson, 61, wife of retired record producer Kenneth F. Nelson, died Sunday morning at their home at the Saticoy Country Club, a victim of cancer.

Mrs. Nelson's illness first was diagnosed in June, and she had failed steadily since then.

She was widely known in women's golf circles in Ventura and Santa Barbara counties, and was the immediate past president of the Saticoy Women's Golf Association. She also was an accomplished musician, and had notable successes in home design and decorating, needlework and dressmaking.

Mrs. Nelson was born Sept. 7, 1923, in Chicago, Ill., and graduated with a master's degree in voice from the Sherwood Music School in that city. She married Kenneth Nelson, then a radio announcer, in 1945, and three years later he was transferred to Los Angeles to supervise production of country music records under the Capitol label. They lived in the San Fernando Valley, and Mrs. Nelson was called to direct the chorus for religious albums starring Tennessee Ernie Ford. She was also choir director for the PTA Mothers and the Unitarian Church in Studio City.

The Nelsons moved to Ventura 15 years ago, first settling in the Pierpont area and relocating 12 years ago to the home at Saticoy Country Club she designed.

Besides her husband, who retired after 33 years with Capitol Records, she is survived by a son, Gregory, a Ventura attorney; daughter Claudia of Moorpark, a teacher in Simi Valley schools; and two grandchildren.

There will be no funeral services, in compliance with Mrs. Nelson's wish.

Cremation was under direction of the Neptune Society. The family suggests that memorials in Mrs. Nelson's name may be made to the Mercy Hospice of St. John's Regional Medical Center, Oxnard.

Obituaries

Blanche Rice McInnes, Oxnard settler, dies at 106

Blanche Rice McInnes, 106, the eldest of the four children of the late Thomas A. Rice, a founder of Oxnard, has died in a Glenwood convalescent hospital.

Mrs. McInnes was one of Oxnard's leading daughters. She was born in 1878 at the Rice family home on the road that bears the family name, and married William J. McInnes, whom she met in 1899 when he came to Oxnard to help found the sugar beet plant around which the city grew.

Her late husband, a native of London, England, was an executive with the former American Crystal Sugar Co. He was the organizer of Oxnard Drainage District No. 2, a farmer and an agriculture expert.

The Rice family ranch was acquired by Mrs. McInnes's grandfather, William Rice, in the 1860s at the cost of 79 cents an acre.

Mrs. McInnes was presented the distinguished citizen award and the keys of the city of Oxnard on her birthday in 1971.

She was a graduate of Mills College in the college's first graduating class in 1900.

A member of the Mills College Alumni, she gave the William J. McInnes Greenhouse and Botanical Garden to the college. She was a contributor to St. John's Hospital, the Boy Scouts and the Oxnard Boys Club.

She was a lifelong member of St. Anne's Guild of All Saints Episcopal Church, where she married in 1903. She was also a member of the Oxnard Art Association, American Association of University Women, Nu Sigma Nu, California Farm Bureau and the California State Chamber of Commerce.

During her lifetime, she witnessed the founding of Oxnard and Camarillo and development of the county through livestock grazing, farming of sugar beets, lima beans, citrus and vegetables, and finally industrialization. High-grade crude oil production was first brought in on the McInnes property in 1953, creating the Oxnard Plains Oil Field.

Her father crossed the plains from Missouri into Northern California in a covered wagon with his family in 1850. He came here from Walnut Creek in 1877.

Mrs. McInnes died Wednesday after a long illness.

Services are scheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday at the All Saints Episcopal Church, Oxnard, with the Rev. John P. Fuller officiating. Burial will be in the family plot at Ivy Lawn Memorial Park, Ventura.

The services are under the direction of the James A. Reardon Mortuary in Oxnard.

Realtor, ex-supervisor 'Bud' Ax dies at 85

Alf Conrad "Bud" Ax, a former Ventura County supervisor and businessman, died Wednesday in a Ventura convalescent hospital after a long illness. He was 85.

Mr. Ax was best known as a two-term county supervisor, representing the Ventura district, and he also served on the Ventura County Grand Jury and numerous other county agencies.

Probably his biggest accomplishment was advocating and eventually helping to oversee the creation of Lake Casitas. He saw the need not only for the lake as a recreational facility, but also as an important reservoir of drinking water.

Mr. Ax was born Jan. 16, 1899, in Wheaton, Minn., the son of Swedish immigrants Ernest and Emma Ax, who were homesteaders in rural western Minnesota.

After graduating from high school in Minnesota, Mr. Ax began teaching at Owensboro Business College in Owensboro, Ky. He later taught at Lincoln Memorial University in Harrogate, Tenn., where he met and married Ethel "Polly" Ferguson in 1919. She was the daughter of W.L. Ferguson, founder and former owner of Rancho Arnaz near the Ojai Valley.

Mr. Ax and his wife came to Ventura in 1926, when he went to work for the Ventura Abstract Co., which was later renamed Ventura Title Insurance and Trust. He retired in 1953, at which time he founded Ax Realty Co., which he ran until 1979.

Also in 1953, Mr. Ax was elected to his first term as a Ventura County supervisor. During that term and a subsequent one, he served on the Ventura County Flood Control Board, the board of directors for the Health Planning Association of Southern California, and the Ventura County Hospital Planning Board.
